On Selecting A Turkey

Star Guard Will Miss Action As Lincoln Plays Lexington

Lincoln High School of Chapel Hill tries for its second straight state AA championship tonight at Lexington. The Tigers will be playing with one of their top men out of action.

Coach Willie Bradshaw said that Guard Richard Stroud is definitely out of action after breaking a bone in his ankle in Lincoln's 20-6 triumph over Clinton here last Friday.

For the unbeaten Chapel Hillians and Dunbar of Lexington, it will be a rematch of last year's title game played here. In that one, the local team squeezed out a 7 to 6 victory for the state title. This time, on the Dunbar grid, things might be even rougher.

Executive Committee Increased

Ross Porter Is Named To County School Board

The Orange County Democratic Executive Committee, meeting last night, appointed a Hillsboro man to act as a member of the Orange County School Board. It also increased its membership, creating two new posts.

Ross Porter's nomination to the school unit will be effective until he is officially appointed by the General Assembly sometime next Spring. He succeeds Clarence Jones of Hillsboro, who resigned from his school board post recently to become a member of the Board of County Commissioners. Mr. Jones was elected in November general election.

Attorney Charles B. Hodson of Chapel Hill, incumbent president of the Young Democratic Club in the county, was named to one new executive committee seat, and Sheriff Odell Clayton was named to the other post.

Mr. Hodson was named second vice-chairman, and Mr. Clayton third Actually, it is the third straight showdown game between the two schools. In 1956, they battled to a 6-6 deadlock which left them sharing the AA crown. In 1955, Lincoln was beaten in the semifinals by Jacksonville, 33-19.

However, losing hasn't been Lincoln's bummer for three years. Should they win tonight, it will be 30 straight games without defeat. Nine of the victories have come this year.

Possible Lincoln starters include Clyde Alston and Buddy Norwood, ends; Ray Bynum and Zip Howard, tackles; Clifton Walker at guard; Braxton Foushee at center; and Charles Farrington, Albert Williams, William Perry and Percy Watson in the backfield.

vice-chairman. Mr. Hodson's appointment apparently came as recognition of the YDC. Mr. Clayton will be finance chairman. The committee is composed of county precinct chairmen.

Mr. Porter, Democratic nominee for the Board of Education, was selected in last Spring's primary to fill the unexpired school board position term. The executive committee was authorized to appoint someone to fill the vacancy until the Legislature acts.

Campus Frat Wants To Build $100,000 Home

A University fraternity last night asked the advice of the Town Board of the Town Board of Adjustment on how to build a new, $100,000 home on Pickard Lane and comply with zoning requirements for space.

While the board took no official action on the proposal by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, it was noted that the new house, which would accommodate 50 boys, far exceeds town zoning limitations on footage.

The current fraternity home, on the site at 111 Pickard Lane, now houses 18 boys. The fraternity group was advised to seek approval of neighboring property owners before broaching the subject again.

The board has the power to grant variances in the code.

White Cross Wins Top RP Honors; Mrs. Walker Is Outstanding Leader

Mrs. Henry Walker, President of Orange County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, was named Outstanding Home Demonstration Leader of the Year at the Achievement Night held in the courthouse November 20. White Cross community won top honors in the Rural Progress program.

This meeting was a combined recognition program for the 14 Home Demonstration Clubs in Orange County and the 8 Rural Progress organizations.

Slides showing outstanding projects in both organizations were used in the county progress report given by Mrs. J. Henry Cate Jr., Treasurer of Orange County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, and B. F. Spencer, Chairman of New Hope Rural Progress Organization.

St. Mary's Top Club

St. Mary's Home Demonstration Club was judged the Outstanding Home Demonstration Club in 1958. A silver pitcher was the award for this honor. Selection was based on points made during the year. St. Mary's Home Demonstration Club Publicity Book was also judged the best of those on exhibit. Second place went to Caldwell Home Demonstration Club.

White Cross Community won the gavel for having the largest representation. White Cross Home Demonstration Club won the prize for the club whose members read the greatest number of books for the second year.

Eleven Awards

Eleven awards were made to White Cross in the Rural Progress Program for improvements made in 1958 in the following projects: New Sources of Income, Home Food Supply, Forestry, Forage Crops and Pastures, Soil Test, Dairy, Poultry, Farm and Home Records, Clothing, Housing and Home Beautification, and Community.

Aycock received six awards: Feed Grains, Tobacco, Hogs, Soil and Water, Wildlife, and Mail box.

St. Mary's made the most improvement in Sheep and Schley in Beef Cattle. Caldwell was judged the community making the most progress with its available resources.

The Rural Progress Program was sponsored by The Bank of Chapel Hill and the Hillsboro Branch of the Durham Bank and Trust Company. Community prizes were donated by business firms, organizations, and individuals.

Mrs. Henry Walker of St. Mary's Home Demonstration Club has been active in Home Demonstration, 4-H, and community work. She has served as Orange County Federation President for 1957-58.

Leaders selected in the local Home Demonstration Clubs were as follows:

Mrs. Jeter Lloyd, Antioch; Mrs. R. E. Hughes, Aycock; Mrs. Wiley Perry, Bethlehem; Mrs. Pattye

Mrs. Lampley Resigns Post On Human Relations Group

Mrs. William Lampley, recently appointed to the increased membership of the Chapel Hill Human Relations Committee, has resigned her position because of ill health.

