—Lieut. Governor Holt was here this morning and looking hale and hearty.

—Mrs. Mary White, of Bingham School, who has been here on a brief visit, returned home by this morn-ing's train.

—Typhoid fever and diphtheria are reported as epidemic in Woodville, Ohio, the victims being one third of the entire population.

—Register Bean, of Asheboro, who was here yesterday on business, returned home by way of High Point this morning.

—What a change in the weather in the past twenty-four hours, and how the chilly air reminds one of winter and its concomitants!

—Out of 55,000 exhibitors at the Paris Exposition 33,000 of them received awards. We would suppose that must have been a very satisfactory Exposition.

—Mr. V. O. Willis has removed his family to Concord, at which place they will make their home hereafter. Sorry to lose them from our community.

—Rev. B. R. Hall, P. E., of the Mt. Airy District, M. E. church, South, passed through this morning on his way to Shelby.

—Miss Flora Swain of this city, arrived home Monday night from Hillsborough, where she has spent the summer visiting relatives and friends.

—The new draw bridge at New London, Conn., was formally opened Oct. 10. This will shorten the time from New York to Boston about half an hour. Heretofore the trains had to ferry across at New London.

—Cap. E. A. Small, on West Market street, gathered one dozen pears from a tree in his orchard, which weighed in the aggregate 7 lbs., 7 ounces: two of them weighed 1 lb., 6 ounces, and the smallest weighed singly 6 ounces. These pears never ripen on the tree.

—Mr. Wm. Ledbetter, of Liberty, started last night on a trip to A'a-bama, in the interest of Mr. J. Van Lindley's Nursey, at Pomona, his county. Mr. Ledbetter is an active and efficient agent, and has been for some time in the same business as at present.

—Mr. J. W. Scott received to day the cash from a party in Mount Airy with which to purchase stock in the cotton mill to be established at this place. Such an item is as solid as a big, fresh head of Dutch cabbage, and, like the cabbage, doesn't need any comment.

—James Muldoon, of Long Island City, N. Y., was bitten by a Spitz dog in April last, and died of hydrophobia a few days ago. He suffered great agony, and half an hour before his death, was in spasms. He begged his attendants not to let his family see him.

—Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of St. Mathews M. E. church in this city, Rev. C. N. Grandison, Principal of Bennett Seminary, and Bishop Issac W. Joyce, one of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, left this morning for Goldsboro to the Annual Session of the A. M. E. church.

CENTENNIAL MARSHALS.—Among the marshals appointed by Mr. Julian S. Carr, the chief marshal of the Constitutional Centennial, which is to take place at Fayetteville the 20th of November, we find the names of the following from Greensboro:

Capt. J. W. Fry, Col. Jas. E.
Boyd, Mr. Thos. Settle—a very good selection.

—We learn that Mr. Moses Strauss has rented one of the largest and best store rooms in the town of Reidsville, and then went back to Baltimore to purchase a stock of goods to fill it.
We are sorry to lose Mr. Strauss from our city, for we considered him a courteous and fair-dealing gentleman and one who attended strictly to his own business. He will still hold a quantity of real estate here.

—Dr. Talmage preached to an immense throng in the Brooklyn Academy of Music last Sunday, and so great was the press that the doors had to be closed before the services began. Ground for a new tabernacle will be broken on the 28th. of this month, and Dr. Talmage will visit the Holy Land while the work is being done.

—We learn from our exchanges that there are nearly four hundred cases of typhoid fever at Johnstown, Pa., the scene of the fatal flood of last spring. What a sad state of af-airs. But one of the disagreeable features of the case is the lack of comfortable quarters for the sick, many of whom are in rude shanties.
Johnstown is a good field on which to expend some of the surplus sympathy of this great but wicked country.

—The foundation was laid today for the fine brick building Mr.
Sam Brown is erecting for Capt.
Fisher, on the Willis lot. The work will move on with all possible dispatch so as to outrun the cold snap that will some time come down upon us from some of those new States that are perfect blizzards both in weather and in politics. The people of those parts have but little idea of what hard thoughts we have of them when they leave the northern passage open and turn loose upon us the blizzards that are hatched among the icebergs of the frozen sea.

J. D. WHITE, P. M.

A Genius after all.

The Wilmington Star tells of a genius in New York who suggests digging a deep hole in the ground as an offset to the great Eiffel tower.
The hole is to be two thousand feet deep, and the suggestion shows that while some men aspire to as great heights as possible, others are willing to take their fun in climbing downwards. We beg leave to amend the suggestion by building a hollow tower of two thousand feet high right over the hole, so that the climber can have a continuous course of four thousand feet. Something like this will have to be done, or this country is going to break its neck in the effort to do something tall.

Poor human nature! But just think a moment, in view of the fact that, for every one of us, there is, prospectively, a little oblong square hole in the ground in which our poor bodies are to be laid by the hands of others, there to sleep until the angel of the resurrection shall bid the sleepers rise. "Princes, this clay must be your bed. In spite of all your towers."
