DEMOCRATIC VOTERS.

I assume that you all know the importance of carrying the election on to-morrow and trust your interest is sufficient to awaken in you a desire to do something to help bring success to the Democratic party. I therefore appeal to you, merchants, mechanics, doctors, mill men, salesmen, lawyers, and all good citizens of every vocation who desire the success of the Democratic party to come to the polls early in the morning and devote the whole day in an effort to elect our entire ticket.

A hearty support on your part will be worth hundreds of votes. I beg and trust that you will do your full duty.

W. E. Beville, Esq., has charge of the vehicles to bring infirm voters to the polls. Please make it your special duty to report to him early in the morning all such as will have to be sent for.

R. R. KING, Chairman.

Nov. 7, 1892.

Let Mr. Harrison try kicking New York. Matters promise to be lively in New York city on election day. The Federal authorities declare they will force their election marshals inside the railings of the polling places, where they are forbidden to come by the State laws, and the officers of the State of New York declare they will eject them and arrest them if they attempt to enter in defiance of the State law. We may, therefore, have a very pretty little controversy of it. We can but regard this impending clash of authority as one of the most fortunate circumstances that could have arisen. The act of Congress under which the marshals are intended to act is part of the reconstruction legislation of twenty-five years back. It was intended for the South alone, but, being general in its terms, the Republicans find it broad enough to authorize the measures by which they hope and intend to disfranchise New York city. The people of the North are, therefore, aroused by the impending clash to appreciation of the fact that if a Force bill is once put upon the statute book, though aimed now exclusively at the South, it will be mercilessly applied by the Republican party to any part of the North at any time when their necessities in an election call for its application. The Force bill is thus brought home to the people of the North and they are taught by this incident the jeopardy in which their liberties and rights now stand.

An interesting question in this connection is, Will Mr. Harrison dare attempt to enforce the act of Congress in New York city in opposition to the contest which New York will make against it? He would boot Virginia or South Carolina, not only without hesitation, but with a malignant and devilish delight. But what will he do to New York? That is a very different question.

Gentle reader, we will tell you what he will do with New York. He will do as all bullies do. He will bluster and foam at the mouth until he sees that the authorities of New York mean business, when he will suddenly go into the White House and pull the White House in after him. He will be like the man who went hunting the grizzly bear. He tracked him over mountain and across dale, at the end of the third day he suddenly quit. Being asked why, he said: "The trail was getting too fresh."

Mr. Harrison may try to boot Virginia, but will he dare trying to boot New York?

The drummers have all gone home to vote.

Col. Jno. Staples is suffering from an attack of rheumatism in the leg.

Caldelough & Bro. are paving the sidewalk in front of their property on Davis street. Let the good work go on.

J. L. King is resting very well today. He is not a bit uneasy. The only question is, "what will the majority be?"

Build nice storehouses on Davis street and you will soon see the business that will be carried on in that central business avenue.

There will be trouble in New York tomorrow, it is feared. There is a threatened conflict between the State and national authorities.

Mr. Marion Jeffries passed through yesterday on his way to Calpepper, Va., to cast his vote for Democracy. Mr. Jeffries owns a large lumber interest in Keyser, N. C.

Why is it that the owners of valuable lots on South Elm, East Washington, East Market and West Market streets do not build them up.

Would it not be best for the health officer to look after those offensive odors that arise in the centre of the city after sunset from hog-pens and slop barrels.

The Democrats and Third party people had a lively time in Durham Saturday. They were fighting all day long. One Third party man got whipped twice.

The Third party nominee of the House, in Alamance, Capt. B. F. White, is out in a circular, bidding for the colored vote, and advising his Third party followers to forsake the other nominees of the Third party and vote for the nominee of Republican party. Read the circular elsewhere.

In Saturday's issue we made the statement that Thomas Bros. had bought out the Dike Book company. This is incorrect, and we cheerfully make the correction. Mr. John Thomas alone has bought the stock, and will take pleasure in showing his many friends and customers the excellent line of goods he has.

The polling places for Morehead and Gilmer townships on tomorrow will be, North Morehead, the Grand jury room in the court house, South Morehead, the Patriot office, North Gilmer, the law office of Jas. W. Forbis, South Gilmer, the Yates building, corner of Sycamore and Elm streets.

Anywhere between 25 and 40 thousand, is Octavius Cokes estimate of the Democratic majority in North Carolina.

"Three weeks ago I did not think Cleveland had the ghost of a chance but I have no fears now," is what Jno. R. Webster says.

"One of our townsmen appreciates the value of the single vote and has come 1100 miles to cast his vote for Cleveland and Stevenson.

Our city fathers would do well to inspect the buildings on the various streets that are dangerous to fire and unbecoming to the street.

That sermon of the Rev. Mr. Thomas last Sunday night had the true ring. Character, manhood, conviction; these are the things worth living for.

There was quite a little war out at one of the cotton mills yesterday between two colored boys. A broken head, a doctor's bill and a lot of gall and the boys are ready to fight again.

C. A. Thompson, Seymour Ind., writes: "My sister Jennie, when she was a young girl, suffered from a white swelling which greatly impaired her general health and made her blood very impure. In the spring she was not able to do anything and could scarcely get about. More than a year ago she took three bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, and now she is perfectly cured."

Pronounced Hopeless Yet SAVED.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote the following: "Was taken with a severe cold which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally resulted in consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined that if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, and colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store regular size 50 cents and $1.

Good Looks.

Electric Bitters is a great alterative and tonic acts directly on the vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store 50 cent per bottle.
