

PEOPLE In Brief

WHEN A FEW MONTHS AGO Burt, novelist and crumbler passed through Chapel Hill on his way to Southern Pines he was obviously fighting off an illness. He died Aug. 15 in a Jackson, Wyo., hospital. He had been a patient since he was born in Baltimore in 1874. He lived mostly in Philadelphia before moving to North Carolina. He had been a student at Princeton and Oxford University. He married Katherine in 1913. He had two children. Burt was a visitor in Chapel Hill when he received an honorary degree from the University. He was a fierce crusader for cleaner roads and highways and other causes.

CHARLIE NOTTINGHAM manager of the University Lodge, hasn't had to buy a golf bag in several years. With his moped about 50 yards off the hole for the 12th hole on Pine Course, enough balls land in driveways of his place—and never claimed by their owners to keep him well supplied.

THE FOLKS OUT AT STATION have been plagued with technical difficulties the last few days and the station has been off the air on several occasions for periods of time. The trouble was finally rooted out on Monday—a defective socket—the station's again operation business as usual.

CTOR SEIXAS IS ENTITLED to a raise for his tennis victory at West Hills, N.Y. over the Australian, Rex Hartwig, after a long wait. The former UNC tennis star had a long way to go to take national championship at the age of 31. It makes the US chances better to get back the Davis Cup from the Australians, and is a mighty pleasing to his coach, John F. Kenfield, who kept faith in Victor when other people were writing him off.

THE PROMOTION OF CLIFTON to Moscow to represent the New York Times there gives E. C. the most important and difficult jobs in journalism. It is also one of the highest distinctions given to a Chapel Hill trained newspaperman. E. C. comes from Union, N. C., where his father was a druggist. He used to go to school to Miss Erma Green.

FEALING MELONS NETTED 90- suspended road terms for two drivers in Recorder's Court this week. The judgments were against William Norwood, 17, and Hubert Lawrence, 18. Police said they fined the two Negro boys taking melons from Jake Riddle's stand on W. Franklin St. about 10 p.m. last Saturday. They were ordered put on probation for the offense.

HARRY HUGHES, THE AMERICAN Field Service-sponsored exchange student from England, arrived Tuesday to live with the J. E. Hughes this year. He started his first year at Chapel Hill last year. On completion of his year here at Chapel Hill student will be eligible to go to England for a year's schooling under the program.

Concert Series Tickets Drive Starts Monday

Mrs. Norman Cordon Will Direct Drive

The campaign for ticket sales to the newly-organized Chapel Concert Series will begin here Monday and continue all of next week.

The 15-man board of directors of the group, along with neighborhood salesmen, will meet in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock this evening to plan the campaign. Captains and solicitors will be appointed to canvass every section of town during the coming week. Mrs. Norman Cordon is in charge of the drive.

Jimmy Wallace, secretary of the non-profit entertainment organization, said that slightly over 100 tickets have been sold entirely un-solicited since the tickets to the four programs went on sale last month. Only 1,800 subscriptions will be sold in all, he said, since this is the seating capacity of Memorial Hall, where all performances will be held. Subscriptions will be made available to persons outside of Chapel Hill only after the sale here ends next week, Mr. Wallace said. He added that no tickets would be sold to individual performances. A separate campaign for student subscriptions will be held on the University campus next week also. The students subscriptions will sell for $5.00 and those to townspeople for $6.00. They will be on sale at the Graham Memorial office, Orange County Building and Loan, and Danziger's Restaurant.

Here is the coming year's program for the series: Oct. 20, American Chamber Orchestra, formerly the Vienna Mozart Orchestra; Feb. 15, Salzburg Marionette Theatre; March 31, Walter Gieseking, pianist; April 15, Jan Peerce, world-renowned tenor.

Persons interested in selling tickets to the Series are asked to attend tonight's meeting by Mrs. Cordon.

Funds Are Turned Over To Flim-Flam Victims

Contributors to the relief of flim-flam victims John and Lula Foushee have turned in $65 to the News Leader and to Elmer Pendergraft's Service Station to help the elderly Negro couple who were recently bilked out of $365 — their total savings.

