

Extra Votes Offered To Early News Leader Drive Workers

Interest in The News Leader's Extra Cash subscription drive, which officially opens Monday, is mounting daily as candidates spurred on by the Grand Prize of a beautiful new 1955 2-door sedan purchased by Harris-Conners Chevrolet.

Previously announced in advertisements, the automobile, which will be on display soon, over $1,000, is being offered in cash prizes. The second prize in the drive will receive $600.00, third prize will get $250 and fourth prize $150.

The News Leader points out, however, that solicitors will receive a 20 per cent commission on the dollar collected on both new or renewal subscriptions if they do not win one of the four major prizes, provided they remain active until the close of the campaign on Dec. 18.

The News Leader would like to have contestants in every community served by this newspaper and adjoining territory not represented. All rural communities should be represented with an active contestant. Those interested in extra cash converting their leisure hours into profitable and enjoyable work are urged to send in their name to The News Leader, Chapel Hill, N. C., requesting a receipt book and full campaign supplies. These will be furnished immediately.

The management suggests that those who plan to enter the contest do so without delay to compete under the first and biggest extra vote offer. There is an equal chance for all. The go-getter will have no trouble securing credit or votes.

The campaign officially opens today and the first list of contestants will appear in Thursday's paper. Be sure to send in your name if you want extra cash for Christmas and be among the early workers.

Carrier Boy
As we have said before the carrier boys will deliver the paper where there is carrier service and will be paid the same amount from this office as he is now receiving. When you subscribe to one of the

WILLIAM M. COCHRANE

WILLIAM B. WHITLEY

Two Chapel Hill Men Named To Staff Of Senator-Elect

Two Chapel Hillians—William M. Cochrane and William B. Whitley—will move to Washington along with Senator-elect W. Kerr Scott this month to serve on his staff.

It is expected that Mr. Scott will take office on November 24—the day after the N. C. elections board officially certifies the returns of votes in last Tuesday's general election. Mr. Cochrane will be his private secretary and Mr. Whitley, his press secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitley, who live on Hill street, have already secured an apartment in Washington and expect to move there, along with their two-year-old daughter, in about two weeks. Mr. Cochrane said he hadn't yet secured quarters in Washington, but would join Mr. Scott on the day he is sworn in. His family will follow him later.

A native of Newton, Mr. Cochrane has been on the staff of the Institute of Government here since 1941. At present he is its administrative director, an associate professor in public law and government, and managing editor of "Popular Government," the Institute's monthly publication.

Mr. Scott said of him: "He is well acquainted with many problems facing municipalities and suburban persons alike because of his extensive research in this field. I am mighty glad to get his services because of this background, a background that gives him a non-political approach to some of the state's most pressing problems."

A 1941 law graduate of UNC, Mr. Cochrane also holds a LL.M. degree from the Yale University Law School where he did research in public health law in 1950-51.

Mr. Whitley, a journalism graduate of the University, is a political reporter for the Durham Morning Herald and was publicity manager for Mr. Scott during his campaign for the Democratic nomination last spring.

KACHERGIS SERVES

George Kacergis, associate professor of art at the University, served last weekend as a member of the jury to select winners and award prizes in the annual exhibition sponsored by the South Carolina Guild of Artists, in Charleston.

PEOPLE In Brief

WISHING WELL FOR KIDS

Jaycees' community Halloween party was a great success, according to the report of program chairman Dick Young. The Thursday night's meeting club children by the hundred around to go fish for small prizes. Eagerly they'd pick up the buckets on a line and over the walled booth. "Fine kids but tough on the boys," reported Dick. "We need for the next year's party paper buckets to be used instead of buckets."

OF THE PHONE REPAIR

Work was fixing an instrument in Chapel Hill house after Wednesday storm. Woman on the phone picked up the receiver to a call. He explained he was the phone, would be through in minutes. Irrked woman didn't wait, but continued to receive off the hook. The man calmly told her— "you can hold that receiver as long as you want, but I can't phone until you hang up. You can't call till I do." Finally got the pitch and hung up.