Dudley Carroll, chairman of the commission, said the group will ask the Board of Aldermen to name a successor to Mrs. Lampley "after we study the situation."

The board was increased to 11 members last month.

At its meeting last week, the committee heard a report from Mrs. James Semans, Durham, on the work of the relations council in that city. Also attending were two members of the Carrboro committee, J. R. Evans and Ralph Morgan. Mrs. Semans presented a background on work of the Durham committee.

Clifton Stone reported to the board on progress of the Negro swimming pool project in Chapel Hill and informed the board that Adolphus Clark is heading a committee on the pool. He said Mr. Clark is investigating plans for incorporation to raise funds, obtain land, etc.

The board invited Mr. Clark to attend the next December meeting to report on progress of the pool plan.

First Issuing Here Of New Use Permit Believed 'Formality'

First issuance of the town's new special use permit today seemed only a matter of formality. When it is given, a four-stage, $500,000 shopping center project will be underway.

The Board of Aldermen, meeting in a ten-minute session Monday night, referred back to the Planning Board for final action plans for the Town and Country Shopping Center, to be located on Airport Rd. Theodore Danziger is director of the project.

"It appears to be only a matter of formality now," Mr. Danziger said. And, since the plans have been in the town's governmental mill for almost six months, Mr. Danziger appeared to heave a sigh of relief.

"I told the town planners and aldermen at the start I was in no hurry, but only wanted to comply with all sections of its new special use restriction," he said.

Under the ordinance, passed last February after extensive research, the town can "superimpose" a business use permit over an existing zone and place restrictions on the use of the property. Should specifications of the special use permit be in anyway violated, the town government can revert the property back into its original zoning.

In the Town and Country case, the special use permit "superimposes" a classification similar to suburban commercial over an area zoned RA-6 residential. The reversion can be made by the council regardless of the fact that a non-conforming business building may be on the lot.

Conforming with details of the new ordinance was only part of Mr. Danziger's drawn-out appearances before the board, however. Actually, the major portion of his property—six acres—was approved for the special use permit in September. But complications arose when it was noted that about an acre and a half of his property was on the other side of the Airport Rd. Since that time, Mr. Danziger has been guiding the remainder of the property through the governmental process.

Eight-Year Program

According to Mr. Danziger, work on the first phase of the project—the "Kiddie Corral"—will begin when (and if, of course) the permit is issued. It is planned to spend two years completing construction of the corral, with three other two-year phases devoted to building the center itself. It is a 40,000 square foot project, with 12,000 to 14,000 square feet of work to be completed in each of the two years.

Designed along a Western motif, after centers on the West Coast, the center will be, according to Mr. Danziger, a "small, neighborhood center specializing in arts, crafts, and education." It will tie in with an eating establishment, The Ranch House, which Mr. Danziger owns on Airport Rd.

For a related story, see page four.

In other action Monday the council also sent to the Planning Board a request from Novelist Betty Smith for change of her property from fraternity zone to residential. The planners will meet Dec. 2, the aldermen again on Dec. 8.

Mrs. Cornwell, Wife Of Mayor, Dies Monday

Services were held at the University Baptist Church this morning for Mrs. Elizabeth Ryle Cornwell, 60, wife of Chapel Hill Mayor Oliver K. Cornwell, who died Monday at 7:30 p.m. at a convalescent home in Pinehurst after an illness of 18 years.

Mr. Cornwell is also chairman of the Department of Physical Education at the University.

Born in Moberly, Mo., Mrs. Cornwell was a graduate of Columbia University, where she received both her M.A. and A.B. degrees in Physical education. She taught school in Missouri and Ohio, and was married to Prof. Cornwell in 1924 at Hillside, Mich.

The couple moved to Chapel Hill in 1935. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include, besides her husband, two sons, Dr. Sam Cornwell, Camp Lejeune, and Robert C. Cornwell, Princeton, N. J.; a daughter, Miss Mary Cornwell of the home; and two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Roberts and Miss Frances Ryle, both of Hillsdale, Mich.

Services were held at 11 a.m. today, with the Rev. Olin Binkley officiating. Graveside services will be held in Springfield, O.

Community Council Meets

The Chapel Hill Community Council, at a meeting last week, heard a report on the successful Community Chest drive and discussed plans for a general meeting.

According to Mrs. Earl Wynn, president of the council, the group expressed pleasure at the result of the $30,220 drive and passed several resolutions commending individuals connected with the campaign.

Mrs. Wynn said that the group is looking toward the general meeting of the council organization, although no date has been set. She said a complete listing of all the organizations will be compiled.

Pickup Slated Sunday

The final pick-up for the Exchange Club's "White Elephant" sale will be held this Sunday, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Members will collect all items donated for the sale, and residents have been asked to place donated material on the sidewalk prior to the pick-up.

CIVITANS MAKE GIFT — Mrs. Don Belton, left, publicity chairman for the Empty Stocking Fund for the Chapel Hill Junior Service League, and Mrs. Lou Vine, right, chairman of the fund, hold a sample of a five-pound fruit cake presented to the organization Tuesday by the Chapel Hill Civitan Club. At the rear is the Civitan President, Jim Lane, who made the presentation. In all, the club presented some 80 pounds in five-pound cakes to the fund. The Civitans are selling the cakes.
