ADVISORY BOARD FOR TREASON AND THE CARNEGIE COMPANY OFFICIALS FOR MURDER AND CONSPIRACY

PITTSBURG, Pa., October 11.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the grand jury came into court and returned true bills against the Homestead advisory committee, charged with treason.

True bills were also returned against H. C. Frick, John G. A. Leishman, Lawrence Phipps, F. T. Lovejoy, Superintendent Potter, Otis Childs, Henry Curry, Nevin McConnell, Captain Cooper, Fred Primer and all other of the Carnegie officials and Pinkerton detectives, charged with murder and conspiracy.

Butler and Glenn.

When challenged by Mr. Glenn in the joint discussion Wednesday night to tell why he supported the democratic state ticket, which he helped to nominate, from the middle of May to the middle of July and advised everybody else to support it, and then helped to nominate and has since been trying to elect another ticket, Marion Butler did not attempt to answer the challenge. He sneaked and dodged, grimaced, felt mean and looked mean, for Mr. Glenn convicted him out of his own mouth and gagged him with his own words so effectively that he could not reply. He did not say a single word in condemnation of the democratic state ticket or of the democratic state platform, for he helped to nominate the one and frame the other, and with all his brazen cheek he did not have the effrontery to condemn either. Neither did he say a word about the Third party state ticket, which he also helped to make, for the reason, perhaps, that he felt ashamed of his work, if he has not got beyond the point of feeling ashamed. Nor did he make any reference to his candidate, Weaver, until he was forced to do so by Mr. Glenn's exhortation of Weaver, and then his reference was a lame apology, addressed mainly to the negroes present, for Weaver's infamous utterances. Butler is a bust and bad egg. Outside of a callous hide and adamant cheek, he is a dismal failure.—Wilmington Star.

The serious, if not fatal, injury to Mr. Gerald McCarthy, who was struck by an engine of the R. & D. railroad at University Station yesterday, while walking on the railroad track, is pretty good proof that the lessons being taught by the frequency of such occurrences are not likely to avail much with the public. Mr. McCarthy was deaf.

J. W. Scott & Co., say their new Fall eatables are rolling in now every day.

At the Workman's Club:

Mr. J. A. Wilson said: I am glad to see this organization. It will bring out a larger vote than we have ever had before. It will be a patent factor in the coming election. It is the laboring man who feels most keenly the oppression of the party now in power. If there ever was a time when we should stand shoulder to shoulder it is now.

The people's party don't know where they are going.

Ask Mr. Weaver. He will be better able to tell on the 8th of November next.

The old enemy is before you.

White men, laborers of Guilford, the republican party is before you

What is its record. It is a record of taxation, burdensome and oppressive. It is a record of class legislation. It is such a record that if you have not lost all honor and memory of the party you cannot help resenting it by your vote.

There is no man who wore the gray who is opposed to paying pensions to the disabled soldiers, who defended the Union. But they do say that the present pension system is iniquitous and unjust.

Mr. Beecham said: I can cast but one vote. But if I live till November 8th that vote shall be a Democratic vote.

There are many here who can cast more than one vote. You can see some one who has not registered or who has not determined whether to vote or not.

Mr. Broughton said: Since my oldest recollection I have been a member of a workingmen's club.

When I first came to the polls there were two lines of voters. It was left to me to choose which line I would fall in with. One line was a black one, the other white

I did not see how I could vote with anybody else than the white men.

This is a time for rejoicing. The very air is filled with prophecies of victory.

Since the McKinley bill became a law there have been 450 strikes in the United States and 500 miles have reduced wage.

The biggest vote ever polled in North Carolina will be polled on the 8th day of November. And what does that mean. It means an overwhelming democratic victory.

These third party friends are following the swill cart of republicanism.

If they will raise their heads they will see where they are.

Go to your shop and as you push the plane push the doctrine of democracy. And as you forge the steel, forge also hearts of patriotism.

I never had anything else to do on election day but vote.

I went out in the country last Saturday with the intention of replying to would be senator Jope; if he said anything. But he did not

They have another contract at the hutting ground, the original Dr. Falke's place, nine miles north of town and near Brown's Summit. The work consists chiefly of building log huts from the north, who will spend much of the winter in the comfortable quarters thus provided. It will require about six months to complete the preparations.

Chairman Harity's Estimate:

Chairman Harity, of the Democratic National Committee, after carefully going over the reports received at headquarters from every State in the Union, has made an estimate of the probable electoral vote for the National ticket. He figures that Cleveland will receive 245 electoral votes. There will be 444 votes in the next Electoral College, and 223 will be necessary to a choice. Counting the 15 votes of Indiana, Mr. Harity thinks the Democratic ticket will poll 245 electoral votes. If Indiana goes republican, the Democrats will still have seven votes to spare, and if the Republican should carry Connecticut there will be one vote to spare. The following table gives the probable result of the election:

RAILROADS.

The aggregate number of miles of railroads in the United States at present is 175,000 miles, sufficient to girdle the globe seven times! All but about 400 miles of this has been constructed within the past half century. It took from 1830 to 1851 to build the first 10,000 miles, so that 165,000 miles have been built in 41 years—or over 4,000 miles per year.

A SAD STORY

Pueblo, Colo., Oct.—Byron A. Dalton, father of the Dalton boys, has arrived in Pueblo, and in an interview said:

"My oldest boy has always been honest and industrious, but the others, through novel reading, took to crooked ways when the James and Younger boys began their career of crime.

They would not go to school refused to work, and laughed at anything that was honest. My sons were not addicted to drink, but desired a life luxury, and would not attempt to secure it honestly.

"My heart is broken and so is mother's. We can't crush down a parents natural love for a son. We all have our faults, and my boys gave their lives for theirs. They have passed to the great unknown, and we bow to the will of God.

The People's Party Knows It.

Three times three are sixty-six,
Straws not needed for making bricks,
Crops depend on politics
And the people's party knows it.
Flour and corn are to be paid out,
The way to farm is to run about
To p. p. meetings and storm and spout,
And the people's party knows it.
O, this will be a glorious land,
And when things are done as we have planned
We'll have prosperity fresh and canned,
And the people's party knows it.
When we've kicked the plutocrats
down stairs
We're all a going to be millionaires,
And the people's party knows it.
The leaves of the tree'll be dollar
notes,
And diamond rings around the heads
of oats
And silver tips on the heads of the (Exum's) goats,
And the people's party knows it.
The cheese'll be silver and the but-
ter'll be gold,
The streams'll run whiskey—hot and cold,
And the mugwumps forget to scold,
And the people's party knows it.
So hurrah for the great p. p.:
1—7 and 0—3.
A is B and X is Z,
And the people's party knows it.