MAYBE THE FIRST FIVE-

fire in the history of the community occurred on Thursday as firemen from both Chapel Hill and Carrboro answered, and they look care of, the alarm at Sophia Johnson's house on Mill Road. All of the trucks on duty at the site of the burning demonstration for street investigators school on Street in Carrboro when the came.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN

take up two important matters meeting tonight: Consideration of a policy for improvement of sidewalks in the town; a motion to invite the Towns Carrboro and Hillsboro and the city commissioners to join them sponsoring the establishment of the medical battalion of the National Guard Division

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Monday, November 8
Board of aldermen, Town
- Knights of Pythias organized meeting, American Legion.
- American Legion old collection.
- Tuesday, November 9 p.m. George Barclay speaks, Club, Carolina Inn.
p.m. Newcomers Club, Carrboro.
- Wednesday, November 10
p.m. John Harden speaks at Head Bookshop Tea.
p.m. Playmakers present "Living Shore," Playmakers
- Thursday, November 11
Credit Women's Breakfast
Bosses Night Banquet, Carrboro.
- p.m. Boy Scouts District Camp New Hope.
- p.m. Parent-Teacher Association Chapel Hill Elementary
- p.m. UNC-South Carolina movies, Graham Memorial.
- p.m. Playmakers present "Living Shore," Playmakers

Prospects 'Good' For Success Of Community Chest Campaign

Prospects for a successful 1955 Community Chest campaign were "good" this morning, according to Drive Chairman Philip P. Green, Jr.

The rosenberg drive will likely be completed in a few days, he said, if returns come in as expected on the basis of preliminary reports from the various division heads. As of this morning a little over $9,000 in cash and pledges has been officially reported as turned in, however Mr. Green said he was certain that considerably more than this amount had been taken in by solicitors, but not reported. The $9,000 figure did not include latest receipts through Campus Division Head Fred Weaver and Hospital Division Head Dr. Kermit Knudtsen.

A final round-up of solicitations in the business district is planned today by Joe Robbins, chairman of this division. Mrs. John Manning, head of the residential division, said that reports from the approximately 200 solicitors in this section were still coming in slowly. However, final totals from this group are due at noon today. A number of persons have made donations directly to Chest Treasurer Walt Baucum and to Mr. Green.

Chapel Hill Students Are Pledged To Frats

Among Chapel Hill students who were pledged to fraternities following the end of the rushing season this fall were the following:

Robert A. Ross Jr.—Alpha Tau Omega; Donald Hall—Chi Psi; Raymond A. Jolly Jr. and William Thomas Powell—Kappa Alpha; Peter Pollander—Lambda Chi Alpha; William Galen Hobbs—Phi Delta Theta; Allen Williams—St. Anthony Hall; and Bill Merritt—Theta Chi.

School Superlatives Picked

Superlatives among the senior class at Chapel Hill High School were recently elected by secret ballot of the class.

Ten of the 28 superlative category winners will not be announced until next spring, however, the others are: Most talkative, Sammy Ray and Janelle King; quietest, Larry Durham and Polly Blackwood; cutest, Barry Hughes and Vickie Turner; most naive, Tony Womack and Edith Winegar; wittiest, Dan Fowler and Cecilia Husbands; class babies, Barry Hughes and Sandra Kednocker.

Most courteous, Dan Carroll and Martha Ann Cheek; best students, Richard Hall and Dorothy Moore; most dignified, John Adams and Martha Ann Cheek; teachers' pets, John Adams and Alvene Williams; teachers' pests, John Hanft and Janelle King; laziest, Bobby Thompson and Kathryn Roberson; best workers, Jim Davis and Patricia Shores; most cooperative, Dick Jackson and Betty Harrell; most talented, Dick Jackson and Nancy Tilson; biggest flirts, Sammy Ray and Peggy Hinson; best dressers, Bobby Thompson and Nancy Davis.

