

THE DAILY WORKMAN.

J. S. MICHAUX, Local Editor

A paper for all people, but especially to meet the desire which many are known to entertain for a non-political sheet, the WORKMAN will strive to go into every house, leaving to other papers the science of politics, giving the news in brief and holding itself responsible to the moral sense of the community for its utterances.

THE MANUFACTURING TOWNS.—

We intimated yesterday that we would have something to say at another time on the subject of manufactures in their relation to the welfare of Greensboro. One of the most perplexing problems for our people is, what is to become of the growing children of our working people, to say nothing of any others. Without regular employment it will be impossible to rear up a parcel of boys in sober, industrious, useful habits, and in the absence of such habits demoralization must ensue, and those who would be useful, virtuous and creditable, become what is known all over the world as the dangerous classes. Dangerous to society, dangerous to their parents, dangerous to themselves, always and everywhere dangerous. These manufacturing establishments maintain in decency and good credit a miscellaneous population, and though the wages are not large, they answer the purpose, and to those who are frugal and economical they bring not only a support, but a small margin over, which is always sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. But much more than this is done by those who are exceptionally skilful and industrious, while a number are promoted to higher positions in other places.

One of the noteworthy advantages which a young man finds in these manufacturing establishments is the necessary system which the work requires and the habits of order enforced. Such discipline alone is of great value, and has made its mark on many who are now the most successful business men. It is quite clear to the observing mind that the farming and mercantile interests of such a country as we have in North Carolina can only prosper in the presence of manufacturing establishments which turn out products which go to other parts and bring money in return. This money is used to maintain the farming and mercantile interests, and to furnish a circulating medium to the population. By means of these manufacturing establishments there is a degree of prosperity in the market afforded for the various products which go to sustain life. These facts are so very clear that they ought to be fully accepted by the people and acted upon at once. Without these manufacturing establishments of some sort Greensboro may expect to have a regular and endless crop of worthless boys and turbulent young men on her streets, and her criminal docket supplied with homemade criminals, and far better would it be for the city to vote one hundred thousand dollars, without interest for ten years, to build factories of one sort and another to give employment to those who would otherwise be idle. But while this is true, there need be no such expenditure. Cotton mills will pay a good dividend to the investor and afford the needed employment to the idle besides, and this being manifestly so, our capitalists are far out of the way if they do not encourage the things which are so necessary. A cotton mill, in the hands of competent managers, is no experiment, but one of the most likely things to bring a profit to the owners.

—News came through friend Robert Blaylock this morning of the death of John M. Brittain, of this county, which occurred at his home last evening. Deceased was married last Thursday to his second wife, Mrs. Ledbetter, and was taken at once with a trouble in his head—paralysis or congestion—which grew rapidly worse until he died, during which time he was not conscious. Mr. Brittain was a son of the late Sam. Brittain, and was about 60 years old.

—The tobacco crop on the Connecticut river was in superb condition, three weeks ago, and gave promise of an abundant yield, but since the late rains much of it has been destroyed; especially the good leaf tobacco.

A NEWSY LETTER.

SUMMERFIELD, N. C., }
September 6, 1887.

EDITORS: Farmers have plowed more land for wheat in this vicinity than ever before. The land is well adapted to the growth of wheat. The last meeting of the Farmers' club spent the whole session (last Saturday) in discussing the wheat question, as to seed, soil, sowing, saving, selling, smutting, &c.

A steam flouring mill is needed and desired at this place. Who will bring it?

The High School is in session under the same management, except that Miss Griffith, of Kerneraville, and late a student of music in Salem Female Seminary, has in charge the Music department as successor to Miss Winchester, lately married to Mr. W. E. Benbow, of Oak Ridge.

The Rev. T. J. Ogburn and family have just returned from their summer vacation to their home, which they are inclosing with a neat fence of palings.

There is being quite an interest taken in the proposed Sunday-school excursion to Pilot Mountain, by people here who wish to go. The foundation for the new Methodist church building is laid and work thereon progressing.

Dogwood, hickory and persimmon wood is brought in to the Shuttleblock and spoke factory of W. T. Anderson & Co.

A Backeye who learned his trade in New York city and subsequently worked at it in the palmiest days of Thomasville's shoe factories, has set up a shoe shop in this place, and so far is overrun with work.

OBSERVER.

The very first recognition the press of Winston gets for its heroic labors to bring about an era of prosperity is a combination by some of our citizens to run rival papers to the detriment of existing ones.

A special car came up this morning from Greensboro, bringing W. B. Rider, master of trains; J. S. Potts, assistant general freight agent; W. H. Green, general superintendent, and F. W. Gentry, all of the Richmond & Danville railroad Company.

We were informed this morning that a party of 75 men collected in town last night for the purpose of lynching Ulysses Walker, who is charged with the murder of Frank Moore, but did not make any effort in that direction for reasons best known to themselves. We also learned that quite a number of negroes were congregated around the jail nearly all night for the purpose of protecting Walker in case there was any attempt made to lynch him.—Twin-City Daily, 7th.

—If you are suffering from Malaria in any form, ask any druggist who has sold Chamberlain's Antidote what he knows of the medicine. Ignorance in regard to its wonderful power over all malarious diseases, is the only possible reason why it is not in universal use, because it never fails to cure, never injures the system, and strikes directly at the cause of suffering. Sold by druggists.

THE STUFF THAT MEN ARE MADE OF.—I know a young man trying, under difficulties, to get a medical education. When the lectures were over he got a male and made a cotton crop, giving late hours to the study of his profession. A call to preach should inspire a man with as much energy. It may be a longer and harder way; but there will be satisfaction in feeling, "I was chargeable to none of you." The finest men our church has been blessed with have not received any help from her pecuniarily, and I confess when I see in the papers calls for aid for young men while at college, it pains me for them. If the church undertakes their education, it should be managed more delicately. Their self respect should not be blunted. A minister of God should be a perfectly developed man.—W. in New Orleans Advocate.

SCARLET FEVER.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is unequalled in the treatment of scarlet Fever. Used as a gargle it prevents the throat from becoming diphtheritic, allays the inflammation and subdues the pain. Used to sponge the body it allays the itching inflammation of the skin and destroys infection.

Exposed in the sick-room it will prevent the spread of contagion and keep the atmosphere wholesome.

HOW HE ANCHORED HIS HOUSE.

—A Mr. Cooper of Columbia has been going to Newport News, in Tyrrell county, every summer to fish. This year he took his family with him, built a dwelling, stables, etc., and was very comfortably fixed till the storm of August 20th. The tide rose and carried off all his buildings except his dwelling, and water stood in that about two feet deep. He and his family were all in the house, momentarily expecting to be floated off. One of his cows sailed by the door, Cooper seized her by the tail and dragged her in and the balance of the stock followed. Cows, hogs, sheep and chickens all took refuge in the bedroom, and their combined weight (especially the chickens) saved the house from a watery grave.—Elizabeth City Fallop.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley Patterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 78 years old and have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years, could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all diseases and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c at Hunter & Michaux's Drug Store.

BEST FAMILY MEDICINE NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT, and, by being kept ready for immediate use, will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

"My Only Family Medicine."

"I have been a user of Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my Family Medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. I find the Regulator very safe, harmless and reliable as a Family Medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and found it to act like a charm. I believe if it was used in time it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. J. M. ROLLINS, pastor M. E. church, South Fairfield, Va., to J. H. ZEHLIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa., proprietors of Simmons Liver Regulator.
