

Children's Carol Programs Are Set Thursday

The children in the first six grades at the Chapel Hill Elementary School will give their annual performances of Christmas carols this Thursday.

The primary grades—first, second and third—will sing at 10:45 a. m. The upper grades—fourth, fifth and sixth—will sing at 2 p. m. As a part of the Christmas celebration this year a play—"The Princess With A Hundred Dolls"—will be presented by a group of Elementary School children.

The theme song of the play, "Ringing Bells" is an original composition by Frances Smith and Nancy Burns. Mrs. Fred McCall, who is in charge of the programs and Mrs. Joan Lamont, director of the play, are working together to integrate the music, dancing and singing. Miss Nelle Cheek, of the Elementary School faculty, will be the accompanist.

The same play will be presented at both performances but the carols will be different at the morning and afternoon programs. All parents and their friends are invited to attend either or both performances and to take part in singing familiar Christmas songs with the children as a finale.

A special feature of the upper grade program is the opening number. A brass ensemble from the Chapel Hill School band, directed by Joseph Wood, will play a chorale from the "Christmas Oratorio" by J. S. Bach. Arrangement of the song was made especially for this performance by Mr. Wood.

Children who will take part in the play, "The Princess With A Hundred Dolls" are: Laura Ranson, Rene Lacock, Judy Hogan, Gay Warren, Ceci Putnam, Julia Richardson, Martha Harrington, May Sue Falvey, Sara Jo Walker, Gail Poe, Carol Simmons, Clyde Milner, Scott Parker, Karen Jurgensen, Kay Ogburn, and Haskell Fitzsimons.

The school will be decorated with the traditional creche in the front hall, and with an exhibit of dolls which children are bringing. All the teachers have been at work on music and art committees.

Mrs. Pat Millman as teacher chairman, and Mrs. Janet Sneed, art supervisor, are heading up the decorating committee. Mrs. James Wadsworth is responsible for putting up the creche. Miss Mildred Mooneyhan, Principal of the Chapel Hill Elementary School, is acting as coordinator.

Need More Adoptions...

Stocking Fund Extended Till Friday

The Junior Service League is extending its Empty Stocking "adopt a family" week through Friday because to date of the 400 or more needy families, only 174 have been taken for adoption.

Residents are asked to meet this desperate need by calling Mrs. Gordon B. Cleveland, 3656, and choosing your family. Boxes may be taken to the Institute of Pharmacy, at Rosemary and Church Streets, any day from 1 to 5 p. m. beginning today.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bernard Boyd, the League is setting up a booth on Franklin Street in front of Andrews-Henninger store in order to collect money, gifts of clothes and toys, and non-perishable food. As there will be some "unadopted" families at the end of the drive, the League will use these donations to fill boxes for them.

Women of the Chapel Hill churches have offered their services and will man the booth each day from 9 to 5. Also, beginning today baskets will be placed in the grocery stores for greater convenience in contributing non-perishable food.

Mrs. Weaver has announced that to date contributions of $155 have been received, but if all the empty stockings are to be filled, many more cash contributions will be needed. In Hillsboro contributions of food, toys and clothes are to be taken to the new courthouse storeroom by Wednesday.

Can you resist the appeal from this person?

Mr. C. is one of several people who are helped by the welfare department to be placed in a nursing home. He was in a state hospital for the mentally sick for 15 years. He gradually became a little better and no longer needs institutional care. He has a sister, very crippled with arthritis who is also in a nursing home.

Another sister has a family of four children and cannot make a home for him. He never married and is quite alone. He feels this loneliness more than ever now that he is in a boarding home and has to take more responsibility for himself. His sister writes and visits once in a great while. He writes to his caseworker frequently and his only request is to have a letter once in a while. He never gets mail and he looks for some every day when the mail carrier comes by.

