

GREENSBORO DAILY WORKMAN.

Vol. X.—No 104

GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 11 1892

Price $3.00 Per Year.

WEAVER DENOUNCED.

THE DEMOCRATS OF GILES COUNTY, TENN., DO THE WORK THE DAY HE SPEAKS.

They Accord to Him a Fair Hearing But Knowing Him, Brand Him a Scoundrel Before the Echo of His Voice is Dead.

Pulaski, Tenn., Oct. 10.—While Gen. Weaver was speaking near Pulaski Saturday the democrats of Giles county were assembled in the town listening to ringing addresses by staunch advocates of democracy. The following resolutions were unanimously passed before the meeting adjourned:

Whereas, the people's party candidate, J. B. Weaver, has made an address to the people here today, and whereas, we the democrats of Giles county, believing in the right of free speech, have accorded him a hearing in his own defence concerning the charges of inhumanity, spoliation and brutality, alleged against him while commander of the post here in 1863-4. Nevertheless be it resolved that we do reaffirm and do publish to the world that Jas. B. Weaver, now posing as a friend of the down trodden and oppressed of this land, did while our county was under his dominion as military commander in 1863-4, levy assessments on non-combatant citizens, that he wantonly devastated our county, that he insulted old women and children and that his name is a byword of reproach to our people. That contrasting his conduct with that of Col. Gresham, Gen. Johnson and others while here we condemn him not as a Union soldier but as a marauder and despoiler of the helpless and indict him before the people of the United States.

Ex-Senator Ingalls on Weaver.

Topeka, Kansas, Oct. 8.—Ex Senator Ingalls made his first campaign speech in this campaign in this city tonight. He spoke of his position personally in the campaign, advocated the election of Harrison, and said: "I would a thousand fold rather than the electoral vote of this State went for Grover Cleveland than for James B. Weaver. That would be a mistake that we could rectify hereafter (applause). The other would be an indelible stigma, and a disgrace that would rest upon us for a century." He insisted that the battle was to be fought in the western and in the north western States and that Cleveland would surely be defeated unless enough electors were chosen for Weaver to prevent Harrison's election.

On the 13th of Sept. 1843, Henry Clay wrote to Dr. F. S. Bronson: My opinion that there is no danger hereafter of a high tariff is founded on the gratifying fact that our manufacturers have now taken a deep root.

In their infancy they needed a greater measure of protection but as they grow and advance they acquire strength and stability and consequently will require less protection.

The Durham Academy of Medicine held a meeting on the 3rd day of October, and resolved upon the amount of fees to be charged for visits in the corporate limits, and also without, and for visits after night.

It takes most of the time of McKinley's Secretary to keep the run of the challenges to debate that he declines.

Whitelaw Reid in 1874.

Weitelaw Reid edited the Tribune in 1872, and while it was thought that the Democrats had carried the election of August, 1872, he wrote the following editorial:

We have carried North Carolina against the corruption fund of the administration—against the threats of the revenue collectors, the importation of negroes and the persecution for alleged membership in the long disbanded ku klux—against a candidate for the vice-presidency, a secretary of the treasury, and a secretary of the interior—against the best managed and most liberally supplied canvass ever made by an administration party in North Carolina—by a majority of, at the very lowest, 1,000, as we reckon it here; of four to five thousand, as our coolest friends in Raleigh insist. We have swept out the thieving carpet baggers and installed a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Well done, noble North Carolina! You have pronounced in advance the verdict of a nation.

Nearly a month later, September 28, 1872, the following appeared from the same source:

It is now patent to the meanest capacity that the administration party is at last thoroughly anxious.

The tide is all in our favor. The masses are all aroused for reunion and reform. The harvest is ripe for the sickle. A few more days of hard work and it will be gathered in. But the work must be done.

The Evening post says: Give us some more of it, Mr. Reid.

The political sparring match between Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison has so far resulted in favor of the Democratic champion.

In the first round Cleveland got in a good body blow on his opponent with a handsome Democratic majority in Arkansas.

Harrison returned with two light and ineffectual taps on Grover with his greatly reduced Republican majority in Vermont and Maine.

Second round. Cleveland leads and draws first blood with a twenty thousand Democratic majority in Florida.

Before Benny has time to recover Grover rushes and gets in a resounding blow with his terrible right in the shape of a seventy thousand Democratic majority in Georgia. Benny is staggered and is only saved by the gong sounding.