The money has been given to the Foushees at their farm on the Mann's Chapel Road in Chatham County. They expressed their appreciation yesterday to the many persons who helped them out in this time of need. "Bless 'em all," said Lula fervently.

Among those contributing directly to the Foushee Relief Fund through the News Leader were C. A. Houck Jr., Mrs. Irene Lee and Miss Maude Lee. Mrs. John Booker, Mrs. Alfred Brauer, Edward Thomas, and Mrs. Ed Washington.

Grid Barbecue To Be Tuesday

University and Chapel Hill School football players will be feted at a barbecue supper on Fetzer Field next Tuesday night which will be open to the public in order to give the people an opportunity to meet the athletes.

Y. Z. Cannon is chairman of the community affair and civic clubs are letting the supper take the place of their weekly meeting. Bob Cox is ticket chairman and tickets may be purchased from him at Town and Campus. They are priced at $1.50 each.

Coach George Barclay of the University Team inaugurated the movement and the Athletic Association will be hosts to the Carolina varsity and Freshman squads. The High School players will be guests of the civic clubs.

The committee in charge, headed by Mr. Cannon, consists of Ted Tillman, Roy Cole, Roger Swane, William Harward, Carrboro Lions, Crowell Little, Rotary, and Bob Cox, Jaycee. Cannon said a crowd of 400 or more will be present.

A short program of entertainment is being planned.

"WILDCATS" CO-CAPTAINS—Louis Freeland (left) and Dan Carroll, senior letterman on the Chapel Hill football squad, have been elected co-captains of the team this season. Freeland, at fullback, is playing his first season on the varsity. Carroll, at right end, is beginning his third season. Both will start in tomorrow night's season opener with Sanford there. High-Spirited Wildcats Meet Sanford There Tomorrow Night

The high-spirited Chapel Hill High School Wildcats will open their 10-game football season tomorrow night against Sanford.

The game is set for 8 o'clock on Sanford High School athletic field. Chapel Hill won over Sanford 12-6 last year in the season's lone victory. Coach Bill Grice said his squad had more spirit this year than in several seasons and seemed quite ready to tackle the 10-game schedule.

"We don't know much about Sanford, but we should beat them," said the coach. "It would put us in good shape to meet the other teams in the conference."

Louis Freeland and Dan Carroll, senior backfield starters on the squad, have been elected co-captains this year. Freeland, although a letterman last year, is playing his first season on the varsity. He'll be at fullback. Carroll, at right end, is starting his third year on the team. He was also a first stringer last season.

Magazine Agents Make Raid Here This Week

Those talking itinerant magazine subscription salesman—who don't like to admit they're selling—swept through town early this week.

Five young men, representing the Union Circulation Co. of New York, were registered with the police department. As usual they didn't heed warnings against high pressure tactics and many hapless housewives were badgered into taking subscriptions after hearing all kinds of hard-luck stories.

Chief Sloan's advice in dealing with these operators is: Don't let 'em in if you don't want to buy a magazine subscription.

GOLDES RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Golde have returned from their summer at Boone where Mr. Golde taught voice lessons to members of the east of "Horn In The West" and pupils from other nearby towns. He has resumed teaching private lessons at his home on Route 3, no the old Lystra Road south of town.

GOOD FISHING OFF HARKERS—Mrs. Vic Cook (left), and Mr. Cook, and Mr. Ed Vashaw (right), show off 60 pounds worth of their bonanza catch over the Labor Day weekend about 25 miles off Harker's Island. The women have a 15-pound amberjack and the men, a 25-pound amberjack—which measured 42 inches. They also brought home a slew of red snappers, sea bass, croakers, and perch. News Leader Photo.

CHAPEL HILL HIGH SCHOOL—The 20 teachers who will comprise the Chapel Hill High School faculty this year are (seated, left to right) Miss Virginia Price, commercial studies; Miss Elizabeth Raney, English and French; Mrs. Bernadine Sullivan, English; Miss Emma Lee Davis, history and English; Mrs. Peggy Martin, art; Miss Ola Andrews, Latin and math; Wesley J. First Day's Public School Attendance Is 2,562; Around 160 Over Last Year

Full Schedule Starts Today

Enrollment for the first day of public school here yesterday was slightly over expectations, as 2,562 pupils were reported in attendance in the six local schools.