Since he has been in a boarding home he has made every effort to secure work. He is disheartened because no one will hire him. He is still not well and could not hold a job but he longs to be self-supporting. At present he depends on his sister to send him a dollar when she can spare it for spending money. His board is paid by the Welfare fund which can supply a regular allowance for haircuts, tobacco, and the simple needs which are so important, and help to maintain a feeling of self respect.

Wreck

(Continued from Page 1.)

from the scene when his car rammed one ahead of it, knocking the latter car into an oncoming vehicle. The accident occurred on the straight stretch of road, just below the entrance to Bolin Heights a half-mile north of the town limits.

Occupants of the two struck vehicles told police they saw the driver of the other car get out and run down toward Bolin Creek just after the wreck. Tex Burleson and Herman Schultz, University students who live on Bowling Green Road just across from the wreck scene, said they were just coming out of their house when they saw the accident occur. They said that a man meeting Farrington's description ran past them and up the Colonial Heights road along Morgan's Creek. "We asked him about calling police and a wrecker and he just mumbled something and went on," said Mr. Burleson.

Denied Being Culprit

The officers said that when they took Farrington to his home in Carboro a short while later he denied having been the hit-run culprit, but that witnesses at the scene positively identified him. Farrington's 1940 Chevrolet was seriously damaged on the front left side.

The 1950 Ford which Farrington's car hit was damaged both at the front and rear. It was occupied by Mrs. J. M. Shue and Mrs. Florence Elkins of Hillsboro. Mrs. Elkins sustained a head laceration in the accident.

Driver of the third car, a 1955 Chevrolet, was Cecil Jackson Newton of Durham. His car was extensively damaged on the front left side where the other car smashed it into the roadway ditch.

'Prince'

(Continued From Page 1)

According to Dr. Vine. At maturity within two years he'll probably weigh from 160 to 180 pounds and be nearly four feet high at the shoulders. "Rebel," weighing only 140 pounds, was considered a runt in comparison to show dogs of his breed.

Mrs. Jordan seemed consumed with delight as she nestled the new dog in her arms at the Vine Hospital on Thursday. The two seemed immediately taken with each other. Prof. Jordan, looking on, declared, "This is just wonderful. I don't know what anybody could have done that would have delighted us more."

Is Named Prince

The gentle, coal-black bundle of fur was named "Prince"—"a name with a future," the Jordans felt—and seemed to be faring quite well yesterday at their home on Pittsboro Street. He's not alone in his family locally, since the William Whites of Patterson Place own a dog which is brother to "Prince."

Asked about her new companion last night, Mrs. Jordan said, "I'm just overcome. You just don't know how much I love him. I haven't done a thing this weekend except play with him." And she emphasized that she wanted very much to express her appreciation to each of the persons who contributed to give her "Prince."

History Society Taps Seven On UNC Faculty

Seven faculty members of the University History Department have been initiated into Phi Alpha Theta, a national honor society in history, which has been represented on the UNC campus by the Delta Pi chapter since 1952.

They were Elisha P. Douglass, James L. Godfrey, Frank W. Klingberg, Hugh T. Lefler, Loren C. MacKinney, Richard K. Murdoch, and James W. Patton. Eleven undergraduates and 11 graduate students were also initiated.

Membership in Phi Alpha Theta is open to history faculty members, to graduate students who have successfully completed a minimum of work toward an advanced degree, and to those undergraduates with an A-B average in history and a correspondingly high average in all other courses.

Annexation

(Continued From Page 1)

tion from $16,291,000 to $22,000,000—an increase of 35 per cent. The board is scheduled to consider the over-all annexation matter tonight in connection with a request from the owners of the 30-acre Ridgefield development to be brought into the corporate municipality.

The four areas encompassed in the town manager's survey are Greenwood, Glen Lennox-Oakwood-Rogerson Drives, Ridgefield, and Country Club-Laurel Hill. No recommendation was given as to whether they should be considered for annexation as a unit or separately or in what order. Residents of the Country Club area have already sought annexation in a petition to the board.