Third round. Benny is winded now and Grover aggressive. The Democrat gets in four heavy successive licks in the way of the accessions to the Democratic ranks of Walter Q. Gresham, Judge Cooley, Waynes Maevagh and H. L. Barre Jayne. These blows force Harrison to the ropes, where he is struggling desperately as the round ends. He is already suffering from his punishment, but his opponent looks fresh and confident. Harrison cannot hold out much longer.

Benjamin's second is W. J. Carter; bottle holders, Platt and Clarkson.

William F. Harris is seconding Grover and David B. Hill and W. C. Whitney are his bottle holders.

Referer: 65,000,000 people of the United States.—Sentinel.

Mr. Depew says that on the tariff question "the Republican Party stands where it always stood." Oh, no! The Republican party stood in 1860 for a moderate tariff. Two of its Presidents, Grant and Arthur, have favored free raw materials. Two of its Secretaries of the Treasury, Folger and McCulloch, have recommended a thorough tariff reduction.

VISITORS.

Mr. C. H. Doughty went to Durham this morning.

The Messrs. Henry and Julius Pegram, brothers, were here this morning.

Hon. Paul B. Means, of Concord, passed up home this morning from a visit to Raleigh.

Mr. Derastus Lewis went up to Walnut Cove this morning for the purpose of placing in the school of Prof. Wilburn, at that place, his daughter, Miss Lulla Lewis.

Capt. Robert L. Murphy, late conductor on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad is just from Salisbury where he was in attendance on the funeral of his father, Mr. Robert Murphy, who died a few days ago.

Mr. John T. Hunt, of the W. C. Bain Manufacturing Company, went down to Burlington this morning, and will tomorrow superintend the exhibit at the Alamance Fair of the specimens of hard wood from the factory of the W. C. Bain Company.

Dr. Jas. R. Brooks and Mrs. Brooks, Rev. A. P. Tyer, P. E., of the Charlotte District and Rev. P. L. Groom, of Waynesville, Haywood county, went to Durham this morning to be in attendance on the dedication exercises of Trinity College, which are set for tomorrow. The occasion is to be one of much interest.

Mr. Jesse F. Hoskins, of Summerfield, went down to Raleigh this morning. In answer to a question from a WORKMAN reporter he said that he was going to Raleigh to find out who was going to be elected—that, living in an out-of-the-way place, he did not feel satisfied that the news he had was entirely reliable, and that he was going to head quarters to obtain the truth. And then he said, "perhaps Simmons knows."

Rev. E. E. Hoss, D. D., editor in Chief of the Nashville Christian Advocate, passed through this morning on his way to Durham, where he will, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, deliver the dedicatory sermon of the new Trinity College buildings.

Personally Dr. Hoss, who appears to be something over forty years of age, is a genial, pleasant and communicative gentleman, of fine physical health and an abundant flow of cheerful spirits, and would strike one as having been reared in South west Virginia, North Carolina, East Tennessee or Upper Georgia—combining all these in one; while as editor of the Nashville Advocate he is simply superb in the requisites of a ready writer, with first-class powers of discrimination, tact, toleration and charity, by which the Advocate takes the lead among the religious journals of the South. We are mistaken if Dr. Hoss does not give a good account of himself in his sermon tomorrow.

The reception given Weaver at Pulaski must have been a terrible disappointment to him. He went there expecting to create a riot in the hope of making political capital for the Republicans of the North, but the dignified manner in which he was received—the people simply refusing to listen to him speak, but determinedly maintaining the peace—not only checked him, but reflected the greatest credit upon the Tennesseans. He has now played his last card, and he had better ignominiously retire.—Richmond News.

AIN'T A BITING.

We heard from Samsom yesterday that Mr. W. K. Pigford positively declines to allow his name hoisted on the mast head of the Progressive Farmer, as the supply candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Third party ticket, in place of the discarded Cobb.

Mr. W. H. Worth, the special messenger, offered the bait but Mr. Pigford refused to bite. All honor to Mr. Pigford.

Good actions crown themselves with lasting days.

Who deserves well, needs not another's praise.

We hear also from Pender that Mr. C. C. Woodcock, who was nominated for sheriff by the Republican convention at Burgaw, declines without thanks. He says he wants no recognition from the Republican party. He was surprised and disgusted that the Republicans should take the liberty of making use of his name in their convention.—Wil, Messenger.

ARRIVALS AT THE BARNBOW HOUSE.

