Red Cross Roll Call Inaugurated Today In Lincoln County

F. H. Chamberlain, Jr., to Direct Drive for 250 Members in County

The annual Red Cross roll call, which opened in Lincoln county today will continue through Thanksgiving Day. Lincoln county's goal for 1936 is 250 members and F. H. Chamberlain, Jr., who is again chairman of the roll call drive, has expressed confidence that the goal will be reached. In 1934 Lincoln county had 187 members and for 1935 the number was increased to 198.

Mr. Chamberlain has announced that an effort will be made to see every person in the town and county at some time during the drive and secure a membership. Citizens who desire to become members can greatly aid the work, however, by leaving their dues with the chairman, or some member of the committee.

From July 1, 1934 to July 30, 1935 some of the major projects carried on by the American Red Cross in North Carolina were: 19 Chapters produced by Red Cross volunteers, 10,663 garments; 1311 ex-service and service men or families were assisted; 2848 first aid certificates were issued; 1858 new life saving members were enrolled; Red Cross public health nurses made 8,026 visits; 738 home hygiene certificates were issued; 1843 volunteers were on active duty.

For the same period of time the national Red Cross took part in 160 disaster operations; aided 615,000 disaster sufferers; provided 1,672,404 garments; assisted 59,756 ex-service men or families in hospitals and regional offices; assisted 278,915 ex-service men or families; and listed 1,156,003 visits made by public health nurses.

Legal Murder of Incurables Is Being Sought in England

TRAIN ROBBERS SEIZE $40,000

Garrettsville, O., Nov. 9.—A desperate gang of five machine-gun robbers, firing shots and shouting threats, raided an Erie railroad passenger and mail train today, held at bay a dozen startled spectators, and escaped with mail pouches which officials said probably contained at least $40,000.

The gang waited until the train, bound from Cleveland to Pittsburgh, ground to a regular stop at the Garrettsville station. Then one of them held up Earl Davis, a news dealer, who was waiting on the platform.

"At least four of them had machine guns," Davis said. "One of them fired a shot into the mail car and ordered the three clerks to come outside.

"A couple of the other robbers at the same time were holding up everyone on the station platform, and made them stand in a line.

"Another robber, with gun in hand, forced Engineer Charles Shull and Fireman P. O. Leuschner out of the locomotive cab."

Selection of Negro Lawyer For State WPA Job Causes Great Deal of Speculation

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Appointment of Conrad Pearson, prominent negro attorney of Durham, as consultant in the WPA was discussed a great deal here today by Raleigh people who recall that he led the proposal to register a negro student in the pharmacy school of the University of North Carolina.

The Durham attorney, one of the most intellectual young men of his race in the country, is also well identified with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which has figured a great deal in national politics in recent years. The Democrats appear to have been the beneficiaries of those activities in the larger number of enterprises. Lawyer Pearson who wields a wicked pen and strafes his white neighbors no little, has appeared in numerous North Carolina cases involving the rights of negroes in the exercise of

'PAY AS YOU GO' POLICY IS URGED BY GOV. LANDON

Common-Sense Administration Advocated by Possible G. O. P. Nominee

Cleveland, Nov. 9.—Gov. Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, urged a "pay-as-you-go" policy for government here tonight and called for a "sound common sense administration."

Governor Landon said before leaving Kansas to address the Ohio Chamber of Commerce that his trip had no political significance. Although he made no reference to next year's presidential election his address tonight was sprinkled with generalizations on government.

He emphasized that the need was not for "more laws, or more programs, or more experimentation, but for sound common sense administration."

In recommending that the cost of government, especially the large relief expenditures, be put on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, Landon said that "the errors of an unwise financial policy have always been fatal to every government in the history of civilization."

Faced With Facts "It is not my place here," he said, "to discuss the weakness or strength of new policies in government. I shall not attempt to characterize them as successes or failures, or as revolutionary or evolutionary. For better or for worse such laws are here.

"We are faced with a condition of fact, not of speculative theory. So, the major task ahead in the main is not more laws or more programs or more experimentation, but sound common sense administration."

Governor Landon said, "We must build against a return of what we have been through these last few years."

"We must build," he said, "on the realization that this economic situation did not come upon us suddenly, nor will we get out of it overnight. But, as I said before, while the errors of other administrative policies may not of themselves be fatal, the errors of an unsound fiscal policy have always been ruinous to every government in the history of civilization."

