THE UNITED STATES AND ITALY.

The unpleasantness between this country and Italy growing out of the almost unavoidable act of lynching the Italian conspirators, assassins and "jury fixers" at New Orleans, has not yet subsided, and some recent attention has been given the subject by our men of learning, notably Thomas Nelson Page, of Va., but just what the outcome is to be can not now be foreseen. Viewed from a worldly standpoint, at least, and there is no other now that can be available in the public discussion of the question—the utterly inferior condition of the Navy of this country forbids on our part any well grounded assertion of independence, a state of things that has been repeatedly alluded to and insisted on for ten years past as to be familiar even to school children. Mr. Page says that our navy "has become the laughing stock of the world," and adds: "Our minister to England walks at a public functions as seven-eighths in the list of foreign representatives." Going on further he expresses the belief that Italy might be able to destroy a part of our shipping and, notwithstanding our navy with our independent warships, might be able to ravage a city or two on our coast is possible, but that she would dare to attempt, I do not believe. If she should there could be but one ultimate event; there would come a day of reckoning. Whatever the temporary effect might be, the final result would assuredly be the complete punishment of the assailant.

But it must be confessed that there is nothing remarkably consoling in anything herein expressed, the most favorable result being a very costly experience. We have room only for the following paragraph from Mr. Page's thoughtful article:

"I believe that two good results will come from the present affair: First, that we shall be forced to awaken from our lethargy and place ourselves in a position of security befitting our rank; and secondly, that some steps will be taken to effectually check the tide of immigration of Mafia assassins and their like, the scum of the earth which threatens to overwhelm our people and our government."

It is a fact, worthy of careful study, that the whole question is one more of might than of right; that is to say, that we have a right to punish the Mafia, as was done at New Orleans, provided we have the might to resist the demands of Italy for reparation. This is not flattering to human nature, however, but how much that happens in?

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Among the subjects which seem essential to the progress of Society in its march to a higher state of excellence is that of cruelty to animals.—There is a very close relationship between kindness to animals and kindness to the human race, so close indeed that the man who is cruel to a horse or a dog can not be trusted for any special degree of kindness to his fellow-men. It is a declaration of Scripture that "the merciful man regardeth the life of his beast," and it is added in the same verse, "But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel." From this it may be gathered that it is wicked to disregard the claims of the dumb brute to our kindness, and that this cruel statement is exactly the opposite of what the merciful man does towards his beast.

There is a disposition in the heart of every good man to be kind to dumb animals, but like many other dispositions it needs to be cultivated, and THE WORKMAN is free to say that the subject is one which ought to have special consideration among us.

If we but begin to think on this subject it widens out before us wonderfully. We learn from inspired prophecy that a time is coming when the most ferocious animals shall be changed in their dispositions towards the weaker animals which they formerly devoured for food, and this being so, it must necessarily follow that mankind also will be kind in like manner toward the beasts, for the feeling is to be universal, answering to the specific declaration—"They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord."

It must be true that it is elevating to our race to have its humane feelings exercised and cultivated, humane feelings for the dumb creation as well as for its own species, and it will be well if some persons who desire to do good will lead off in the formation of a Society in this city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the code of our State having provisions already to punish such cruelty.

Happy Hoosters.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of the same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies: he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store."

A Damaging Frost.

MOBILE, Ala., April 6.—A light frost yesterday and a heavy frost this morning did great damage in this truck farming district. Tomatoes, cucumbers and squash, beans and peas are killed. Potatoes are cut down and damaged 50 per cent. The cabbage crop is not materially injured. Fortunately the vegetables which have been killed do not constitute the main crop here, except potatoes, and some farmers express the belief that the potatoes will recover in large degree from the effect of the frost.

Over one hundred houses are under contract and construction in Lynchburg and suburbs.

La Grippe Again.

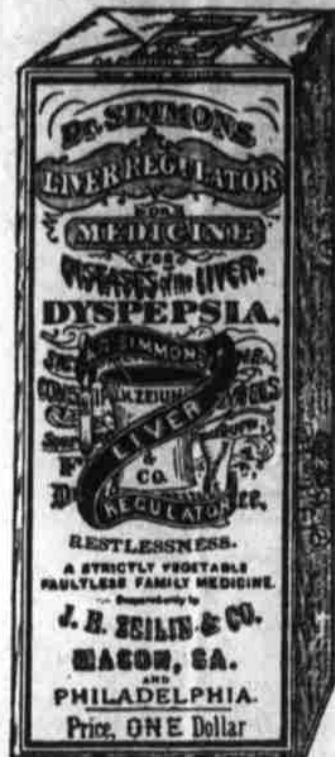

During the epidemic of La Grippe last season Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds proved the best remedy. Reports from the many who used it confirm this statement. They were not only quickly relieved, but the disease left no bad after results. We ask you to give this remedy a trial and we guarantee that you will be satisfied with results, or the purchase price will be refunded. It has no equal in its grippe, or any throat, chest or lung trouble. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and one dollar.

Mr Betts Claims Damages.

Mr. Furman Betts, son of Mr. Alvin Betts, who was in Raleigh visiting his parents last summer, and was accidentally shot by Policeman Hogue while the latter was attempting to arrest the negro Jones whom he afterwards killed, has presented, through attorneys Haywood & Haywood, a claim against the city for $550 damages and counsel fees. He claims that although he was severely injured and suffered much during the warm weather he had lost a good position and become temporarily incapacitated for work. This claim has been referred to the proper committee and will be acted on later.

Mr. Betts says that should the town not pay the claim he will have to institute suit for a larger amount.
