Be sure to report at this office any and every failure to receive the DAILY WORKMAN.

This has been a famous year for the burning of horse flesh in some of the large cities of the country—48 having perished in a New York city fire yesterday morning.

We would call special attention to the advertisement of the Swift Specifico remedies, which appears in this paper, and the more so because we hear recently of a remarkable cure which the medicine has wrought in one of the adjoining counties.

People were restless under the intense heat last night, but towards morning cool breezes sprang up, and the same people rose up and—you just ought to have seen them eat breakfast! You would not have thought they were the same people.

We met several members of the press last night at the depot. They were returning from the Press Convention which was held at Hendersonville. We saw Messrs. Thad Manning, of the Gold Leaf, Whitaker, of the Recorder and Lindsay, of the News and Farm.

West's Pleasure Excursion to Asheville will only cost you $4.00 for the round trip. It will occur on the 24th day of August, and you can lie over 40 hours in Asheville, which will give you time to see many interesting objects in that locality.

Vol. 5. GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1887. No. 49.

The Teachers' Institute is moving on very handsomely in Bogart Hall. We much regret the utter impossibility of our personal attendance.

In the Presbyterian church tonight the S. School Teachers' meeting will be held at 7 1/2, and the S. School Singing Practice at 8 1/2 o'clock.

People who read of the volcanic eruptions and frequent earthquake shocks in the East will find a most faithful fulfillment of a prediction we published last year from the Siam Advertiser, a weekly paper of Bangkok, dated in June, 1886.

We saw a wagon passing along the street yesterday, while the sun shone broiling hot, in which sat a negro man and his wife with a child of about six months old entirely bare-headed.

THE REED AND GOSLEN TROUBLE.—The matters between Messrs. J. W. Reed and J. W. Goslen, of Winston, are the subject of a three column reply of the latter in the Twin-City Daily of Saturday last, and while we have no interest at all in the affair, as it now appears Mr. Reed is at a serious disadvantage, the Goslen letter being a document bristling with points that are effective and seemingly well grounded in documentary proof.

TWO ANCIENT BOOKS.—The editor owns two ancient books whose history runs back considerably, and which are objects of no little interest. The first is a work on Logick by Dr. Isaac Watts. The title page in full is as follows: "Logick; or, the Right use of Reason in the Enquiry after Truth. With a variety of rules to guard against Error in the Affairs of Religion and Human Life, as well as in the Sciences. By Isaac Watts, D. D. The Fourteenth Edition. London: Printed for J. Buckland and T. Longman, in Paternoster-Row; E. and C. Dilly, in the Poultry; and T. Field, in Leadenhall St. MDCCCLXVII (1768)." The License to print is given in the style of those days by authority of the King, George the 2nd, dated March 21, 1758, and signed "W. Pitt."

On the inside of the back the owner's name—the grandfather of the present writer—appears in a bold hand: "Brett Randolph, . . . Oxford, [England] Oct. 19, 1777." The book is in a fair state of preservation, with not a single leaf out of place, nor is there a blot on a single page. As a matter of course the long s, like our present f, is used, as this was the style then and was continued until after the beginning of this century.

The second is a blank book used for writing exercises in Latin, Logick and Astronomy, and must have been used at Oxford University at the date named in the Logick—1777. These old books have passed through many a scene, have crossed the Atlantic, and have survived millions of the race who had their birth since the books came from the hand of the binder.

The hammer and the saw Fell out and went to law. But everybody wondered. At the terrible clamor And dust that was raised By the saw and the hammer.

Eat little and sleep soundly.
