Courtesies Honor Miss Pierpont

Martha Pierpont, whose wedding to James Clark Robinson, Asheville, will take place Saturday night, was honored last night at a luncheon given at the Pines Restaurant at her home on Passboro Road. The bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. George E. Shepard, were assisted by the hostess, Miss Carolyn Shepard, who presented a gift of silver to Miss Peggy Pierpont, bride-elect of October 15, who was honored Saturday at a luncheon given at the Pines Restaurant by Miss Shepard and her mother, Mrs. George E. Shepard. Looking on is Miss Marjorie Marple of Florida, who will be in the wedding party.

White tapers and ivy were used on the dining room table. Mrs. Warren Pierpont, mother of the bride, assisted by the hostess, Miss Carolyn Shepard, poured punch and served individual white iced cakes. Guests included the honoree, her mother and twelve of Miss Pierpont's former classmates at Chapel Hill High School. Last Saturday Mrs. George E. Shepard and her daughter, Carolyn, gave a luncheon honoring Miss Pierpont at The Pines Restaurant. The table was decorated with a miniature bride and groom, surrounded by asters laced with white ribbon. Miss Pierpont was presented a gift of silver by the hostesses.

EGYPTIAN VISITOR AT LIBRARY

Sobhy Grais of the Anglo-Egyptian Publishing House was a recent visitor to the University Library. He is traveling under the auspices of the United States State Department and visiting major libraries and publishing firms.

MRS. SHAMBLEY TO GRADUATE

Mrs. Ola Shambley of Chapel Hill will be one of 13 women who will be graduated from the Watts Hospital course in practical nursing this evening in a ceremony at the Hospital in Durham. This will be the fourteenth class to complete the one-year program started in 1950.

Women's Civic Club Views Color Slides

Mack Watts showed color slides of scenes and people of Carrboro at yesterday afternoon's first meeting of the Women's Civic Club for the new school year.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Lucille Tilley and Mrs. John McLaughlin. The Club will again sponsor the Well Baby Clinic this year on the first Wednesday of each month at its Club house on the Carrboro School grounds.

Mrs. Thomas Murray and Mrs. William Fyfe are securing toys for children up to the age of five to play with at the clinic. Persons who have toys they would be willing to give for this project are asked to call Mrs. Murray or Mrs. Fyfe. The Club also sponsors the Town Library in the Clubhouse which is open from 1:30 until 3 p.m. each Tuesday.

PTA Rummage Shop Needs New Location

With another school year beginning, the Carrboro PTA Rummage Shop had hoped to be operating full swing—with many bargains for thrifty shoppers. As yet, however, they have been unable to find a place to put the stock. The Carrboro Cash Store building, in which the shop operated during the summer, is no longer available.

A plea is being sent out by the PTA for available space so that the rummage shop may resume operations. Any information in this regard should be directed to Mrs. Bruce Ray or to Mrs. Claude Baker.

NEW LIBRARY GUIDE

The University City and Regional Planning Department Library has recently published a booklet showing what materials are available in that library. The booklet was prepared by Ruth L. Mace, a graduate assistant in the Department.
