SHE SUICIDED.

SUPPOSED TO HAVE KILLED TWO OF HER OWN CHILDREN. Special to THE DAILY WORKMAN.

Worthville, N. C., July 27.—Our little town was all excitement last evening on account of a suicide committed in the suburbs, about 7:30. Mrs. Caroline Roundtree, colored, hung herself to a rafter in her home. She was married last Sunday evening to Richard Roundtree. They appeared happy, and her husband was working at the Worth cotton mill at the time when the news reached him of his wife's death. He hurried home and was horrified at the spectacle which greeted him.

She leaves three children and the husband to mourn her death. She was discovered first by one of her children who rushed to a neighbor's house and gave the alarm, and she was cut down by order of Dr. C. C. Hubbard, who thought he saw signs of life, but with his faithful effort he could not restore her.

Her age was about 35 years. She bore a good character, was liked by the people in general and was a hard working woman.

The coroner was summoned and arrived this morning, and the inquest was held about 11 o'clock, by Mr. L. J. Cox, corner, and a jury, Dr. C. C. Hubbard, H. M. Worth, foreman of the jury. The verdict was that she had killed herself by strangulation at her own hands. When found she had her legs drawn up and crossed under her, showing that she could have saved herself had she so desired.

The act was caused by her having killed one of her own children and the fear of being prosecuted for the crime.

Dr. Hubbard, in his professional capacity, decided that the deceased had recently given birth to a child, of which her husband knew nothing, and it is believed that she criminally disposed of another child about two years ago, the child being found by dogs.

The kind people of Worthville have done everything they could for the comfort of the distressed husband and children. The body of the deceased was turned over to the husband at 12 o'clock, and will be buried at Franklinsville tomorrow morning.

"See My Death Avenged."

Union Town, Pa., July 27.—Jack Cooley, leader of a notorious band of outlaws in this State, was captured and shot last Friday. His last words were: "See that my death is avenged." On Sunday Cooley was buried and then his band commenced the work of revenge.

Wesley Sisler, who aided in the capture of the leader, was overpowered at his home in Haydentown and pinned. His only child, a young girl, was then assaulted by members of the band. The helpless father's cries for help were stifled and his struggle for liberty ended by a blow from a musket cut. The band then departed, apparently seeking this mode of revenge as of a more refined cruelty than physical punishment or death.

There were three cases of sunstroke in Richmond, Va., yesterday, one of which, that of a Baltimore drummer, proving fatal. The thermometer has generally registered 100 since last Saturday.

THE PRESS CONVENTION

The twentieth annual session of the North Carolina Press Association assembled in Charlotte yesterday. The roll shows that quite a number of editors were in attendance, Greensboro being represented by Mr. H. W. Wharton, of the Patriot.

Mr. Thomas, the President called the convention to order. Maj Dowd made the speech of welcome, and Mr. E. E. Hilliard made the response.

Resolutions, discussions and business affairs came next. Mr. J. L. Chambers, President of the Chamber of Commerce, delivered an address on "The City of Charlotte." The Poem of the occasion was by Mrs. Lisette Clayton Hood, and after this was read Dr. Sherer, President of Davidson College made a speech on "The Incurable Habit of Bad Writing." There was singing of solos by two distinguished ladies.

The discussions for today are: "Public Responsibility of newspaper correspondents," opened by J. P. Caldwell, of the Observer.

"The Evils of indiscriminate Puffery," opened by Rev. A. G. McManaway, of the North Carolina Baptist.

"Uniformity in Advertising Rates," opened by Thad R. Manning, of the Henderson Gold Leaf.

"How to Secure Protection Against Advertising Frauds," opened by Will X. Coley.

Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, the Editors excursion will start to New York and Niagara Falls.

Wreck on the N. & W. Road.

Winston Sentinel.

There was an accident on the Winston-Salem division of the Norfolk & Western road about one o'clock this morning near Pine Hall. The result was that one man was killed and another seriously injured.

The caboose attached to an incoming freight train from Roanoke, Va., jumped the trestle across Dan river near Pine Hall and rolled over into the river.

Flagman J. B. Hamilton, a married man, aged about 31 years, of Virginia, was instantly killed. A brakeman named Mac Cockran, unmarried, and about 22 years old, of Grayson county, Va., was seriously injured. Both were white. These were the only two men on the car at the time.

