Finals to Be Held Friday Night in Memorial Hall at Chapel Hill

Four young Lincolnton debaters, aspirants for the Aycock Memorial Cup, left this morning for Chapel Hill to take part in the contest which is to decide the winner of the cup. The local debaters are Hal Hoyle, Jr., and James Porter, affirmatives, and Miss Virginia Stroupe and Bruce Jenkins, negatives. The query for this year's contest is "Resolved, That the Several States Should Provide for the Socialization of Medicine."

Mrs. Hal Hoyle, Miss Carrie Roseman and S. W. Cashion accompanied the young people to Chapel Hill.

The Lincolnton debaters won the right to enter the Chapel Hill finals by virtue of victories in the triangular contests held on March 27. The local affirmative team defeated Morganton's negative team at Shelby and the Lincolnton negative team defeated Shelby at Morganton.

The first general meeting of the debaters will be held in Memorial Hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock when drawings for sections and pairs in the first preliminary will be held. Professor George M. McKie will preside.

The first preliminary will start at 7 o'clock this evening and the second preliminary will be held at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. The final debate for the Aycock Cup will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall. President Frank P. Graham will preside and Dean R. B. House will present the cup to the winning team.

At 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in Memorial Hall, the University band, under the direction of Earl A. Sloucum, will give a concert, honoring the visitors.

The high school debating union was organized in 1912-13 by the Dialectic and Philanthropic literary societies of the University, at the suggestion of Charles E. McIntosh, now director of the national youth administration for North Carolina.

Since the inauguration of these annual debates, the Aycock cup has been won by the following high schools:

Pleasant Garden, 1913; Winston-Salem, 1914; Wilson, 1915; Graham, 1916; Waynesville, 1917; Wilson, 1918; Durham, 1919; Asheville, 1920; Durham, 1921; Durham, 1922; Elizabeth City, 1923; Wilson, 1924; Wilson, 1925; Winston-Salem, 1926; Greensboro, 1927; Washington Collegiate Institute, 1928; Roanoke Rapids, 1929; Goldsboro, 1930; Goldsboro, 1931; Curry, 1932; Broughton, 1933; Thomasville, 1934; and Goldsboro, 1935.

Much enthusiasm over terracing is being shown in Guilford county, as growers see the results obtained. There are now enough terraces staked in that county to keep two outfits busy for over two months.

The conviction is gradually spreading that labor saving machinery means permanent unemployment or shorter working hours.

REV. BOB JONES TO SPEAK HERE

The Rev. Bob Jones, D. D., of Cleveland, Tenn., will speak at the First Methodist church Friday night at 8 o'clock on the subject, "Where Are We Headed?" or the "Communist Conspiracy."

Of the speaker Billy Sunday once said, "Bob Jones has the wit of Sam Small and the spiritual fervency of Dwight L. Moody."

Dr. Jones is a native of Alabama. He was licensed to preach at the age of fifteen and has held evangelistic meetings in practically every state in the Union and a number of foreign lands. He is founder and president of the Bob Jones College in Cleveland, Tenn., and is editor and publisher of "The Fellowship News," a national religious weekly. He also contributes weekly articles "Comments on Here and Hereafter," to a large number of American newspapers.

In Budget Wardrobe

CHICAGO... Here is another change for that budget wardrobe, a tailored white non-crushable linen crash suit, with which is worn a marine blue scarf and white accessories. It's quite inexpensive. This model is shown in the Cotton Carnival at the Merchandise Mart here.

Tree Climbing Truck

SEATTLE... Here's one of those things that can't happen, but do. It is a tree-climbing truck, achieved by racing wildly down a busy street, narrowly missing pedestrians and automobiles, plunging over a 50 foot embankment... then climbing the tree, without injury to any one.

BLANKS MAILED FOR SALE OF COTTON IN ESCROW FOR LOANS

Farmers Who Wish to Sell Bales Held Under U. S. Loans May Do So

Washington, April 14.—Commodity Corporation officials said today application forms for farmers who wish to sell cotton held under 12-cent loans are in the mails and movement of 1,000,000 bales to market should begin tomorrow or Thursday.

Approximately 4,500,000 bales from the 1934 crop are held under 12 cent loans. The corporation recently announced a plan for release of 1,000,000 bales of this amount.

The applications will be available at the RFC loan agencies or at the county agents' offices, officials said, and the cotton will be released under a policy of "first come, first served."

After farmers have applied for release of 1,000,000 bales, the release automatically will be stopped.

To obtain release of the cotton, producers must pay a price equal to a quarter of a cent a pound less than the average spot price of cotton, but not less than 11.25 cents a pound. The Commodity Credit Corporation will assume the carrying charges on the cotton which has been in storage for more than a year, and the loss incurred by permitting the producers to regain the cotton at less than the market price. It was said a large amount of the loan cotton is of high quality in both grade and staple and that the producers should be able to sell it for considerably more than 11.25 cents a pound.

Under the CCC regulations, the corporation will continue to pay storage charges for 10 days after the applications for withdrawal have been filed. However, producers must pay storage, freight and compression charges on cotton which has been reconcentrated from the original point of storage and must be moved again.

ALL G.O.P. ROADS WILL LEAD INTO CLEVELAND SOON

Party to Meet in Same Building Which Saw Coolidge Nominated in 1924

Cleveland, April 15.—The Republican party will launch its attack upon the "new deal" from Ohio's greatest hall June 9.