R. E. Hervey, N. Y.

J. S. McVey, Richmond
W. O. Shannon Philadelphia
W. B. Kindrick, Raleigh
J. W. Hartley, Prov. R. I.

T. L. Winfrey, Richmond

R. L. Hardage, Atlanta, W. P.

Cannon, P. P. Zimmerman, Char.

M. L. Cline, Hickory, G. W. Means

Concord, Paul B. Means, Mrs. Hal

lister NewBerne Miss Hollister

NewBerne, Miss Slover, NewBerne

Miss Guion, NewBerne, Mrs. W.

F. Coachman and family Jackson

ville, R. E. Latham Va. H. W. Pegram

N. Y., J. S. Royal Atlanta,

J. W. Johnson, WalnutCove, Miss

Hattie Gentry, WalnutCove, Jno.

A. Barringer, J. M. Rutherford, A

A. Wells.

A Threatened Tumble

So the Third party can not so much as stand the Cobb they set up for Lieutenant Governor, and will pull him down, but what about Long and the other fellows no better than he is on the same discreditable weak, corrupt ticket? Are they good enough for the Weaver gang? Well, any people who can stand old Weaver and Maryann Butler, both turncoats and Pliables, can, of course, stand the gang they have nominated for State offices. But why kick out poor Cobb? Is he worse really than the others?

One good use that is being made of the prohibition and third party movement—it is in effect all the same as one movement—against the Democrats, is to solidify the Democrats and bring them out to the fray, and the great probability is that Grover Cleveland, the central idea and immovable rock of Democracy, representatively speaking will crush out the entire triple alliance and march in triumph to the White House, which he graced so splendidly four years ago.

Good on MacKay, of Boston, not only gives his divorced wife $25,000 a year, but has withdrawn the proviso that she shall only receive it so long as she remains unmarried.

Twenty-five Cents will bring the WORKMAN to your door for a month:

A small boy in a Brooklyn Grammar School has furnished the latest information about girls in a recent composition:

Girls is pretty afraid of guns. They wear toe rubbers and look at the clouds and say, "O, how perfectly lovely."

A new dish appeared lately on the menus of Swiss table d'hotes which puzzled every one who read only its name.—Ariostee. Those who risked a trial were amused to find an old friend—Irish Stew.

PLACES OF REGISTRATION.

The following are the places of registration:

North Morehead—Grand Jury room.

South Morehead—R. G. Glenn's office.

North Gilmer—James W. Forbis' office.

South Gilmer—Front office in Yates building.

BATTLE GROUND CHORUS.

The members of the Chorus and any other ladies or gentlemen who wish to take part in the ceremonies attendant on the unveiling of the Marshall Monument, on the 15th day of October, at the Court House, cordially invited and requested to meet at the court house at 8:15, p. m., Monday, October 10 for practice.

THOMAS WOODROFFE, Director.

Oct 8, '92.

There are many boys and girls, men and women too for that matter, who will be glad of a chance to make fifty cents.

Now here is a chance to make not only one but several fifty cents.

The price of the WORKMAN is $3.00 per year and will be after the first day of Nov. 1892.

But now we are now going to make this offer; to hold good till Nov. 1st 1892.

We will send THE DAILY WORKMAN to all new subscribers and to all old subscribers who renew before the first day of Nov. for $2.50 per year.

We will give the boy or girl, man or woman, who brings us a new name or an old one to renew, fifty cents (.50) for such new subscription or renewal.

Subscriptions under this offer must not be for less time than a year, and must be accompanied by cash.

ALLEN JONES offers his professional services as STOVE POLISHER to the citizens of Greensboro.

I will polish stoves at the following prices: Cooking stoves, 7 and 7, 35 cents; plain heating stoves with three small joints of pipe 25; large parlor stove 35 cents; enameled grates 25 to 35 cents; all stoves at a reasonable rate by ALLEN JONES, East Market Street, Number 918.

Dampers 10 cents; Backs 10c

J. W. SCOTT & Co., say their new fall catalogues are rolling in now every day.

The first Cranberries of the season was opened today, at

J. W. SCOTT & Co's.

UNIVERSITY OF N. C.

Instruction is offered in four general courses of study, six brief courses, a large number of special courses, and in law, medicine and engineering. The Faculty consists of twenty teachers.

SCHOLARSHIPS

And loan funds are available for needy students of talent and character.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS

September 1. For catalogue with full information, address,

PARSIDENT WYCKON,

323 2m Chapel Hill, N. C.