Rose's Five And Ten-Cent Store Will Convert To Self-Service

Following a growing trend in ten-cent stores, Roses Five and Ten-Cent Store here will soon become a self-service establishment. Store Manager Joe Tyson said that the new system will go into effect by October 20, and may necessitate a closing for a day or two beforehand. At present there are eight of the 138 stores in the chain covering seven southeastern states that are on the self-service system.

The advantage to the new method, Mr. Tyson said, will be quicker service to the customers. "We think Chapel Hill needs this new system and the customers want it," he said. "We are very happy to be able to put in this improvement in our store." The set-up will be similar in operation to the recently-installed self-service in Huggins Hardware next door to Rose's.

One immediate change to be made will be the taking out of the center show-window. This will be replaced with an all-glass front. An extensive remodeling job will be carried out inside the store sometime in the near future after the installation of self-service. By this remodeling the store will gain about one-third more counter space, according to Mr. Tyson. The necessary additional merchandise and equipment for this operation has already been ordered, he said. Where there are now 10 cash registers located between counters all over the store, these will be taken out and three registers set up at the front of the store. All sales will be added, and tallied and sales tax included on the purchase charge in a single, quicker operation on the registers under the new operation. The inside aisle space between the counters will be closed up by pushing the counters together back-to-back since salespersons will no longer need to stand behind the counters under the new operation.

The purchaser's application will be discontinued when the new money order form is placed in use. In issuing the new from the amount requested by the purchaser will be written in the money blocks on the order, the purchaser's receipt and the post office stub, and then a rubber stamp impression will be inserted in the proper space to indicate the next higher amount in multiples of $10.

More than 100 members of the Cole clan gathered for the family's annual reunion yesterday noon at the Lystra Community House. The gathering was moved there from the Hugh Coles' because of the rain. The new vice-president is Tom Hudson of Route One, Pittsboro, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Crofts of Durham. The reunion will be held at the S. L. Hudson residence on Route One, Pittsboro, next year. Sidney Oldham of Star, a spry octogenarian and the oldest Cole on hand, treated the gathering to the solo singing of his favorite hymn at yesterday's reunion.

How The Village Cooks

By MRS. MARK HANNA

Have you noticed the spots of yellow and red beginning to show among the greens of the woods? Or maybe you've already had to get out the rake to clear away the falling leaves. And what does all this mean? Fall is here. And with the fall of the year come the eternal question of what to serve that football crowd and still have time to enjoy the game, too.

Mrs. C. O. Cathey has an answer for you in delicious "Deviled Egg Casserole." Well-known for her abilities with the stove and sauce pan, Mrs. Cathey has several recipes in the revised and enlarged "Carolina Cooking", published by the Junior Service League. The book will be presented to the members by the Cookbook Committee at the open meeting this Tuesday and will be on sale Wednesday by League members and at local stores for the same low price of $1.50 as before.

Deviled Egg Casserole

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 16 hard boiled eggs | 1 teaspoon lemon juice |
| 1 teaspoon salt | Dash black pepper |
| 1 teaspoon dry mustard | 4 cups medium cream sauce |
| 1/2 cup mayonnaise | 1/2 cup sharp cheese, grated |
| 3 tablespoons light cream | 2 cups browned, buttered bread crumbs |

Devil eggs by adding salt, mustard, mayonnaise, cream, lemon juice, and pepper to yolks that have been put through sieve. Cover bottom of baking dish with eggs; cover with cream sauce to which cheese has been added. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes until sauce bubbles up through the bread crumbs.

This is an excellent side dish to serve at buffet suppers with sliced cold ham and a greensalad. Luncheon Dish Variation: Use leftover ham ground and sprinkled over deviled egg casserole.

Main Dish Variation: Reduce eggs to eight. Use two pounds cooked shrimp, alternating layers of shrimp and deviled eggs. Cover with sauce and top with buttered bread crumbs.

Hints from Mrs. Cathey: The cream sauce may be prepared a day ahead. If you use the shrimp variation prepare it only a half a day ahead and refrigerate it immediately. If the casserole is cold when you are ready to put it in the oven be sure and let it heat up in the oven or if possible allow it to come to room temperature before cooking.

PASTORS' PARAGRAPHS

— Excerpts From Sunday Sermons —

Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church
The Rev. Vance Barron, Minister
Subject: "Christian Faith — Its Meaning For Paul"

Text: Timothy II — "For I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day."

"What is it that Paul knows? The answer to that is — It isn't what at all. — It's whom. Thus the first observation we can make about the meaning of faith for Paul is this: "The object of faith is a person — not a principle. It is 'person to person' relationship — not a relationship of mind to fact. The Christian faith is not merely a system of thought. First and always it is faith in a person. And this is the chief cornerstone which supports the system.

The second observation we can make about Paul's conception of faith is that "The Act of Faith is Trust. It is neither blind obedience nor intellectual apprehension. Faith is never merely that which one believes with the mind. It is rather an act of the total person.

Thus Christian Faith is trust — committing ourselves to God and taking the venture because we are willing to trust the God whom we