Fortunately the conductor was riding on the engine when the accident occurred.

The accident is supposed to have been caused by wood falling from a flat car. Hamilton and Cockran were both in the caboose and it is thought were asleep.

The Railroad Company's surgeon Dr. C. L. Summers, went out on a special to Pine Hall about two o'clock this morning and brought Cockran back on the train to Winston and placed him at his boarding house. One leg was broken besides injuries internally. The wounded man continued to grow worse until 11 o'clock when he breathed his last.

The remains of Flagman Hamilton will be taken to his home in Virginia for interment.

Two street car conductors were arrested in Asheville yesterday under a charge of embezzlement, and are in jail.

Davidson College and Salisbury played a game of base ball yesterday, which showed that they were proof against heat.

SPEAKING OF YOU

Robert Douglas has gone to Charlotte looking for a cool place, and if he does not find it there will go farther, probably to Belmont before he returns.

Brother Webster of the Reidsville Weekly, who was to have gone to Charlotte last night, did not go until this morning.

In consequence of being poorly Prof. Carr went up to his home at Trinity College this morning.

Rev. Mr. Barrett, of Thomasville, passed through this morning on his way to District Conference at Lewisville, Forsyth county.

Col. Jas. E. Boyd went today in spite of the heat, to that hot place known as Salisbury. If he doesn't melt today he can always get insurance at low rates hereafter.

Mrs. Col. Albert Gorrell, of Winston, who has been spending some days with Mrs. Fariss and her sister here returned home this morning.

When the north bound train arrived here this morning, and the sun was doing its best to melt every thing a number of persons jumped off the train with tender infants in their arms and no sign of an umbrella. The little things squaled, and no wonder.

We were glad to see Mr. Will Rankin over from Reidsville today. He is looking well, and that business is fair.

The editor was gratified to have a call from an old time friend, Mr. J. F. Marsh, who went originally from Cedar Falls to Fayetteville, spent a number of years in Fayetteville in the mercantile business, and came recently to Greensboro, and is now running a news store at the McAdoo House. Mr. Marsh carries his age well and is still full of activity and vivacity. We trust that he may succeed well in the business which now engages his attention.

LET US HAVE A LAKE.

When the weather is so intense y hot, as it has been for a week past, it is natural for us to desire a lake to which we could resort at pleasure, and where one might cool off. And why may we not have a lake some where in striking distance of the city, with a good camping ground near it, a sort of park, in which people might spend a day and night occasionally? Fifty dollars would perhaps buy the grounds, containing a cool spring, a grove and room for a lake, and the cost of a dam would be a small affair. It would be necessary to go beyond all the streams into which the city is drained, and the distance required to do that would not be great.

There is actual necessity for something of the sort. Who will take the initiative in the matter?

Pensioners—Free Passes.

Arrangements have been made by which all pensioners of the State of North Carolina desiring to attend the Confederate Veterans Re-union at Wrightsville, August 16th to 20th, can obtain free transportation over the G. F. & Y. V. Railroad.

A certificate signed by Superior Court Clerk of the county in which the pensioner lives, to the effect that his name is on the pensioners roll of his county, must accompany the applicant on for transportation. The information herein given should be circulated for the benefit of all pensioners.

NEWS NOTES.

Frick, the wounded man, continues to improve, and his speedy recovery is regarded as certain.

There has been talk of the arrest of Herr Most, the N. Y. anarchist, in connection with the Pittsburg troubles, but the matter has been deferred at present.

Prostrations from the extreme heat and shutting down of mills on the same account, are among the happenings in New England. The prostrations have been numerous.

A dispatch from Winston bears heavily on Sheriff Teague for the manner in which he proposed to arrest the murderer De Graff, and accuses the sheriff of cowardice, inviting him to resign. It is supposed that the sheriff is averse to becoming a subject for the coroner, and prefers that some other be elevated to that distinguished position. Meanwhile the horrible murder goes unavenged.

Congressional Convention in the 2d District.

Scotland Neck, July 27.—The Democrats of the 2d Congressional District assembled here today, to nominate a candidate for Congress and elector. Donald Gilliam, of Tarboro chairman.

On the seventh ballot, Mr. F. A. Woodard, of Wilson, was nominated for Congress.

Mr. N. J. Rous, of Kinston, was nominated for elector on the second ballot.

It was the largest convention ever held in the District and thoroughly Democratic.