Homecoming At High School

Homecoming Weekend for Chapel Hill High School will begin Friday afternoon with a downtown parade, to be followed by the Oxford Orphanage football game and a dance at the Recreation Center.

The parade will leave the Carrboro Lions Park at 4:30 p.m. and march down Main and Franklin Sts. to the Morehead Planetarium parking lot. The high school band will lead the line of march, followed by floats and decorated cars of various clubs, classes and civic groups. Teddy Moore is in charge of the parade, which is being managed by the high school student council.

Miss Martha Ann Hubbard, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Hubbard and a CHHS freshman will be crowned Homecoming Queen in half-time ceremonies at the game by Princeton Wesley Noble. Her attendants will be Miss Claire Merritt, senior and student body president; Ka Smith, junior; Jeanette Watts, sophomore; and Sandra Williams, freshman.

NCEA Program Planned For PTA On Thursday

The legislative program of the North Carolina Educational Association will be reviewed at the meeting of the Chapel Hill Elementary and High School Parent-Teacher Association, to be held in the Elementary School Auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The discussion is being planned by Warren Baecht, president of the local unit of the NCEA and should be of interest to all parents and teachers. Some of the legislative objectives of the NCEA are appropriations sufficient to provide special service teachers where needed and adequate funds for the operating costs of the schools; better salary schedules for teachers; and an extended term of two weeks for teachers and principals to allow time for proper planning and preparation for the opening of school each year.

After the meeting, parents will have an opportunity to visit the elementary school rooms and plans will be provided for high school and junior high parents to meet teachers of their children.

CLOSED THURSDAY
The Chapel Hill Postoffice will be closed all day Thursday in observance of Armistice Day. Incoming and outgoing mails will be dispatched as usual but there will be no deliveries in town except for special delivery matter and perishable goods. Mail will be posted in boxes as usual.

Legion Stages 36th Birthday

Members of Chapel Hill American Legion Post No. Six observed the 36th birthday of the post Wednesday with an open house for Korean and World War II veterans at the University here.

The Legion Auxiliary members served punch and a birthday cake. Paul Fenner, of the Winston-Salem office of the Veterans Administration, who is also a member of the state and national rehabilitation committees of the Legion, spoke on the benefits and program of the Legion. Tom Hawkins, of Mebane, a past state vice-commander of the Legion, spoke on the veterans' home loan program. Paul Robertson Congressed in the absence of Commander Bill Grice.

University student veterans are especially invited to join the post Commander Grice said. Meeting times are the first and third Mondays of each month at 8 p. m., in the Legion Hut on East Rosemary Street.

UMSTEADS DURING CAMPAIGN—William B. Umstead (left) is shown with his older brother, Orange County Rep. John W. Umstead at his last political appearance in the county during his campaign for governor in the November, 1952, primary election. The occasion was the barbecue and rally at the Hillsboro Speedway. News Leader Photo

Community Mourns Death Of Gov. Umstead

Chapel Hillians and the entire Tar Heel state mourned today the death of its first citizen, Governor William B. Umstead, who died yesterday morning at Watts Hospital.

A graduate of the University in the class of 1916, he was always very close to Chapel Hill and Orange County. The sight of the Governor's "No. One" limousine in the University community was not at all uncommon since his inauguration as the state's chief executive in 1952.

The Rev. Charles S. Hubbard of the University Methodist Church will assist the Rev. C. D. Barcliff in officiating at funeral services tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at Trinity Methodist Church in Durham.

Governor Umstead was the first Congressman from the Sixth District when it was formed in 1932 and served three terms before retiring in 1938. He was succeeded by the incumbent Representative Carl Durham, who was a close friend of his since their days at Carolina together.

In tribute to Governor Umstead, Mr. Durham said this morning: "There is a word, I think, that properly describes William Umstead and his approach to problems of state and nation: Courage. His administration has cooperated fully with every agency of the federal

(See GOVERNOR, Page 8)

Selection Of New Postmaster May Run Afoul Of Party Snag

Selection of a new postmaster for Chapel Hill may run afoul of the Democratic-Republican snarl in Washington. Although a Republican would normally be appointed during a Republican national administration, the recently-elected Democratic Senate may fail to confirm him.

