

Cub Scout Reorganizing Plans Announced Here

Chapel Hill Jaycees have selected a survey of the Cub Scouts in Chapel Hill, Carrboro and White Cross both white and Negro units.

Chairmen Whid Powell and Bill Joyner have expressed appreciation to the school authorities for the assistance given in conducting the Cub Scout Packs in Chapel Hill.

Other plans for the organization of an additional Negro units in Carrboro will be completed by the end of the year. Existing or new dens within their own home neighborhood.

Plans have been previously announced by the Episcopal Church of the Holy Family in Glen Lennox to sponsor the Pack nine and already appointed Lambert to head a committee for the organization and assistants for a Cub Scout den now operating under leadership of the following: Mrs. Frances McCall, Mrs. Zabelle Norwood, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Clorene.

Dr. Bill Straughn will begin his fifth year as Cubmaster for the Presbyterian Pack 416 which will serve the northeast portion of the town. Mrs. Lawrence London, Mrs. Dee Peterson and Mrs. Robert Cadmus have dens currently operating and a fourth den in the East Rosemary neighborhood is projected as a part of this Pack which will hold its next pack meeting on the 4th Friday in the hut behind the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Charles Bream, chairman of the Catholic-sponsored Pack 830, has announced Deno Reed as the new Cubmaster for the pack which will serve the Westwood area thru Mrs. Reba Vance, McCauley Street, with Mrs. Ralph Casey and Mrs. Foster FitzSimons and will add one or two dens in the Airport Road neighborhood.

Before the fall of Corregidor fortress in May, 1942, a sailor invested $700 in cash saving in U. S. Savings Bonds, knowing that the Treasury would redeem them if lost, stolen, or destroyed. He survived over three years in prison camp, collected $700 plus interest.

THE SLIM LOOK IN SLACKS

The difference in measurements gives the slacks an entirely new slim silhouette. Knee measurements are reduced to 21", cuff measurements to 18" . . . an adjustable buckle and strap is placed at the back of the trousers for easy adjustment and low hip fit.

The authentic army Chino. Tan and Black. Waist sizes 28 to 38. Cuff measurements 29 to 34.

Stadium Sam Sees . . . Till UNC Plays As Team - 'It's Gonna' Be Rough!

Well, folks, after a week's lay-off, Stadium Sam returns for a weekly prediction from now 'til the bowl games. Sam is somewhat ag-glee over his picking percentages, as it sits on a healthy .880 average at the present time.

However, starting this week things are going to become more tough for all teams involved. Those sophomore-studded teams at the beginning of the season now have three or four games under their belts and upsets are most likely.

In the Big Four, Carolina meets the nation's number-two ranking team, Jim Tatum's Maryland Terps. Maryland holds victories over Missouri, UCLA, Baylor and Wake Forest. The Tar Heels looked good against Oklahoma, fair against N. C. State, and terrible against Georgia. It has been jokingly thrown around that the Tar Heels may not show up, and they have good reason not to. After all, nationally they are ranked behind such powers as San Jose State, North Texas Teachers College and Texas Western. Nevertheless, the Tar Heels will show when they make up their minds to play as a team, they will win one. Until that happens, it's gonna be rough. Winner MARYLAND.

Duke's undefeated Blue Devils are ranked 11th in the nation and they journey to Columbus, Ohio, to do battle against Ohio State. Sam thinks this one will be an offensive battle. The Dukes will have to hustle to stop the Buckeyes' All-American back, Hopalong Cassidy. The Buckeyes on the other hand, have given up six touchdowns in three games, so they can be scored on, and Duke will provide the toughest offense that Ohio has met. When the smoke clears, the winner will be DUKE.

Saturday night over in Raleigh the annual Wake County championship will be held between Wake Forest and N. C. State. On paper the Deacons will be favored, but you can throw away the paper on this one. Last year Wake Forest won 26-0. They will do the same again, but it will be closer. Winner-WAKE FOREST.

The country's number one team, Michigan, will stay at home and battle a conference team in Northwestern. Michigan has won three games. Northwestern has lost three. That's about the story. The Wolverines have too much. Winner-MICHIGAN.

Oklahoma, unbeaten in three games and ranked number three in the nation takes on this first conference game, Kansas. Last year the Sooners won from Kansas by a score of 65-0. Sam isn't saying it will be quite that bad, but nevertheless, Oklahoma should have little trouble in notching their 23rd triumph. Winner-OKLAHOMA.

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame battle an improved Michigan State team. Last year the Spartans met Notre Dame at South Bend and came away defeated but much respected as they dropped at 20-19 game to the Irish. Notre Dame, as usual, is loaded with talent but watch this one! It could be an upset. However, Sam has to string along with that Irish victory tradition and say—Winner: NOTRE DAME.

The Rambling Wreck from Georgia Tech is sitting in the nation's number five spot. Tech has defeated Miami, Florida, Southern Methodist and LSU so far this year. Auburn has a good South-eastern Conference team which beat Florida by two touchdowns while Tech could only defeat the same Florida squad by one TD. This game should be a thriller. It's being played in Atlanta. So Sam says—Winner GEORGIA TECH.

Wisconsin, ranked sixth, goes out to the coast to battle the Trojans of Southern Cal. USC is ranked 16th in the nation and Wisconsin should be the favorite. However, the Pacific Coast schools take their games with the Big Ten mighty seriously. Sam is going out on a limb and pick Southern Cal to upset Wisconsin. Winner — SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

TCU stays at home to battle a strong Texas A and M team. This should be a typical Southwest Conference game. For TCU it's their first big hurdle if they expect to get the Conference title. Both teams appear greatly improved over last year and it's going to be close. We have to give the edge to seventh-ranking TCU since they're playing at home. Winner—TEXAS CHRISTIAN.

The Middies from Annapolis take on Penn State in their bid to remain undefeated. Navy has beaten William and Mary, South Carolina, and Pitt. Penn State has victories over Boston U, and Virginia. They dropped their second game to Army. The Penn State Lions lack the roar they once had, so Navy will make it four wins in a row this season. Winner—NAVY.

Stadium Sam also likes UCLA over Stanford, West Virginia over William and Mary, Washington over Baylor, Rice over SMU, and Army over Syracuse.
