Miss Anzenette Andrews Honored At Showers

Mrs. A. T. Miller, Jr., and Mrs. David F. McGowan were hostesses Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower, held at the Miller home on Old Mill Road, honoring Miss Anzenette Andrews, October bride-elect.

Green and white floral arrangements were used in the living room, and a miniature bride-doll marked the chair of the honoree. Miss Andrews received a corsage and crystal in her pattern from the hostesses.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of white shasta mums. White tapers in silver holders completed the decorations.

The hostesses served a dessert course to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. H. Raymond Andrews; Mrs. Preston McKnight, mother of the bride-groom-elect, and to 20 invited guests.

Miss Andrews was complimented earlier in the week when Miss Carla Smith and Miss Carolyn Davis entertained at a crystal and china shower at the Smith home in Westwood. Guests were all former high school classmates of the honoree.

Up Street

By MARY MacCAULTY

True story department: About 10 years ago there was a fellow living in Durham who was a very heavy smoker. One day he decided to give up smoking and save the money he ordinarily would have spent on cigarettes. When he had accumulated a considerable amount his friends were interested to know what he planned to do with the money. Seems he used it to buy a tobacco farm.

Goody department: Summer 1955 is gone, forever! It was a summer never quite fully prepared for, it seemed too short. No more experiences to be shared with others on a sandy beach or busy highway, only a private memory left. This was the summer of bermuda shorts, rock-and-roll tunes, and hurricanes.

For folks who stayed home it was a lemonade kind of summer. For those who traveled it was an exciting, your-dollar-never-went-so-fast summer. Now it is forgotten while everyone looks eagerly ahead to the seasons coming up. And poor little summer is stored away like a gay patchwork quilt in the attic of our hearts.