Informed sources on the procedure in filling postmastership vacancies see this as a definite possibility in the Chapel Hill case, which could result in Acting Postmaster J. Paul Cheek's continuing in office for an indefinite period—or perhaps through another general election.

The Civil Service Commission in Washington announced on Saturday that seven persons, including Mr. Cheek, had applied for the job vacancy created here last May when Postmaster William S. Hogan died. The deadline for applications was last Tuesday, so one of these seven will be proposed to fill the vacancy.

Besides Mr. Cheek the applicants are Leon C. Cheek and Dewey King, both long-standing employees of the post office here now; J. F. Crawford, Johnson Hayes Linney, Kenneth Putnam, and Max Weaver. Some of the applicants are Democrats and some Republicans.

The normal procedure would be for the County Republican Committee to recommend one or more of the applicants qualified by the Civil Service Commission. The President would appoint one of these persons and his taking office would then be subject to confirmation by the Senate. Of course the President would propose a Republican to the Senate and that's where the hitch may occur. The Senate quite often follows the wishes of the Senators from the State concerned in such matters, and it's quite possible that the Tar Heel Senators would not favor a GOP appointee.

Weather Reports

Fair and cold tonight. Fair with moderate temperatures tomorrow. Expected low tonight, 32. Expected high tomorrow, upper 60's.

	High	Low	Rainfall
Thursday	50	25	.00
Friday	51	39	.91
Saturday	51	33	.00
Sunday	56	25	.00

PIGS AT LARGE—Residents of the Strowd Hill neighborhood got a start yesterday morning on seeing a pair of hefty Spotted Poland China sows—mother and daughter—contentedly rooting around yards on lower Roosevelt Avenue. They're shown above, with a couple of the more curious neighborhood children making a daring approach, in T. C. Moore's yard where they found a haven of acorns. They'd escaped from Dr. L. L. Vine's pen at the bottom of the hill and were easily rounded up and shooed back to their sty after several hours of freedom. News Leader Photo

Southern Orange County Voting Box Score

Precinct	County Commissioner			Sheriff		Register Of Deeds		Clerk Of Court		Congress	U. S. Senate	N. C. Rep.	N. C. Sen.	No. Voters
	Lanier	Walker	Eiland	Hobbs	Ray	Naville	Crawford	Clayton	Sparrow						Hayes	Lloyd	Lynch	McAdams	Durham
Chapel Hill No. 1	125	120	120	128	127	46	40	123	53	118	45	118	44	124	38	134	123	129	173
Chapel Hill No. 2	238	232	226	238	242	41	36	224	45	236	34	237	34	246	20	220	245	240	277
Chapel Hill No. 3	321	301	284	314	308	49	50	297	46	321	40	301	40	320	33	303	325	317	361
Chapel Hill No. 4	291	266	259	291	278	67	67	245	69	277	49	261	60	285	50	268	291	281	345
Chapel Hill No. 5	217	199	188	212	213	69	70	190	78	212	54	198	61	215	57	197	222	215	277
Carrboro	268	246	240	251	290	151	113	246	117	267	98	249	105	271	93	271	262	245	392
White Cross	95	95	94	93	103	25	21	96	26	102	15	96	17	101	17	97	97	94
Cole Store	56	59	55	50	56	11	12	64	7	60	10	54	11	61	6	63	57	57
TOTALS	2900	2982	2903	2907	2993	744	709	3065	674	2981	572	2917	624	2988	600	2910	3007	2829	1831

WHAT'SIT?—Mrs. Charles Poston of Longview Street, an orchid fancier, was delighted recently when an unpretentious small cactus she had set out, began to bloom. She brought it indoors and soon it bloomed out in the unusual star-shaped bloom shown above. Only trouble is she doesn't know what the name of the plant is, and wonders if any readers do. News Leader Photo.