THE WAR

Has caused the price on some goods to go well up, but we have tried and shall continue to sell as low as can be without lowering the quality of goods.

It hurts us as much as it does you to have to charge more than usual for some goods. And we would not do so if we could help it;

Keep coming and we will be as good as we can be.

CONCERNED IN GOOD ROADS

SO DECLARES MRS. ROBERT
BAKER OF WASHING-TON.

"Women are more vitally concerned in the good roads movement than are men," declares Mrs. Robert Baker, Chairman of the Woman's Department of the American Highway Association at Washington. "The isolation and loneliness of farm life, cut off for months each year from communication with the outside world, because of impassable roads, falls most heavily upon the women of the household. The young escape it by moving to the cities but the wives and mothers must endure it. Schools and churches can only develop their field of usefulness when they are made accessible to the contiguous population. Next to the home, the women should cherish and uphold, most of all the church and school, and as a means of accomplishing this, good roads are almost paramount."

A conference of women from all the States has been called to meet in Atlanta, Georgia, on November 10 to consider ways and means of making the organized efforts of women most effective for the betterment of the public roads. Many distinguished women will be present, among whom are Miss Julia Lathrop, Chief of the Children's Bureau, Mrs. Daisy McLaurin-Stevens, President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Thomas M. Owen, Chairman, Country Life Committee, Woman's Department of the National Civic Federation, Mrs. Chas. J. Haden, of Georgia, and Mrs. Oscar Hundley, of Alabama. The National Advisory Board of the Woman's Department includes, among other distinguished women, Miss Mabel Boardman, Mrs. William Cumming Story, Miss Mary Johnston, Miss Julia Lathrop, Miss Jane Adams, Miss Elizabeth Gentry, Mrs. Daisy McLaurin-Stevens and Miss Maude Wetmore.

The program for the Atlanta Conference comprises, in addition to addresses, a special demonstration of the Mayor Bangert made quick work of the docket at Police Court yesterday afternoon. There were nine cases disposed of in a little more than thirty minutes.

Grover Sutton, white, was arraigned on two warrants, one for being drunk and disorderly and the other for resisting an officer. He was not tried on the latter arrant as the evidence showed that he was drunk and not responsible for his actions. For the latter charge he was fined ten dollars and taxed with the cost. Bert Armstead, white, was fined five dollars and cost for being drunk and disorderly in the city limits.

Henry Johnson and Tom Baucom, both colored, were fined five dollars each and taxed with the cost for engaging in an affray at the Union Passenger Station. Daniel Johnson, colored, was arraigned on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, to which he pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and cost. Joseph Sadge, white, was taxed with the cost for being disorderly.

Henry Clay, colored, was taxed with the cost for driving on the sidewalk. W. F. Hill, white, was taxed with the cost for driving over a fire hose while in use.

government exhibit for the ladies in attendance at the Conference, upon which occasion the Director of the U. S. Office of Public Roads will be host. A lecture illustrated by moving pictures will be given by J. E. Pennybacker Chief of The Division of Road Economics of the U. S. Office of Public Roads. Mrs. Daisy McLaurin-Stevens, who typically represents the women of the South, has assured Mrs. Baker that she will address the Conference on the opening day, November 9th.
