LONG CURLS.

When I was but a little girl
And wore my hair in great long curls,
My mother said, "My child so fair,

You should be proud of your curly hair."
"For sometime in your future life
Some nice man will want a wife,
And he's sure to look for a maiden

fair
Who has blue eyes and long curly hair.
"But styles have changed since then you know
And now bobbed hair is all the go."
But still my mother firmly stands
"But long curly hair will win a man.
It may perhaps but not for me
To lose my chance on such a fee,
I'll have mine hobbled in latest style
So I can rest assured awhile.
That I'm in style with people fair
And not with folks who have long hair,
And now I know I'll be sure to win
Some great big husky hustling Jim."

MRS. W. H. LINER HOSTESS.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. W. H. Liner gave a party in compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Lowel Taylor of Memphis, Tenn. Daisies were effectively used and the motif of yellow and white carried out in detail in all the arrangements. Bridge was enjoyed at six tables. The honoree was presented with two hand embroidered towels, while the high score entitled Mrs. Jack Way to a dresden flower bowl. The consolation, a pair of red roses, fell to Mrs. Harry Rotha. The hostess was assisted in receiving and serving her guests by her daughter, Mrs. Hayes Alley.

Among those playing were Mesdames R. O. Covington, Walter Haylor, W. C. Garrison, Caroline de Neegaard, J. W. Seaver, Ray Francis, C. F. Kirkpatrick, R. E. Wood of Baltimore, Joe Graves, Guy Massie, M. E. Reeves, Harry Rotha, R. L. Allen, Chas. Thomas, T. G. Boyd, Horton of Abbeville, S.C., Pennebaker of Nashville, Tenn., Harry Hall, J. R. Thomas, David Miller and the Misses Josephine Thomas and Roberta Miller.

MRS. J. N. SHOOLBRED GIVES PARTY.

Mrs. J. N. Shoolbred, who is entertaining with a series of lovely parties, gave another delightful affair on Saturday afternoon to honor her daughter, Mrs. Walter Taylor of Catonsville, Md. Three tables were arranged for bridge. At the conclusion of the games Miss Sara Thomas held the lucky score and was given an ice tea set of ribber mats, while the consolation, a jar of powder, fell to Mrs. Hayes of Canton. Among those playing were, Mesdames Chas. Harde, Guy Massie, C. F. Kirkpatrick, R. E. Wood, Walter Taylor, David Miller, Roy Francis, Hayes, Robt. Osborn, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and the Misses Josephine and Sara Thomas.

AN APPRECIATION.

Margie, N. C., June 26, 1925.
I wish to thank the good ladies for the good dinner they gave us and the kindness they showed us.

They have given us many dinners and all were good and nice, but this was the best public dinner I was ever at.

I met many old friends, many I knew and many I didn't know. I promised Mrs. John Queen the next dinner I would make a speech. I wish to state this, that Uncle Bob Platt, Bill Justice and Bill Griffin were on picket post in Kentucky, September 8, 1863, and the Yankees came on us, looked like about a hundred of them, and we got from there.

SELF-EVIDENT FACT.

The levy of an income tax, at proper rates, is a fair and economically sound means of raising the immense revenue required for operation of the government. But the tax must not be levied at rates so high as to hamper business, slacken initiative, disturb investment and encourage avoidance of the tax.

If the position of the income tax is to be made secure, we must prove its essential integrity. We must give to the income tax law what it deserves—the most obvious doors of escape from taxation without at the same time exposing the law to contempt by loading it with complicated provisions, unsuccessful in stopping tax avoidance. Our present law has many of these defects.

Taxable investment should yield a return of about 8 per cent to equal the net return of a 4 1/2 per cent tax-exempt security.

On the other hand, under a total normal and surtax of 20 per cent, a taxable security yielding slightly more than 5 1/2 per cent would be equivalent in net return to 4 1/2 per cent municipal bond.

We can see, therefore, if the surtax rates are reduced to a reasonable figure, the lure of tax exempt securities will become less appealing and the man of large income will find it advantageous to invest in productive business.

Camp Wyconda for Boys will open July 1st at Chestnut Park. Swimming, tennis, hiking, boxing. Address Mrs. Branner Gilmer, Camp Mother, Waynesville, N. C. 2to
