

REPLACING CAKES AND CANDIES WITH JEWELS, LACES AND BOUTONNIERES

Tin Boxes on Which Charming Designs Have Been Lithographed.

THE ornamental tin boxes in which one may now buy candies, dainty cakes, candied fruits, and the like, are a far cry from the days when such confections used to be carried home in paper bags. The attractive tin receptacles of today have value not only in the fact that they keep their contents fresh, but that they are real ornaments which will grace any library-table or buffet.

Nor does their value end there. Emptied of their edible contents, they may be put to numerous uses. Charming jewel boxes may be made of them; also boxes to hold handkerchiefs, gloves, ribbons, laces, or cigarettes.

Their lacquered decorations are so colorful and artistic that they will fit into almost any color-scheme. To make one of these pretty tin boxes over into a jewel-case, a pad of cotton wadding should be cut to fit the bottom of the box. Over this and around the sides should be carefully glued a velvet lining, in one of the colors used on the exterior decoration of the box. This padded and lined it appears to have been destined from the first to serve as a casket for beautiful jewels.

Satin linings are perhaps more suitable for the boxes that are to hold handkerchiefs, gloves, ribbons, etcetera. In these no wadding will be necessary. The satin lining should be cut to fit exactly the sides and bottom of the box, stretched smoothly over these surfaces and glued with care. In working with blue fabric use the best quality glue so there will be no discoloring and the surfaces will all here smoothly and permanently.

If a cigarette box is desired, it is better to use a square or oblong tin box. As a cigarette container it need not be lined, although it would not be inappropriate to do so. Perhaps a lining of taffeta silk would be best, because fragments of tobacco would not cling to it as they might to a satin surface. The box, with its prettily decorated cover, would be a pleasing addition either to the library table or to the dressing-table in lady's boudoir. For the latter, one should be selected that is done in light, dainty colorings; while a box of Oriental colors and design would be best suited to the library or a man's "den."

In selecting a lining for any of these boxes, it would be well to choose from the less dominant colors on the cover. For instance, where there is an Oriental design in rich red, blue and yellow, with the red predominating, the blue note had best be repeated in the lining. Or perhaps a box of Japanese design will be done in black and silver. Here a contrasting lining would be artistic, such as a pale green, or a bright Chinese red.

The work of adapting these lovely boxes to new uses is a fascinating one. They would make delightful Christmas gifts, with perhaps a sample enclosed of the ar-article they are designed to hold—in the handkerchief-box, a dainty kerchief of fine linen; a pair of gloves in the glove-box; cigarettes neatly placed in the box intended for that use; in the jewel-box, one of the dainty, pastel-colored pearl necklaces now so inexpensive but popular. Not, however, that any enclosure would be expected. For any one of these pretty boxes, neatly and artistically lined, would be a charming gift in itself.

These ornamental tin boxes may be procured in almost any candy-store or bakery. In tin boxes hard candy will keep fresh and dry and may be preserved for a long time. The tin cake-boxes usually hold fruit cakes, since it is desirable to keep them for an indefinite time. In this type of container the cakes will remain fresh and delicious. Such boxes of cakes or candies may be kept on the table in the living-room, or on the dining-room buffet. They will be found extremely handy, and as attractive as they are useful. They are a good investment.

A most attractive gift to a movie fan would consist of a group of boxes, each decorated with the face of a popular and celebrated screen actress, each used to match some color note of the boudoir and each labeled on the outside of the box below the lid with the name of the article for which intended, such as gloves or jewels.

No, I am not a Floridian, but a Virginian by birth, and a North Carolinian by adoption. There is enough room in this country for all of the states I am proud of Virginia when she advances; ashamed of her when she retreats. North Carolina has some charming features that Florida lacks and Florida possesses attractions that are hers alone.

CIVIC LEAGUE.

The Civic League will meet with Mrs. Paul Walker Friday afternoon, October 9, at 3:30.

Since this is the first meeting of the club year important business will be transacted and topics of interest will be discussed.

All members are urged to attend

The sum of $175,000,000 was transferred from the old Federal Reserve bank in St. Louis to the new without a cent being lost or stolen. But that was because the money was well guarded and about 10,000 predatory citizens of St. Louis were not aware of what was going on.

Miss Gladys Barefoot of Hallaboro, N. C. arrived this week to spend the winter months with her sister, Mrs. J. P. Dicus, on Boundary street.

Jersey City, N. J.—Mr. George M. Downs writes:—"When I was a trapeze performer traveling with the circus I contracted a severe stomach trouble and nervous breakdown. The doctor advised operation immediately, but I was afraid of operations and put it off. A friend suggested I try Tutt's Pills, 'he having used them for years. After the first dose I began to feel better and would not be without them. I feel as young and full of vigor as I did when I joined the circus." At all druggists.

Recipes for The Party

Punch
One quart of fruit juice can be made by boiling and mashing and put this way in the ice box and when ready to serve add sugar to taste and a quart of ice water. The juice of canned berries can be substituted in place of fresh and pineapple if you like.

Raspberry Punch
Two cups water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 2 cups orange juice, 1 cup canned whole raspberries, 1 cup raspberry juice. Boil sugar and water together 2 minutes and chill. Add fruit juices and berries and pour over ice in pitcher. This makes 6 glasses.

Chocolate Float
Three cups evaporated milk, 1 cup water, 4 ounces unsweetened chocolate, 3 tablespoons hot water, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, whipped cream flavored with vanilla. Scald the diluted milk in a double boiler. Mix the chocolate, sugar and hot water over the fire. Add to hot milk and beat well. Add vanilla and chill. Serve topped with whipped cream.

Pineapple Frost
Mix two cups syrup from canned pineapple, 1 cup ice water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-3 cup syrup. Pour into glasses containing cracked ice. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream and sprinkle with nutmeg.

Oriental Punch
To the juice of six oranges add one-half cup of the juice from each can, mashing and mashing and put this way in the ice box and when ready to serve add sugar to taste and a quart of ice water. The juice of canned berries can be substituted in place of fresh and pineapple if you like.

Pineapple Grape Juice Punch
Two cups pineapple juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 cups grape juice, 2 cups ice water, 3 large slices orange, 6 maraschino cherries. Mix pineapple and lemon juice and sugar and stir until sugar dissolves. Add grape juice and ice water and pour into glasses each containing a half slice of orange, a cherry and a small piece of ice.

Grapefruit Punch
One cup of juice drained from a can of grapefruit, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 2 cups orange juice, 2 cups ice water, 1-1/2 cups powdered sugar. Mix the fruit juices and sugar and stir until sugar dissolves. Add iced water and serve.

Rhubarb Punch
Three cups rhubarb, 3 cups water, 1-1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup juice from canned pineapple, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 cups ice water. Cook rhubarb which has been cut in small pieces without peeling. Rub through a fine strainer, add sugar and stir until it dissolves. Chill. Add fruit juices and ice water and pour into glasses.

FLORIDA.

Yes, I studied geography sometime ago, but the information given in it was very meager, and, besides, what was a fact yesterday is past history today and can no longer be quoted as correct.

I have been jotting down a few facts I have gleaned recently from different sources with reference to Florida, and will formulate a questionnaire.

Do you know that Florida is seven times the size of Massachusetts?

Do you know that only 2 per cent of the homes in Florida are mortgaged, whereas in many states more than one-half of them are mortgaged?

Do you know that the income of the inhabitants of Florida from agriculture, horticulture, livestock, fishing and mining industries is over $500,000,000 per year?