HOLDING COMPANY STATUTE INVALID

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—The 1935 holding company act—designed to give the government power for a sweeping reorganization of the utility industry—today was held to be invalid "in its entirety."

Federal District Judge William C. Coleman ruled that that effect and in those words in instructing the trustees of the American States Public Service company to treat the act as "invalid and of no effect."

Announcement in New York that an appeal would be taken apparently feuded the case towards the Supreme court of the United States.

Judge Coleman took the position that Congress "flagrantly exceeded its lawful power" under the constitution in enacting the measures by which elimination of most of the holding companies in the nation's vast utilities network was sought.

Assailing the new law on four main grounds, he described it as "grossly arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious" and of such nature that it was impossible to separate from the invalid sections and put into effect parts of the act, "if any, as otherwise might be valid."

Oral Blows Struck at Session Of Commerce Body in Kansas City

Kansas City, Nov. 9.—Sharp oral blows flew back and forth here today over the Roosevelt new deal program in general and its agricultural phase in particular at the southwestern divisional session of the United States chamber of commerce.

The meeting was turned swiftly into a governmental diagnostic clinic as staunch defenders and bitter assailants alternated in expressing frank opinions.

W. L. Clayton, Houston, Tex., cotton broker, excoriated "the present policy of price rising through government sabotage of production." He insisted it "is a sure way to make unemployment the permanent problem that some seem to fear it may become."

Farrell Back AAA Dr. F. D. Farrell, president of Kansas State college, emphasized the benefits derived from the AAA, asserting "farm prices are much better and for this the AAA must be given its share of credit as well as the weather."

On the other hand, Dr. A. B. Cox, chief of the bureau of business research at the University of Texas, scored a policy of reducing acreage to raise prices as in violation of "every principle of sound economics" "Alphabetical programs with high sounding names which were created to make work may be good headlines," he said, "but the tributes that trickle down to the body of tenant farmers and farm village laborers have been pitiful indeed."

Business Is Warned The Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, vice president of Georgetown university at Washington, D. C., said business has been offered its opportunity by the President to show what it can do on its own hook.

Then he warned: "If you fumble, he can fairly and legitimately go before the country 12 months hence with no hot potato in his hand, irrespective of how many Mr. Wallace (Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture) is holding."

Dr. Isador Loeb, dean of the school of business and public administration at Washington university, St. Louis, was alarmed by the soaring of the national debt.

It has, he said, "reached such proportions that a continuation of this policy will impair national debt. Taxes are high and probably will be higher.

"Neither political party will abandon certain features of the new deal program which involves large expenditures."

Thieves Lug Safe Away For Naught

In the safe were $200 in cash and many valuable papers. None of it was missing when a safe expert opened the door after its combination dial had been damaged.

11 MILLION BALE COTTON CROP IS LATEST FORECAST

Price Goes Up Dollar a Bale On Report Issued By Government

Washington, Nov. 9.—A cotton crop of 11,141,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight this year was reported today by the department of agriculture as indicated from conditions November 1.

Production of 11,464,000 bales was indicated a month ago. Last year's crop was 9,636,000 bales; the 1933 crop, 13,047,000 bales.

The official crop figures were considerably below average expectations and their publication was followed by a sharp advance in price.

Foreign and domestic trade interests were credited with buying on the advance which carried December up to 11.33 and May to 11.20, or about 26 to 27 points above the low prices of the morning.

The market at mid-day was quiet but steady, within a point or two of the best showing net advances of 19 to 20 points. The government report, placing the indicated crop of 11,141,000 bales was 371,000 bales below the average of recent private estimates and showed a reduction of 32,000 from the indication of last month.

Ginnings from this year's crop prior to November 1 were reported by the census bureau to have totaled 7,749,635 running bales, counting round as half bales and exclusive of linters. Ginnings to that date a year ago were 7,917,671 bales, two years ago 10,355,031.

Spears Gets Seat Vacated By Devin In Superior Court

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Governor Ehringhaus today announced the appointment of Marshall T. Spears of Durham as resident superior court judge of the tenth judicial district.

Judge Spears will succeed Judge W. A. Devin of Oxford, who last week was elevated by gubernatorial appointment to the supreme court to succeed the late Associate Justice W. J. Brogden.

The governor said he had given "most careful and thoughtful consideration to the many recommendations and suggestions that had come to him and the qualifications and claims of each of the worthy candidates suggested."

The chief executive pointed out that two-thirds of the lawyers in the entire district reside in Durham, and other factors which made him feel Durham should have the judgeship.
