in Greensboro and being consulted daily by a sort of business men, is a splendid advertising medium. The condition of advertising shows what advertiser think. Office: Bannock Hall, South Elm street.

RAILWAY GUIDE.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Preaching at Westminster church tonight by Rev. S. O. Hall, at 7:45 p. m. Mr. H. L. Brower, of Liberty, was here yesterday and to day on matters of business with our wholesale merchants. Mr. C. P. Wharton, formerly of this city, has been installed as one of the deacons of the First Presbyterian Church, Raleigh. Mrs. John F. Speight, nee Miss Clio Lewis, died at her residence at Rocky Mount on Saturday last, after a protracted illness. MARRIED, By Rev. W. F. Kennett, Feb. 26, 1889, Mr. J. W. Williams, of Geneva, Rockingham County, to Miss Emma Wall, of Guilford County. Charlottes assortment of burglaries seems not yet to be broken. Somebody occasionally gets hurt fooling with other people's doors and windows. Mr. W. R. Murray is pushing forward his remodelled dwelling house which bids fair to be a handsome and attractive home, after all. This is the time to build. Ex. President Cleveland and his party, on the way to Cuba, passed through Richmond yesterday in special car. The party was received with hearty enthusiasm. The motion to rescind the order of advancement in the Cross case, which was argued before the Supreme Court at Washington, was decided yesterday in favor of the appellant, Cross.

We are sorry to see it stated in the Twin City Daily, that while playing base ball, at Kernersville, Charley Plunkett, who was recently one of the force of this office, had one of his eyes so badly hurt as to render probable the loss of the member.

One of the most pleasing things to a newspaper man is the knowledge that his advertisers are paid in the increase of custom for their advertising outlay; another thing is, that a good advertisement, by a man who really has the goods to show, is interesting reading to the subscriber to the paper. It is a good thing all the way round.

Just To Show.—Just to show that Solomon was right when he declared that "the way of transgressors is hard," the Durham Daily Plant makes the following announcement:

This has been a pretty rough day for Jim Macklin, colored. As stated elsewhere, he was fined $30 and cost for violating the recent amendment to the local option law. After that case was disposed of Macklin was tried for gambling and was fined $20 and cost. Verily, "the way of the transgressor is hard."

He Thought They Were the Same.

A gentleman has been in Greensboro, just from the city of New York, who while there was robbed of quite an amount of money. When he reached this city he got a glimpse of three of our young men, who, by the way, were in New York at the time of the robbery, and after seeing them he said that they, at least, were in the crowd at the time of the robbery, if they were not the men who robbed him. The young men themselves tell the story with a good deal of humor. We understand that the gentleman is now afraid lest these young men are following him up to take his life in addition to his money.

Our Railroads.

Greensboro is always in luck, as we have contended all along. The best of everything comes here, and often through the push and enterprise of other people. This has tended to spoil our people, and incline them too much to "wait for the wagon." First and foremost, the Roanoke & Southern is being built to Winston, but it intersects the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley both at Walnut Cove and Madison. The Wilkesboro extension from Winston to Wilkesboro, puts Greensboro in direct communication with Wilkesboro and the North western tier of counties via Winston, and also via the C. F. & Y. V. Railway from Rural Hall. Then again we shall be in daily communication with Asheboro via the new railroad between that place and High Point, and already the Greensboro Saah & Blind Company have arranged to ship lumber over that route from Randolph so soon as the road shall be completed. Our good friends at High Point know a good thing when they see it, and they are willing, when they have knocked down more perimmons than they can make way with, that we should have a share in the fruit.

If you wish to buy Picture Frames at a very low price and in fact, nearly everything in the Mercantile Trade, be sure and come to the Original Racket Store, next door to Express Office.

A NEW PAPER.—Mount Airy has a new weekly paper, called "The Granite City Guide." The first number is before us. Its mechanical make up is splendid, and the type is a perfect gem of art. We almost feel like greeting it with a "where did you come from?"

The editor of the Guide is Mr. T. J. Lowry, who has had a long experience in the business. Not long since he sold the Yadkin Valley News, and now, after a short rest, he "pops up" again with the Guide. Success to it. Only one dollar a year. Here is the larger half of his salutatory:

We have spent the greater part of our life in the printing business and we find it difficult to live outside of the editor's sanctum; not because of the money that we might realize from subscriptions and advertisements, but simply because we cannot find contentment at any other calling.

Another Ad. We have the best selection of music ever offered in Greensboro. Sheet Music 3 cents and 5 cents, book folio 20, 25, 40 and 45 cents. Don't wait until the best pieces are gone.
