Anxiety Causes The Death Of A Foreign Monarch

King of Roumania Died Yesterday After Worrying Over the War Crisis for Several Weeks. Ger- mans Chasing the Belgians who Fled From Antwerp. Fearful Fighting

Petrograd, Oct. 10—King Charles of Roumania died today. His death was said to have been hastened by worry over the war crisis. It is known that the king, who was of the same family as the Kaiser, opposed the desire of his ministers to become the ally of Russia, saying that he had given his word to Austria to help her if he entered the war at all. No details of his death have yet been received.

LARGE GERMAN FORCES * CROSS SCHEDLT RIVER

London, Oct. 10—Dispatches late today state that large forces of German troops crossed the Schedlt river headed northeast. It is apparent that they are trying to get to the rear of the Belgian army which escaped from Antwerp. If they succeed, the Belgians will have to give battle to superior forces or cross the border to Holland and be interned there to end the war.

REINFORCEMENTS BEING SENT TO THE GERMANS

Rome, (via London) Oct. 10—It is learned from German sources that reinforcements are being rushed to the German armies in the Russian front, not only by train but also by sea from Stettin Danzig and other ports.

Paris, Oct. 10—Information from Basle says that the French are advancing in Alsace. Recently the Germans made a desperate effort to seize Vosges passes but failed and lost heavily in the attempt, thirty seven thousand being killed. An army surgeon states that only four men were left of a German battalion after one attack.

CONTACTS TAKE PLACE SOUTHEAST OF LILLE

Paris, Oct. 10—Tonight's official announcement says "Reports received from general headquarters this evening announce merely contacts between the opposing cavalry forces south east of Lille. A violent engagement at the southeast and north of Arras is in progress. There was no comment on these engagements."

TWO NEGROES WERE PLACED UNDER ARREST

VIOLATED CITY ORDINANCE AT THE UNION PASSENGER STATION YESTERDAY

Captain A. L. Bryan and Policeman H. Whitford each arrested a man yesterday afternoon shortly after the trains from Morehead City and Goldsboro pulled into the union passenger station. The charges which they will be tried for at Police Court tomorrow will be for crowding among the passengers as they were getting on and off of the trains and soliciting checks for baggage.

For several months this has been going on and for the last few weeks it has become a nuisance. They will crowd up among the white passengers, and are not only in the way of the traveling public, but actually walk up against white ladies in their efforts to secure these checks. Captain Bryan and officer Whitford stated last night that this is a violation of a city ordinance and it is their intention to break it up. Some of the officers have also stated that there are other things going on around the depot that they intend to break up.

ANTWERP HAS BEEN TAKEN BY THE GERMANS

was One of the Most Terrific Encounters in the History of the Wars of the World

SIEGE OF THE CITY LASTED FOR TEN DAYS

Teuton Forces Captured the City After Long Resistance By the Troops who Were Defending It

The Hague (Via London) Oct. 10—Antwerp surrendered to the Germans at 2 30 p. m. Friday, October 9.

The war flag was removed from the Cathedral and a white flag raised in its place at 9 a. m. The actual surrender took place five and one half hours later.

Reports Confirmed

London, Oct. 10—An official Berlin dispatch via Marconi wireless confirms the report that Antwerp has been occupied.

The British war office announces that Antwerp was evacuated by the Belgians Friday.

The official announcement of the fall of Antwerp, given out at German general headquarters late last night and transmitted here via Marconi wireless says:

"This forenoon several forts of the inner line of the fortifications of Antwerp have fallen. The town since midday has been in our possession."

"The commander and the garrison evacuated the fortifications. Only a few forts are still occupied by the enemy and this is without influence on our position in Antwerp."

The Chronicle states that the Germans have entered Antwerp and that the inhabitants are calm.

A Long Siege

The siege of Antwerp, which culminated in its fall on Friday, October 9, began on September 29, the Germans taking just ten days to reduce the formidable fortifications which surrounded the temporary capital of the Belgians. The Germans had however, for a long time previous prepared the way for the attack by taking a number of towns in Antwerp's vicinity.

The first direct attack on the Antwerp fortifications was against the forts at Daelhem and Wavre-St. Catherine. These were reduced in a couple of days by the aid of the big siege guns. Meanwhile the forts at Lierre and Koningshoeyck and also been attacked and these and others of the outer line of the fortifications were taken last week.

The last few days has seen the fighting advance to the inner line of forts and along the Scheldt principally at Schoonaerde. Severe fighting occurred there for several days, but the superior artillery of the Germans gradually forced the Belgians back until in the last day or two the fighting had reached practically to the suburbs of Antwerp.

On Wednesday, October 7, came reports that the Belgian government was moving to Ostend, and that day also brought reports that the population was fleeing in terror and panic toward the Holland frontier. Zeppelin bomb attacks, which killed scores of people added to the terror of the inhabitants.

The German forces which have taken Antwerp are said to consist of five army corps. They were under the command of General Hans Von Beseler, a veteran of the war of 1870, who was taken from his retirement to do the work of reducing Antwerp.

