

WVoters Set Workshop On N. C. Courts

A study of the administrative problems of the North Carolina judicial system, the League of Women Voters of Chapel Hill will sponsor an important workshop on Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the Institute of Government.

Mr. Ligon will examine three special reports dealing with domestic relations and juvenile courts, and compare North Carolina with other states in these areas of court procedure. Mrs. Robert H. Wettach, Chairman of the League's judicial study group, emphasizes the timeliness of this address in supplying background information because the State Legislative Council has included among its tentative legislative programs for 1959 "the clarifying and extending of jurisdiction of the juvenile courts and the requiring of plans for custody and support of children involved in divorce proceedings."

Mr. Hall will concentrate on the problems arising out of the administration of criminal justice in North Carolina, "analyzing what he calls 'crime on the installment plan.'" in the South...

THE WOODS ARE FULL OF PROSPERITY

The rate of industrial growth in the South during the past 20 years has led the nation. The pulp and paper industry is a leader in this Southern progress.

Sixty-three primary pulp and paper mills are located in Dixie. They employ over 77,000 persons in the woods, mills and offices. Another 81,000 harvest pulpwood.

The pulp and paper industry annually contributes over one billion dollars to the South's economy at the rate of three million dollars a day. It also is giving new impetus to the region's agriculture because pulpwood has become a vitally important new cash crop to Southern farmers.

Farmers and other landowners are assured an expanding market for their trees since paper consumption is growing by leaps and bounds each year. It is predicted that 50 to 60 percent more pulpwood will be needed by 1967.

Growing trees—like growing any other crop—requires sound management. Forests that are cut properly go on producing trees generation after generation. Forests that are now non-productive can be converted into money-making areas.

PULP and PAPER DAY—April 15

Pulp and Paper Day will be celebrated throughout the South on April 15. This event will focus public attention on the economic importance to the region of the pulp and paper industry, its role in the South's modern agricultural development... and the tremendous economic opportunities more productive forests offer in the years ahead.
