

Kiwanians Elect Tom Rosemond

Tom Rosemond was formally elected Lieutenant Governor of the Fifth Division of the Carolinas District of Kiwanis Clubs at the annual district convention held early this week in Winston-Salem.

The former Chapel Hill Club president, a Kiwanian and civic leader for the past 19 years, won the district nomination in a caucus of the 11 clubs in this division last month. He succeeds Guy Rawls of Raleigh.

Attending the district convention with him were Chapel Hill Club President Dick Jamerson, Spike Saunders, and William M. Pugh. There were about 450 delegates at the sessions, held in the Hotel Robert E. Lee.

At Tuesday evening's Kiwanis meeting President Jamerson showed movies of last Saturday's Carolina-State football game in Raleigh.

ion members elected Bernice Ward of Chapel Hill, and as secretary, Robert O. Forrest of Hillsboro.

On motion of Collier Cobb Jr., of Chapel Hill, the group elected a seven-man executive body "to crystallize thought and present recommendations to the full Board at an early date." Elected to this board, which is to include the three regular officers, were Mr. Cobb, Z. C. Burton, Raymond Andrews, and Robert Nichols.

Symphony's Campaign All Set For Next Week

The medical affairs group of the North Carolina Symphony Society met this morning at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Christopher T. Bever, to make plans for the membership drive being conducted all next week.

Solicitors in this group are Mrs. Leon Andrews, Mrs. Thomas Barnett, Mrs. Charles Burnett, Mrs. John Fortin, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Cornelius Lansing, Mrs. James Proctor, Mrs. Harley Shands, Mrs. Isaac Taylor, Miss Helen Jane Wettach and Mrs. James Woods.

Tar Heel 4-H'ers living in the eastern part of the state will receive 1 1/2 million loblolly and shortleaf pine seedlings for planting this year.

STARTING NEW MAIL ROUTE—Shown as he started out on his first round of new mounted city mail route on which delivery was started last Saturday, is Fred Conner, dairy farmer of the Durham Road neighborhood who's been a substitute carrier on Rural Route Three. Looking on are Postmaster J. Paul Cheek (left) and Superintendent of Mails Richard Webb.

Tax Bills Sent Totalling $188,000

Tax bills totalling $188,094 were sent to Chapel Hill property owners yesterday.

The tell-tale window envelopes were sent to 1,933 persons holding real and/or personal property in Chapel Hill, or who will owe poll taxes, dog taxes, street assessments, or sewer rentals. The total billing was about $14,000 greater than the $174,000 in taxes that were billed last year. Tax Collector Mrs. Ruth Ward and Town Clerk Mrs. Mary Lovejoy completed their summer-long task of preparing the bills and sent them out early yesterday.

Town Manager Thomas D. Rose announced that about 300 who paid their taxes early in order to receive discounts will receive white-colored receipts instead of the traditional yellow bills. A penalty of one per cent per month will be added to all unpaid bills during

Fire Prevention Observance Is Planned Locally Next Week

Along with thousands of other communities throughout North America, Chapel Hill and Carrboro will observe Fire Prevention Week October 9 through 15 with a special campaign under the sponsorship of the Chapel Hill Jaycees, the Orange County Fire Insurers Exchange, Inc., and the Chapel Hill Fire Department headed by Chief J. S. Boone.

Slogan for this week—the oldest of all special weeks—is "Don't give fire a place to start." The program is being sponsored nationally by the National Fire Protection Association in cooperation with the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

way of activity and interests, Prof. Jones has served for the past 13 years with the Department of State and was at one time Chief of the Division of Public Studies, responsible for the analysis of American public attitudes toward world affairs. He participated in the Allied Mission to observe the Greek elections in 1946.

"From Casablanca to Rangoon, and from Uppsala to Aquaba and Colombo," Dr. Jones reports, "I've lived or traveled in 35 of the world's countries."

More recently he has been with the Foreign Service in the American Embassies in Karachi, Pakistan, and Amman, Jordan. In this last post he had the rare opportunity of seeing the picture from both sides of the frontier, that of the Arabs and the Israelis.

Prof. and Mrs. Jones and their daughter Evangeline are living in Glen Lennox where Mrs. Jones continues her interest in sketching painting, and clay. She is the daughter of Mrs. Henry O. Talle, wife of Congressman Talle of Iowa.

are stressing this now. And a project we now have in the preliminary stage of consideration is a clean-up, fix-up, and paint-up campaign which we might put on next spring.

Turning to the community's needs Mr. Todd said "We need more faith—that is, we all need to think more positively, I believe." In closing he said, "I also think we might well look to the Rotary motto—'Service Above Self'—If we put service above self we can do a finer job for our entire community."

Town Statistics

By way of introduction to his talk Mayor Todd cited a number of interesting statistics on his town, including the following: This year Carrboro has a $90,000 budget and a $93 tax rate, which includes $14 for debt service. The municipality's bonded indebtedness is now $50,000, which is to be paid in 1969 on the current schedule of annual payments.

SPORTS CAPERS

By CLAUDIA CANNADY

"Half the battle is already won," I remarked to my landlady, Mrs. Ernest Taylor, as we stood on her porch at number 6 Frat Row. We were enjoying the Indian Summer weather while we chatted and at the nearby "Rec," the Chapel Hill High School students were having an exuberant and highly successful pep-rally (as was later proved).

Mrs. Taylor, an avid sport fan and resident of this college town for a good many years, agreed with me immediately. She went on to tell me about the college pep-rallies, "in the good ole days," when everyone at her house would turn out and go with the crowd of students all around the long Franklin-Raleigh-Cameron and Columbia block . . . Mrs. Taylor commented about the apparent high spirits of the high school students.

Next day the word got around uptown that half the high school team was either sick or injured—but they defeated their opponents that night.

Saturday came along with the rains. My State-Carolina tickets are on my table now—and when Crowell Little called me a fair-weather friend, I almost cried—but then my great disappointment over missing the game was short lived. I was soon to hear the jovial Ray Reeves giving his interesting play-by-play and Bill Curry adding some colorful high lights . . . and the Tar Heels won. News from St. Louis was also in the winning column. The Bears of

THE NEW DODGE FOR '56

ON DISPLAY IN OUR SHOWROOM

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7

AIRCRAFT EFFECT FOR '56 DODGE

Unique high-sweep rear fender tail fins lend an aircraft-like effect to the new Dodge cars for 1956. They, with the twin-jet taillights immediately establish this car's identity. Framed with a gleaming band of chrome, the taillight area boasts a unity of design seldom achieved in automotive styling. On Custom Royal models, the taillight and back-up light are housed in slotted chrome bezels. At night, light from the taillight shines through the slots, aiding in side visibility. On the deck lid, a new crest serves as identification and is similar to the one used in the front. Reflecting the treatment given the front end, a slim "V" on V-8-equipped models is placed directly below the crest. Dual chrome exhausts, as shown, are standard on all Custom Royal V-8 models.
