INTELLIGENCE.

new railroad is fast at reaching the Dan at Madison. -Sam Small is expected in Charlotte November 5th, to preach. -We learn from Webster's Weekly that the Daily Post, of Reidsville, has been discontinued. -An old negro, claiming to be 120 years of age, died at Greenville, S. C., on Thursday. -Mrs. W. M. Brewer, of Mount Airy, is visiting her brother, Mr. Jas. W. Albright. -Capt. Alley went down to Hillsboro this morning with the appliances for rigging up any crooked ass found in the telegraph line. -Dockery, Kitchen and Devereux in the western part of the State, are having lively times, with an occasional row, according to the papers. -Mr. G. H. Makepeace, of Franklinville, and his son, C. R. Makepeace, of Providence, R. L., were here to day; also Mr. J. J. Glass, of Cedar Falls. -Mrs. Henrietta Gunn, of Winston, who spent yesterday here, went down to Ralldville this morning on a visit to friends at that place. -Florida oranges have already come into the Wilmington market, but the Star says they are not from the infested districts, and are sweeter and juicier than ever. -Quite much of any depression in business at this time is due to political excitement, and the fact should be remembered. After the election there will be better times. -Mr. H. S. Simpson went to Durham to-day, on a visit to his mother-in-law, Mr. W. H. Reynolds, who is still confined to his bed with fever, though in a hopeful condition.

The Daily Workman.

Vol. 6. Greensboro, N. C., Monday October 29, 1888. No. 131.

-There will be a silver medal contest in W. C. T. U. Hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock, to which all are cordially invited. The medals will be presented by Mrs. Wells of Chattanooga.

-Mr. Chan. D. Yates, accompanied by his brother, P. P. Yates, has gone to the Hot Springs of Arkansas to try the waters of that place, which heretofore proved so beneficial to his health.

MARRIAGE, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. P. R. Coble, August 28, 1888, Mr. J. R. Hutton and Miss Josie T. Coble, by Rev. R. H. Wills. [City papers, Raleigh Advocate and Methodist Protestant please copy.]

-Numbers of people visit Durham daily to hear the preaching of Sam Jones. It is said that no just estimate of the man and his preaching can be drawn from the "sayings" attributed to him by the newspapers. This we learn from competent authority.

-We had an interesting communication from a friend at Rocky Mount, giving an account of the Presbytery at that place. And of the Synod at Goldsboro, but it was too long to publish in our paper.

-Gov. Seales went to Ruffin this morning on the north-bound train having an appointment to address the people of that place to day on the political issues. Mayor Barringer was expecting to accompany the Governor, but was too late in reaching the depot.

FROM THE YELLOW FEVER DISTRICT.-ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.-From Jacksonville, Fla., under date of October 25th, we have information of the last installment of funds sent to the sufferers from the citizens of Greensboro through the DAILY WORKMAN office-$10.50-making a total of $80.50.

-Mr. J. O. Bain, who was on his way from Durham on the west bound train last night, was the subject of a very painful accident at Graham station. One of his sons was leaving the train at Graham, and Mr. Bain was standing in the door. His left hand extended to a point near its hinges, when some one ran violently against the door which crushed off the end of Mr. Bain's little finger. He came on up and had his wound dressed at one of our drug stores last night.

-There seems to be a speck of trouble-which may grow to a "peck of trouble," between the United States and Great Britain, growing out of a certain letter said to have been written by the resident British Minister at Washington, Lord Sackville West, to parties on the Pacific slope regarding the question how naturalized Englishmen should vote in the coming election. It is supposed that the affair may lead, or has already led, to the resignation of Mr. later West.

-The business man's Cleveland and Thurman parade in New York City on the 27th October, will be a very unfavorable day, for in that city as here, the rains fell plentifully, and even on Broadway the mud was a most unwelcome obstacle. The grand stand from which the President reviewed the parade was in Madison Square, and was occupied by about 700 people. About 40,000 people were said to be in line. Mrs. Cleveland, with her mother, viewed the scene from the Albemarle Hotel, near by the Square.

The Youth's Companion.

This most excellent weekly literary publication for young people makes its announcement for 1889, through the medium of a handsomely engraved calendar, a copy of which has been received at this office. A glance at the calendar reveals the fact that the modesty of the pictures harmonizes well with the modesty of the claim made for the Companion-we mean the claim made for its editors. They say that the Companion has been issued sixty-one years, has a circulation of 470,000 copies, and is read by at least two million readers every week; and further that no publication in the world has a more distinguished list of contributors, but when speaking of themselves personally they add "or is edited with and unapproachable ought to leave that to be said by somebody else, unless, as we suspect, nobody is found who will agree to do the blowing, and they conclude to become their own brass band. It is refreshing to read what the Youth's Companion says of its editors-isn't it?