In choosing Cleveland for what may be the most colorful G. O. P. convention in years, the party is expected to meet in the same building which saw Calvin Coolidge nominated—1,065 to 44, on the first ballot—in 1924.

But this year's assemblage is expected to be considerably more interesting—some leaders predict it may reach even the boisterous stage—that that 12 years ago.

An enlarged hall will greet the 1936 delegates. Its main auditorium and adjoining music hall, divided by a vast open stage, will seat 14,200 persons. Additional thousands may be accommodated in 15 other halls beneath the roof of the Italian renaissance structure, all of which are to be connected by an augmented public address system.

The stage, measuring 110 feet wide and 53 feet deep, may be occupied by 300 persons. A speaker's ramp will extend onto the floor of the arena, flanked by many press tables.

Hall Costs $9,000,000

The hall proper cost $9,000,000. An adjoining underground exhibition hall, representing an additional expenditure of $2,000,000, will be available for parking purposes.

In 1928 one of the crucial battles in the pre-convention campaign was fought in Ohio with Col. Carmi A. Thompson, of Cleveland aligned with the then secretary of commerce against a "favorite son," Senator Frank B. Willis. In the background, directing the primary and pre-convention campaign from his position in the department of commerce, was another Ohioan, Walter F. Brown of Toledo, who subsequently became postmaster general.

Five major party conventions have been held in Ohio. Three of these were staged in Cincinnati—the Democratic convention in 1856, the Republican convention of 1876 and the Democratic convention of 1880. Columbus was the site of the Liberal Republican convention of 1872. The last was the 1924 convention here.

Ohio in the past century has given the country six Presidents: William H. Harrison, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, William McKinley (two terms), William Howard Taft and Warren G. Harding.

Three Ohio nominees were defeated: Harrison, in 1836; Taft, in 1912, when a split occurred in the Republican party, and James M. Cox, in 1920, when as Democratic nominee he was defeated by a fellow Ohioan, Harding.

GRISSOM SAYS HE CAN WIN OVER DR. McDONALD

Thinks He Can Beat Any of The Other Three Democratic Candidates

Raleigh, April 15.—Gilliam Grissom, the Republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina, expects to be the next Governor of North Carolina—and especially if the Democrats nominate Dr. Ralph W. McDonald as their candidate, he said here today, although he believes he can defeat any candidate the Democrats may nominate.

"I am confident I can win over any one of the four Democratic candidates for gubernatorial nomination, so that it makes no difference to me which one of the four is nominated," Grissom said. "And while I have said I was confident I would be elected if Dr. McDonald should be the Democratic nominee, I am equally confident I could defeat Clyde R. Hoey, A. H. Graham or John A. McRae.

"For while Dr. McDonald may be considered ultra-radical by some members of his party, there are other Democrats who regard Mr. Hoey as being ultra-conservative. Mr. Graham seems to be the middle-of-the-road candidate from what I hear, although I have little opportunity to talk with those supporting him to learn of their attitude. I likewise know very little of Mr. McRae, but do not think I would have much difficulty in defeating him, should he be the Democratic nominee."

If Grissom should be elected Governor in the November election, he would be the first Republican Governor elected in North Carolina in 40 years. Many of the Republican leaders of the state are as confident as Grissom that he will be elected Governor this fall, pointing out that since Grissom is not as radical and extreme in his views, specially with regard to taxation, as is McDonald, that he would undoubtedly get the votes of enough conservative Democrats to assure his election, should McDonald be nominated. On the other hand, if either Hoey or Graham should be nominated, the Republican leaders believe that a very large number of the McDonald Democrats would vote for Grissom rather than for the Democratic nominee, since in many respects the platform of Grissom and McDonald are almost identical, in that both are caustic critics of past Democratic administrations, both oppose the sales tax and favor larger appropriations for schools, old age pensions, and so forth.

PLAN TO MAKE STATE FARM CENSUS MORE COMPLETE

Over Quarter of Million Farmers Co-operated in Census Last Year

Raleigh, April 15.—In order that the State farm census, made each year by the State Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Crop Reporting Service may be more of a help than ever before to the farmers of the State, an effort is now being made to perfect this census and make it more complete than ever before, Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham said. Accordingly, letters are now being sent out to some 75,000 farmers, most of whom failed to report their farm census figures last year, urging them to report their figures this year and calling attention to the benefits of having a census that is 100 per cent correct.

Last year 250,267 farmers co-operated in the census and reported their farm planting figures at the time they gave in their taxes, leaving between 50,000 and 75,000 who either failed to report their census data or who failed to make a complete report. The names of these 50,000 or more farmers have since been obtained by the crop reporting service and during the past few days Frank Parker, State statistician, has (Continued on back page)

BONUS PAYMENTS AROUND JUNE 15

Washington, April 14.—Secretary Morgenthau told veteran organizations Tuesday the treasury hoped to have checks and bonds for paying the soldiers' bonus ready for mailing to 2,000,000 veterans by June 15.

Representatives of the various veterans' organizations conferred at the treasury with Morgenthau, Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, and Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of the Veterans' Bureau.

The conference was for the purpose of explaining to the various organizations the status of plans for making bonus payments.

Morgenthau said the organization representatives offered their cooperation in effecting as speedy payments as possible, and pledged their aid in identifying beneficiaries.

Hines said approximately 2,700,000 applications for bonus payments had been received at his bureau, but all claims had not been verified.

Organizations participating in the conference, included the Disabled Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.
