an excellent job for much less cost than would be required in building a new one. Families considering this question could learn a lot from visiting the Tillmans' and talking over their remodeling experiences.

ACP SIGN UP ENDS JAN. 30
 All farmers wishing to receive early approval of conservation practices offered through the ACP program should make application at the ASC Office by January 30th. Some of these practices are liming of crop land, seeding of permanent pastures, building of farm ponds, and improving forests.

LESPEDEZA PROBLEMS
 On certain farms Lespedeza has failed to make a good crop in recent years. The Experiment Station has been working on reasons why Lespedeza is not as trustworthy as it has been in the past. They have found two usual reasons for failure.

(1) In nematode infested fields Korean Lespedeza has been seriously reduced in yield. (2) The Tar Spot disease has proven even more damaging to both Korean and Rowan varieties.

A new variety called Climax is more resistant to the Tar Spot disease than either of the two other varieties.

In a recent test in Randolph County the Korean Lespedeza made 1502 pounds, the Rowan 1811 pounds, and the Climax variety 2610 pounds of hay per acre. It is recommended that where farmers are having trouble growing Lespedeza, they should try a small quantity of the Climax variety to see if this will improve their yield.

FERTILIZE PASTURES
 Now is the right time to begin applying fertilizers to permanent pastures and alfalfa. Livestock farmers in this part of the county must have an abundance of good quality pastures to compete with other sections. A liberal fertilization once a year is necessary to maintain good Ladino clover grass pastures.
 If a soil test has not been made, a safe recommendation would be to use from 400 to 700 pounds of either 0-10-20 or 0-14-14 fertilizer per acre. Alfalfa simply will not produce unless given an ample annual application of fertilizer high in phosphate and potash. From 800 to 1000 pounds of 0-10-20 or 0-9-27 fertilizer with borax per acre is recommended.
 The seeding costs of both permanent pastures and alfalfa are high, and it is foolish to seed these crops and not maintain them at a high level of production. The only sure way to do this is by applying fertilizer annually. Don't neglect this important practice.
FEEDER PIG SALES
 The Farmer's Exchange Livestock Market, in order to promote the production of large quantities of quality feeder pigs, is advertising a feeder pig sale for Thursday, February 5th. They are advertising this sale in the Eastern part of the state and should attract an ample number of buyers. The sale will be held at the Hillsboro Livestock Market and will begin at 12 o'clock noon.
RECORD BOOKS AVAILABLE
 Every farmer should keep an accurate record of farm sales and expenses. In order to do this a farm record book is of great value. We have a supply of these books at our office and would be glad to provide a copy to anyone free of charge.
 We also have a supply of "1959 Farmers' Tax Guide" for distribution.
REMODELS OLD HOUSE
 Many farm families are confronted with the question of whether to remodel their old home or to build a new one. Many factors should be considered; such as, the soundness of the old building, the ease of converting it into a livable and modern home, and the expense involved.
 The G. C. Tillman family of Route 2, Rougemont, N. C., decided to remodel their home, and have done
