CONVICTS MUST WORK OR GET BEATING

JUDGE TURNER TELLS GUARDS TO GIVE REBELLIOUS PRISONERS ANOTHER CHANCE

Elizabeth City, N. C., Oct. 10.—The ten rebellious convicts, who yesterday threw down their tools and refused to work, were marched into court this morning before Judge Turner and their complaints were investigated.

A majority of them claimed to be sick with various complaints. Dr. Zemas Fearing, the county physician, was on hand and made a public examination of the complaining prisoners. He pronounced their complaints a fake and stated to the court that they were able to work.

In the meantime, ex-Judge George Ward appeared in court and was consulted by Judge Turner and the chain-gang officials. He stated in open court, in the presence of the convicts, that they could be made to work and ought to be made to work. He said that they should be made to work and his services were at the disposal of the officials to defend them in any damage suits that may arise.

Judge Turner instructed the officials of the chain-gang to give the rebellious convicts an opportunity to go to work again this morning without punishment. Those who still refused should be given a flogging and placed in the county jail on bread and water until tomorrow morning, when they should be brought before him again to be dealt with.