Required Improvements

Required capital improvements for the total area are estimated to cost $280,000 and would encompass the following facilities: Oakwood, Rogerson and Greenwood sewer lines—$44,000; Glen Lennox streets—$75,000; new Greenwood-Country Club-Ridgefield sewer lines—$91,000; new fire station—$40,000; new fire truck (ladder type)—$30,000. The total bonded debt would be increased by the $280,000 from $509,000—the total as of next June 30—to $789,000.

The town's present ratio of debt to its assessed valuation is 3.1 per cent and the $280,000 additional issue would increase the ratio to 3.6 per cent—still well within the statutory limitation of eight per cent. The new area contains an estimated 2,340 persons, which would bring the town's population up to 11,840. It has 9.9 miles of streets and 6.5 miles of sewer lines. The property valuation of $5,729,164 can be broken down as follows: Greenwood—$1,066,355; Glen Lennox, $2,706,375; Oakwood Drive—$478,989; Rogerson Drive—$245,879; Ridgefield (after one year and 25 houses are constructed)—$300,000; and Country Club—$931,566.

Would Pay Own Way

Mr. Rose's presentation showed that the total proposed annexation would increase the town revenue by $62,260—from $274,951 at present to $337,213 a year after annexation.

The required increase in the budget would be almost the same as the additional revenue that would be realized, so that the annexation would pay its own way in current expenditures within a year. A considerable portion of the capital improvement expenditures that would be required would be in repayments to property owners and to reimburse the Glen Lennox management for its paved streets.

ONE MILLION SCHOLARSHIP FUND—Aubrey Lee Brooks (left) Greensboro author and attorney, stands with Gov. Luther H. Hodges who holds a copy of an agreement whereby Mr. Brooks establishes the Aubrey Lee Brooks Foundation which will enable generations of North Carolina boys and girls to attend State College in Raleigh, Women's College in Greensboro and the University at Chapel Hill.

40 New Dwelling Units Started In District During November

A total of 48 building projects were started in the Chapel Hill Zoning District during November according to a survey of permits granted by Building Inspector P. L. Burea.

Forty new dwelling units were started almost all of them in suburban areas and under contract to builder Paul Roberts. The total of projects inside Chapel Hill was listed at $226,920, the bulk of this being in the $180,000 Catholic Church project. Building permits issued were as follows:

- S. H. Hobbs, add room to residence, 311 Pittsboro Street; $2,000.
- Paul Roberts; erect six residences on Stinson and Isley Streets.
- George W. Kane Construction Company; erect Catholic Church, Gingham Road, $180,000.
- Clarence S. Cole; erect residence on Smith Level Road.
- T. H. Green; erect residence on Dogwood Drive for Daniel Okun; $28,000.
- Ellington and Sparrow; erect residence for W. S. Kyle on Cedar Street.
- Hunt Construction Company; alterations to Stephens - Shepherd Store; $2,000.
- Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mackies; erect two five-room residence at 14 Davie Circle; $8,500 each.
- Haynes Construction Company; erect residence for Lawrence W. Newman on Kings Mill Road.
- Mark Burnham; alterations to United Church, Cameron Avenue; $150.
- Daul Snyder; repairs to George Bason residence, East Franklin Street; $6,270.
- D. J. S. Hooker; alterations to residence, Lake Road.
- Paul Roberts; erect 27 residences; Forrest Heights.
- Lloyd Gardner; erect service station; Highway 15-501.
- Mark Burnham; alterations to McArthur dwelling, Oakwood Dr.
- Robert Bu.net; erect residence; Merritt Mill Road.

Walter J. Williams Passes Away On Friday

Funeral services were held yesterday for Walter J. Williams, 74, who died Friday afternoon at the home of his son, H. S. Williams of Chatham County, following a long illness.

