

Nine Going For Training In 'Old Hickory' Outfit

Nine local men in the 30th Infantry National Guard Division will join the "Old Hickory" forces on their annual two-weeks encampment at Fort Bragg beginning this weekend.

Master Sergeant James L. Perry, chief of the division postoffice, left this morning to be in an advance detachment to help out the headquarters' commandant. The others will leave individually by army busses and cars this weekend. They'll spend the first week in the barracks of the old Field Artillery Replacement Center at Fort Bragg and four days of the second week out in the field on the military reservation.

Other local men in the division, all of them in division headquarters, are Captain Larry Marks, assistant inspector general; Sergeant Jesse Riley, in G-4 (transportation, evacuation and supply); Cpl. Cecil Riley of the division postoffice force; Sergeant Dan Leigh of the inspector general's office; Pfc. James Rives and Cpl.

William Tripp of the division finance office; First Lieutenant George Marsh in G-3 (plans and training); and First Lieutenant Jack Rogers, who will be an aide to the division's Commanding General, Major General Claude T. Bowers.

EXCHANGEITES HEAR CARMICHAEL

University Finance Officer W. D. Carmichael Jr., spoke before the Exchange Club on Tuesday evening, talking briefly on University-town relations and on the race issue now facing the University. He was introduced by Dr. L. L. Vine, program chairman. Plans were discussed for the club's project to haul over 100 loads of dirt this Saturday from Charlie Stancell's home building site on the Raleigh Road to the area being fixed up for a playground behind the Glenwood School. Ray Sizemore is project chairman for this work.

Swim Club Is Now Ready For Junior Olympics Meet

Members of the Chapel Hill Swim Club are continuing twice-daily workouts at Kessing Pool in preparation for the season's end Junior Olympics at Charlotte, weekend after next.

Howard Stepp, coach for the teen-age boys and girls group, said about half the 40 swimmers in the club were planning to participate in the event.

In five meets to date this summer the Club has shown up well in Competition at Kinston, Raleigh, twice in High Point, and Greensboro. Terry Stapleton has taken eight first places this summer.

Minor Davis, top swimmer on last summer's squad, has just returned from a vacation and is again in the group. Lee Milner has been showing up quite well in the diving competition.

The Club's activities will continue through the pool closing date of August 25. Miss Joanna Scroggs is assisting Mr. Stepp as coach.

Robert Giles Appointed

A lawyer with the Institute of Government has been named assistant attorney general for the state.

Robert Giles, 31, of the Institute staff, was appointed to the post by Attorney General W. B. Rodman.

Mr. Giles said he was "pleased looking forward to working with Mr. Rodman and his associates."

He will assume his duties next Monday. He will continue living here for the present, he said.

Mr. Giles' appointment fills a vacancy caused when Governor Hodges appointed Ralph Moody a member of the State Utilities Commission.

A native of Spartanburg County, South Carolina, Mr. Giles received his undergraduate degree in 1949 at the University here. He was graduated from the UNC Law School in 1952, and practiced law in Charlotte a year before joining the Institute of Government staff in 1953.

Attorney General Rodman said Mr. Giles will receive a salary of about $7,200.

'Builders On River' Set On Radio Tonight

"Builders On The River," number three in the University Communication Center's "American Adventure" series now being produced over the NBC Network, will be aired at 8:30 tonight.

In the cast will be William Wadell, Judd Beckwith, and John Ehle, writer of the series, of which John Clayton is the director. Tonight's presentation is the story of a Tennessee carpenter in the depression days, and his trials in building his river-front house. "It is a tribute to the artisan in our society, to the craftsman who surmounts obstacles to arrive at a finished work he can be proud of," said Mr. Clayton.

NINE DOCTORS LICENSED

Among the 206 persons who have recently passed the written examinations given by the State Board of Medical Examiners are nine persons from Chapel Hill. Dr. Samuel B. Joyner, who recently moved back to Kernersville, was one of three who led the exams. The others from here were Miss Mary Frances Munch, John C. Cassel, James L. Lamm, Adrian Smith Lineberger Jr., Carl W. Rogers, Alexander Grady Webb, and Thorndike C. Toops.

Pine Borers Harming Trees Here

By CHARLIE ROBSON

New construction is certainly necessary to the growth of the Chapel Hill community, but it also may mean an increase in the pine-borer, plague of local trees. "These pests frequently come into an area on green lumber and attack neighboring trees while it is piled up on the ground," says George Dickinson, local tree surgeon who specializes in this problem.

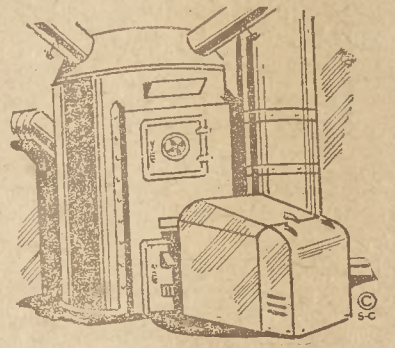

Mr. Dickinson finds two types of these borers, which are actually a species of beetle. There is a large beetle which attacks the tree from the ground up and a smaller one, perhaps one-twenty-fifth the size of the other, which works on the branches and tops of the pine tree.

The beetles attack the trees in order to lay their eggs, and it is probably the larvae which do the actual killing damage. The life cycle of the beetle is somewhat less than a year, so beetles from as recently as last May are showing up now. This part of the summer the borer is most evident.

According to Mr. Dickinson, the only thing to do with small trees infested with borers is to cut them down and destroy the wood. Larger trees, however, may be saved if they have not been attacked too severely. The best way to do this is to dig out the beetles and treat their holes with carbon disulfide or a similar poison. For best results the holes should then be sealed over with some of the resin which has drained out of the tree.

Mr. Dickinson feels that most of the damage evident this year is a result of the unusual dry weather last year which was very favorable for the borer.

When asked about other tree problems in Chapel Hill, Mr. Dickinson stated that he found most, Chapel Hillians very "tree-conscious" and that construction workers were generally careful to do as little harm as possible to the trees. "My major problem right now," he said, "is accumulated mechanical damage from hurricanes or the late freeze this year or hickory trees which get their trunks twisted and this is seldom more than several months later." Chapel Hill trees have been very well considering the able conditions that have been subject to in the
