League To Hear Herring

Harriet Herring, a member of the present commission appointed by Governor Hodges to study ways to improve the organization of the state government, will be guest speaker at the December 14 meeting of the Women Voters to be held at 8 p. m. in the town hall.

Herring, who also served as a member of the present commission appointed by Governor Umstead, will discuss the work of the commission in their study of problems, overlapping agencies and inefficient planning and consistency in selection of directors.

Guests are welcome. League members are urged to bring their husbands and neighbors to this meeting.

BEAUTY FOR 'BEAT DUKE'
—Patsy Poythress of Chapel Hill was one of six coed beauties who rode as attendants to the "Beat Duke" queen on the queen's float in Friday afternoon's colorful 34-unit "Beat Duke" parade. The chill of the day saw the evening gowned gals protected by fur coats.

'Adopt-A-Family' Week Is Set In Empty Stocking Campaign

Today officially opened the Junior Service League Empty Stocking campaign's "adopt a family" week. Applications for assistance have come in greater numbers than last year and will near an expected total of 450 families, it was announced.

As letters requesting adoptions have gone out to 300 organizations in town there remain a balance of 150 cases which must be taken care of by individuals, neighborhoods, or other informal groups. Many families, according to Mrs. Fred Weaver, chairman of the campaign, number one or two at the most, and enable a person to gather together enough food, clothes, toys or money easily to give a joyous Christmas to a needy recipient. "Please call Mrs. Gordon B. Cleveland, 3656, a d adopt your family NOW," said Mrs. Mrs. Weaver, "or send your cash contributions made payable to the Empty Stocking Fund, care of the News Leader, or to the Junior Service League, Box 374, Chapel Hill.

In an open letter to the League, Mrs. Jane Parker, Head of the Orange County Welfare Department, expressed the meaning of the Empty Stocking Campaign from her point of view and that of her case workers.

"At Christmas time everyone needs some expression of giving and receiving and of cheer. The Empty Stocking Fund has brought this to the whole community. The warm-hearted response of those who give and those who need and receive brings something which lasts throughout the year.

"And so, as Christmas comes this year, we, in the Welfare Department, want you to know how much your caring and your hard work means to us and to all those Christmas you make joyful and happy. Good wishes to all of you for a Merry Christmas."
