53 Cafes And Markets Are Inspected By Health Officials

IN QUARTERLY SURVEY

The Union County Health Department announces the ratings of cafes, markets, and other food-handling establishments, as based upon the State Board of Health regulations. These ratings are based on 24 items of sanitation, consisting of construction, condition of equipment, food handing, and cleanliness.

Each establishment, under the su pervision of the County Health De-partment, is visited at least once each quarter by the local sanitary inspec-tors for the purpose of grading, and more frequent visits are made in order to check for compliance with State Board of Health regulations.

During this quarterly survey, 53 establishments were graded. One market and one cafe, upon failure to make the required rating of seventy per cent, were closed temporarily. Both establishments have been reinspected and have been reopened.

These ratings were made by local inspectors , L. T. Bragg and S. F. Payne, under supervision of Dr. Clem Ham, county health officer. The ratings, in percentage, are as follows:

Detailed Instructions Given Local Board For New

WILL SCHOOLS

Detailed instructions for issuing War Ration Book No. 4 have been received by the local rationing board, stressing the necessity for all applicants for the new book to show their copies of Book No. 3 at the time they apply for new books.

Under present plans, a statement from L. W. Driscoll, District Director of the Office of Price Administration, said registration for the new books will be held over the United States between October 20 and 31, al-though local boards will fix exact dates and time to fit local conditions in each community.

Registration for and issuance new books will be held at schools by the teachers and students. In most instances families having children in the schools will not even have to appear personally, and certain designat-ed days will be announced for the registration of families who do not have children in school.

A statement from OPA district headquarters gave this general picture of the registration proceeding: 1. Applicants will first show at the registration sites copies of Book No. Charlotte Observer, was chosen as the state chairman of the 1943 Christmas 3 already issued to them or to members of their families and will receive an application form with space enough Committee of this organization. State's Cotton Crop Declines

Official Estimate For This Year Is Now Placed At 660,000 Bales

WEATHER, WEEVIL HURT

North Carolina's cotton crop now is expected to produce 660,000 bales this year, compared with 727,000 bales last year and a 10-year average of 606,000 bales, Henry G. Brown, crop reporter for the State Department of Agriculture, said Saturday.

Quoting prospects as of October 1 Brown said that the nation as a whole would probably produce 11,478,000 pales, a reduction of about 201,000 ales from last year.

Brown said that indications now point to a yield of about 69 pounds of lint cotton per acre in this state, 22 pounds less than was anticipated on September 1 and 43 pounds less than the 412 pound yield recorded
