In as much as you have done it to one of these the least of my brethren you have done it unto me.

THOSE EXCURSIONISTS.—That was an exceedingly quiet and orderly crowd of people who came down from Mount Airy to the place on the came in unawares, one or two are known to have asked the way to the bar room while they were here, and even they were not seen to be disguised with liquor. One of our retail merchants struck two or three droll cases. One of them wanted to know if there wasn't a Mr. Racket who kept a store here. Another asked the price of candy—said he had heard that splendid candy could be bought here at two cents a pound. Well, if that fellow bought candy here for 2 cents a pound, and the fact could be made known through Stokes, Forsyth and Surry, the next excursion train from up that way would be loaded down with candy buyers. Every man with his sweet heart.