Regular class schedules began today after yesterday's initial half-day get-acquainted sessions. The total average attendance at all schools last year was about 2,400.

Superintendent of Schools C. W. Davis said that everything went off pretty smoothly yesterday in starting the new year, and the various school principals concurred in this. Miss Mildred Moonshine, elementary school principal, said that school accident insurance policies will be available next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday for $1.25 per pupil. The policies will not be available after this date, she said.

Charges and Denials of Brutality Are Aired In Raymond Jones Case

Carrboro Youth Says Was Beaten In Jail

Charges and denials of police brutality have been aired in connection with the jailing of Raymond Jones, 20-year-old Carrboro youth, during Tuesday's session of Recorder's Court.

A probation hearing for Jones has been set in the courtroom tomorrow morning. He was arrested about two weeks ago for drunken driving. But in July he was put on probation and handed a suspended roads term here in connection with a June 26 assault on his father, Millard Jones.

A warrant for his arrest was issued by Judge William S. Stewart in court Tuesday morning when Jones was called and failed on the drunken driving charge. He told officers later that he understood that his attorney, Roy Cole, had gotten a continuance in the case.

Hearing Postponed

'Open House' Scheduled For New Courthouse

An "open house" to enable Orange County citizens to view their new courthouse has been scheduled for Monday October 4.

The Board of Commissioners decided Monday to hold formal opening ceremonies in the new building in the afternoon of the first session of Superior Court to be held in the new building on October 4. Judge Leo Carr, resident judge of the 10th judicial district, has requested assignment to the bench for this historic session in the new building.

The Commissioners, although they have not worked out detailed plans for the event, tentatively plan to invite Chief Justice Barnhill of the Supreme Court, President Gordon Gray and Chancellor Robert House of the University, former Chairman of the Board of Commissioners Collier Cobb Jr., and a number of other Orange County dignitaries, along with officials from nearby counties.

GETS EAGLE BADGE—Ricky Thurman, former Senior Patrol Leader of Boy Scout Troop 9, and son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Thurman, has attained the Eagle Scout rank. He recently moved to Waycross, Ga., with his family, and Scoutmaster Jimmie Wallace is sending his award there for presentation. James Wadsworth Jr., of Troop 39, will receive the Eagle rank at a Court of Honor for his troop on Sunday night. News Leader Photo.

Police Review Events In Jail

Police Captain William Blake last night said he had no knowledge of the use of a black jack in the subduing of Raymond Jones while he was in the Chapel Hill jail Tuesday.

The veteran police officer stated that in his opinion no more force than that necessary to subdue Jones was used on him by policemen in jailing him and holding him for an examination at the jail by Dr. J. Kempton Jones, Carrboro Police Chief J. A. Williams occurred in this statement. The 20-year-old youth was recently discharged from a hitch in the Army, most of which was spent in Germany. He was picked up Tuesday morning by Chief Williams and Patrolman W. E. Clark Jr., on an order issued by Judge William S. Stewart, after he failed to answer a court call for a drunken driving trial.

News Leader Photo Of Miss N.C. Captures Prize For Cameraman

Betty Jo Ring—Miss North Carolina's representative to the Miss America Beauty Pageant in Atlantic City this week—selected a News Leader photograph of herself to win a $50 prize, it was announced this week.

The photo shown alongside was taken the day after the Lexington high school teacher was selected Miss North Carolina at the Jaycee-sponsored beauty pageant in Burlington. Press photographers snapped pictures of her for two hours that morning, each one having a five-minute session with the new beauty queen.

She judged the photos herself and was not permitted to see the names of any of the participating press photographers until the judging was completed. As the first place $100 prize winner she picked a full-length photo taken by Ed McCauley of the Burlington Times-News.

Next Best Of Betty Jo
The runner-up in the competition was the News Leader photo entered by Roland Giduz.