General Deguise was in command of the Belgian defenders. King Albert aided them by his personal direction almost to the last, having quit Antwerp, according to reports, only yesterday morning, probably when the end was seen.

Antwerp is 180 miles from London and in England fear has been expressed that with Antwerp as a German base Zeppelin airships could be used to attack the English coast line and even London.

The distance from Antwerp to the British coast is less than 100 miles.

Antwerp is on the river Scheldt. Before it enters the North Sea the Scheldt flows through the Netherlands territory. Under existing conditions it would be impossible for Germany to use Antwerp for a naval base without violating the neutrality of the Netherlands.

CONVICT GUARD PLACED IN JAIL EARLY THIS A. M.

J. H. Foy Accused With Having Caused the Death of Charles Collins, A Negro Prisoner

SHERIFF LANE PLACED HIM UNDER ARREST AT TRENTON

The Blow May or May Not Have Been the Cause of the Negro's Death—An Investigation

Charles Collins, a negro who has been serving a term on the Craven county chain gang, is dead. J. H. Foy, a white man who was employed as a guard over the convicts in jail charged with being instrumental in the death of the negro and a lot of trouble awaits him in proving that he is innocent. This is a summary of an affair which occurred last Friday near New Bern and culminated early this morning in the arrest of Foy near Trenton and his subsequent incarceration in the county jail.

The Story

The story of the entire affair is a long one, but in brief form it seems that Collins, who was under the superintendent of the convict force and who was engaged in working on the roads near New Bern, was subject to epileptic fits and that on Thursday night, October 1, he had one of these "spells." On the following day, so it is said, he did not feel able to work and so told the guard Foy. The guard, according to all accounts, did not believe this and during an argument which ensued, struck the negro on the head with his gun and inflicted a bad wound, the wound which may have caused his death.

Guard Discharged

As soon as he had learned of the affair Superintendent Provo discharged the guard and he went to his home near Trenton. Collins was brought to New Bern and placed in the county jail where he remained until yesterday when he died. In the meantime the county officials had been awaiting the outcome of the man's injuries before taking any definite action. Yesterday afternoon the wheels of the law were set in motion and Sheriff R. B. Lane and deputies E. J. Bayliss and Thomas Smith set out in an automobile for Foy's home at Trenton. It was after night when they arrived at the scene, but they found their man, placed him under arrest and brought him back to New Bern and placed him in jail.

Did Blow Cause Death?

Whether the blow which Foy struck Collins caused his death is a matter for the medical experts to pass upon. County physician Dr. J. F. Rhem who attended Collins stated to a reporter last night that the man had previously been struck on the head and that it was possible that the new wound was not responsible for his demise. However, this is a matter of speculation and will be decided by the grand jury to be drawn out tomorrow for the term of Craven county Superior Court to be held here all during the week.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT

Started Against Two Railway Companies

Papers were yesterday served on the officers of the Norfolk Southern Railway Company and the A. & N. C. Railway Company summoning them to appear in a suit in which has been started against these two companies by the widow of the late C. M. Babson, who was killed on the local shifting yards of these companies. The case will be called this week.

The steamer Howard, of the Independent Steam Boat Line, arrived in port yesterday from Trenton and Pollockville with a cargo of cotton and cotton seed consigned to the New Bern Oil Mills. The Howard will sail for Trenton and Pollockville on her regular run tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Miss Hulda Bowden returned last evening from Elizabeth City where she has been visiting relatives.

VICTORY ONCE AGAIN FALLS TO BOSTON BRAVES

What They Did to the Athletics Yesterday Was A Plenty. The Game Was A Good One

ONLY ONE RUN MADE IN ENTIRE NINE INNINGS

For Eight Innings Not A Single Man Was Able to Come Across the Home Plate

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10—"We are happy and we are hopeful," were the respective refrains of Boston and Philadelphia rooters as they gathered here this afternoon for the second game of the world's series between the Boston Nationals and the Philadelphia Athletics. The Boston men were happy over the fact that their favorites, the National league champions, had taken the first game. The Philadelphians were hopeful that the Athletics, winners of the American league pennant, would capture today's conflict.

The weather today was again favorable, it being that of a summer day, thus making it all the more agreeable for the great crowd that gathered to witness such a rare exhibition of the national sport. The Boston rooters were greatly in evidence as the teams went through their practice.

For eight innings both teams battled hard for a lead, but were unable to cross the plate. The work of Plank and James on the mound was excellent throughout the game. There were only nine hits made by both teams, seven of which were made by the Braves. James pitched a no hit game up to the sixth inning when Schang hit for two bases, but was out stealing third. In the first half of the ninth inning Deal hit for two bases with no one out. James up and fanned for fourth time during the game. One out with Deal on second. Deal stole third and scored the only run on Mann's single. Mann goes to second on pass ball and Evers walks. Cater up, but side retired by double play. Barry first up in the last half of ninth, walks. Schang fans and Barry stole second. Walsh batting for Plank is walked. Murphy up with man on first and second, but he hit into a double making three out.
