Mr. C. P. Vanstony and his little son George have been gone several days on a trip by rail.

Mrs. M. H. Titum, mother of Mrs. C. P. Vanstony has been quite sick, but is now much improved.

Father Charles was suddenly called off to attend a sick person at Fayetteville. He will return tomorrow.

The town of Durham is greatly elated, and justly so, by substantial assurance that her railroad to Lynchburg will be built.

It is understood that Senator Vance is recovering from the effects of the operation on his eye, which indicates the safety of the other eye.

In the street car troubles in New York yesterday, a man who had been hit in the face with stones fired into the crowd, striking one of the mob in the head, killing him.

Prof. W. A. Blair, of Winston, went down to Raleigh today to be in attendance on the Sanitary Convention and to take a bird's eye view of matters at the Capital.

Married, this morning, at 7:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. W. R. Murray, on Asheboro street, by Rev. Egbert W. Smith, Mr. Ed. P. Wharton to Miss Mary Ida Murray.

COMPETITIVE DRILL.—We are requested to announce that there will be a competitive drill of the Guilford Grays in the Banner Ware House next Friday night. The prize is a ten dollar gold medal.

A young white man was before the police court of Richmond, charged with having in his possession a side-saddle, supposed to be stolen. If any of our readers have lost a side saddle recently, they will take interest in learning that such a thing has been found. "Go and tell Betsy."

Three ex-cadets of the Virginia Military Institute indulged in stoning the house of Gen Francis Smith, the Supt. of the Institution, early yesterday morning, and were arrested and fined fifty dollars each. They had been expelled from the Institution.

BURGLARY.—On Tuesday night of last week the store house of J. C. Lindley & Bro., at New Garden, was broken into, the doors battered open by some strong instrument, and goods stolen to the amount of six to ten dollars. A search warrant was taken out next day and a part of the stolen property found. Two hard young cases, Tom Lane and Will King, were arrested and are now in jail. King, it is said, stole an overcoat out of the First Baptist church during service in the day time, belonging to Mr. W. J. Teague.

THREE GREAT CURSES.—The three great curses of the newspaper press are general puffery, dead beats and the credit system. Either of them will damage any newspaper, all of them will kill any one.

So says the Sanford Express. There is a great deal of truth in the saying. It is one of the misfortunes of "general puffery" that the paper that indulges in it cheapens itself so in public estimation that many persons assume that the puffs are paid for by the puffers, by which the publisher is fully indemnified for an indefinite number of extra copies. Dead beats generally follow dead puffs.

The alumni of Trinity College held its meeting in the dining room of the Yarboro House, at Raleigh, last night at 9 o'clock, as we learn from the News-Observer. Mr. D. B. Nicholson was chosen to preside, and remarks were made by Major Finger, President Crowell, Mayor Thompson, Mr. Turner, of Iredell, Mr. Le Grande and Rev. F. L. Reid. Only Mayor Thompson seems to have spoken definitely in favor of the removal to Raleigh. We are satisfied that few real politicians will commit themselves either way. The snarl of a little yaller dog would throw a dozen fair weather politicians into spasms in three seconds; but the sheep may bleed and bleat.

Mr. W. C. Bain, who has been here several days looking at real estate with a view of purchasing, has bought two building lots, the first for a business stand for the manufacture of building material, and which is situated opposite the Glascock foundry, very near the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad, the second for a residence. This is a vacant lot, sold by Colonel Keogh to Mr. J. W. Scott, and by him sold to Mr. Bain. We chronicle these facts with pleasure. Mr. Bain is a contractor of fine reputation, who built a number of fine houses in and around Graham and Burlington, then removed to Durham, from which place he comes to Greensboro, believing it to be for him the best place after all. We trust that Mr. Bain will effect his removal to Greensboro with all due diligence, that he may give his valuable help in building up the town.