The Rev. T. M. Linnens conducted the services from the Lystra Baptist Church of which he is the pastor. He was assisted by the Rev. T. W. Estes of Mt. Gilead Baptist Church. Burial was in the Lystra Church Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nettie Riggsbee Williams of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Harrison Hunt of Route Three, Chapel Hill; two sons, H. S. Williams of Pittsboro, Star Route and W. B. Williams of Jacksonville; two sisters, Mrs. G. A. Partin and Mrs. C. O. Riggsbee of Durham; a brother, Willie Williams of Durham; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

At the 1955 North Carolina Junior Dairy Shows, blue ribbons were awarded on 434 animals out of 1,200 shown; only 67 animals, or seven per cent, were poor enough quality to receive white ribbons.

A State College farm management specialist has predicted that North Carolina farmers will turn more away from tenure arrangement and toward cash wages in the future.

Flaming SNOW BALLS

FOR A spectacular HOLIDAY DESSERT

Vanilla ice cream covered with luscious macaroon coconut... topped with holly leaves and berries and a burning red candle.

LONG MEADOW

At Your Long Meadow Stores and Your Long Meadow Dealers

BOX of 6 INCLUDING DOILIES 1.20

Wildcats Play Graham Tuesday Defeat Pittsboro Again 50 To 32

The Chapel Hill High School Wildcats will open their conference schedule at Graham tomorrow, undefeated in their first two starts of the current season.

This Friday they'll play here against Oxford, which, along with Roxboro, is being touted as the team to watch in the District Three Conference this season.

Chapel Hill Coach Bob Culton, with a good view of how his boys stand in the first two games of the season, said today he had seven or eight players who were shaping up as good starters. "If we can iron out some early mistakes we'll have a pretty good club," said the coach.

Safety

(Continued from Page 1) ing him from his... car. Mr. Winborne was... at all. Highway Patrol... Baxter of Durham... cal patrolman of any... accident.

NOW! See And Hear The Newest Sound In Musical Quality

COLUMBIA "360" K PHONOGRAPH WITH THE FASHION IN SOUND

The 1956 model of the world's most... phonograph offers you the ultimate... sound. The '56 comes equipped with a... needle at no extra charge... completely... matic three-speed record changer... precision balanced COLUMBIA tone arm... tra high compliance cartridge... world's... Columbia Kilosphere sound system... range from 50 to over 20,000 cps... control knobs for volume, treble and bass... one diamond and one sapphire needle... unit shuts off after last record has been...

Carolina Sport Shop
151 E. Franklin St. Phone 8...

Here's A Real Christmas Surprise-Buy!

Now you can own a GENUINE HOOVER and at a price never before offered on this Deluxe All-Feature Model.

Brand New 1956 Heavy Duty HOOVER UPRIGHT MODEL

Regularly $124.95

NOW ONLY 79.95

BENNETT & BLOCKSIDG
105 E. Franklin St. Phone 6...

HOLIDAY HOUSE

YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING CENTER

Gifts For The Home!

- Carafe and Warmer Sets $2.98 to $3.98
- Hiball and Old Fashion Sets $2.95 to $6.50
- Candelabra Sets $2.98 & $3.98

... And Hundreds of other Fine Gifts For The Home.

Gifts For Her!

- Lady Buxton Billfolds $3.50
- Imported Wool Plaid Scarfs $3.95
- Lady Manhattan Shirts $3.95 to $5.95

And Many other items to please The Lady of your choice.

Gifts For Him!

- 3-Way Knit Suede Jackets $19.95
- Imported Lambswool Sweaters $9.95
- Top-Grain Cowhide Luggage $24.95 to $49.95
- Oxford Cloth Dress Shirts $3.95 to $5.00

... And a wide assortment of other handsome gifts to please the most discriminate man.

STEVENS-SHEPHERD

CHRISTMAS and NEW YEAR... Cards AT LEDBETTER - PICKARD

Phone 4611 157 E. Franklin St.