How will your cough be tonight? Worse, probably. For it's first a cold, then a cough, then bronchitis or pneumonia, and at last consumption. Coughs always tend downward. Stop this downward tendency by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Gift for Chicago University.

A gift of a large collection of edition de luxe volumes, mostly historical and scientific, is the partial reward received by the University of Chicago for its active participation in the "France-American movement" to establish closer educational relations between France and the United States. The French Minister of Public Instruction has presented to the university a collection of all the works so have already been shipped.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, adds her testimony to the hundreds of thousands on Mrs. Pinkham's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people. Merit alone could win such fame: wise, therefore, is the woman who for a cure relies upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

'Was disposed." The original expresses more than an inclination on his part; he wished to go. "Into Achaia." Of which Corinth was the capital, and it was Corinth which he decided to visit. He may have been directed to this field of labor by Aquila and Priscilla. Being acquainted with the philosophy and learning of Greece he was well fitted to be a preacher to the Greeks as well as the Jews. We are not told of any apostolic commission to Apollos, but we know from 1 Cor. 1: 12, etc., that he came to be regarded by some Co-rinthians as the equal of St. Paul, and that there arose some strong party feeling in the church which is rebuked in St. Paul's letter to them. "Through grace" These words may refer either to Apollos or to the people at Corinth. It was through grace that they had believed, and it was through grace that Apollos was able to help them. 28. "Mightily convinced." See R. V.

He powerfully confuted the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the Old Testament Scriptures, which the Jews received as inspired, that Jesus was the Messiah, and that they could be saved only through Him. This they refused to do, and we know the consequence. Their city was sacked, their temple burnt, and more than a million of them were killed and the rest scattered over the face of the earth.

III. Paul arrives at Ephesus (v. 1). "Came to Ephesus." In accordance with the promise made them when returning from his second missionary journey (chap. 18: 21). Ephesus was not only the capital of the province, but was the city of the greatest importance in all Asia Minor-a splendid city, and the emporium of trade in the East. It was called one of the eyes of Asia, Smyrna, forty miles to the north, being the other. The city stood on the south of a plain about five miles long from cast to west, and three miles broad, with the Icarian Sea, an arm of the Aegean, on the west. Here Paul continued to labor for nearly three years. "Certain disciples." Although their knowledge was imperiect they were sincere and "possessed the ele-ments of a true faith." and as soon as the light shone upon them they at once walked in it.

IV. The haptism of the Holy Ghost (vs. 2-6).

2. , "The Holy Ghost." Paul was a Holy thost preacher. His first sentence brings these unenlightened disciples face to face with the deeper things of God.' It was the common privilege of the disciples of Christ to receive not only the ordinary graces, but also the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Spirit; and thus the disciples of Christ differed from those of John. The genuine disciples of Christ are still distinguished from all others by the baptism of the Holy Spirit, which enlightens, quickens and purifies. Those who have not received this rich baptism are living far beneath their privileges in the gospel. "As heard." See R. V., where the thought is made much clearer. This cannot mean that they knew nothing about the Holy Ghost, but they were ignorant with regard to Pentecost. If they were "disciples" they must have been regenerated by the Holy Ghost, but now it remained for them to be purified by faith (Acts 15: 9), and to receive the gifts and graces which came as a result of this heavenly baptism. 4. "Of repentance." John called upon the people to repent and prepare the way of the Lord, and pointed to Jesus as the Messiah. "That is, on Jesus." "The clos-ing words of the sentence are a condensation of all the explanations by which the apostle convinced them that Jesus, whom he preached, was the prophet whom John announced 6. "Spake with tongues." This was Pentecost repeated. A new outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon a new twelve. "Prophesied." Not the ability to foretell future events, but the power to preach the gospel and to expound the Scriptures was given them. See I Cor. 14: 3. No person is qualified to preach the gospel, or to do Christian work of any kind, until he has received the baptism of the Spirit.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts direct-ly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Shall I Look Back?

From some dim height of being, undescried,

- Shall I look back and trace the weary way
- By which my feet are journeying todav-
- he toilsome path that climbs the mountain side.
- Or leads into the valley sun-denied. Where, through the darkness, hapless wanderers stray,
- Unblessed, uncheered, ungladdened by a ray
- certitude their errant steps to guide
- Shall I look back and see the great things small;
- The toilsome path, God's training for my feet,
- The pains that never had been worth my tears?
- Will some great light of rapture, bathing all,
- Make bygone woe seem joy: past bitter. sweet?
- Shall I look back and wonder at my fears

Are electricity and electric currents necessary concepts? In the modern theory they are not necessary and both are misleading. The word "current' must remain, but it is too late now to change it. The word "elec-

Not in the House.

Representative MacCartney of the Massachusetts legislature tells the story of an associate who, on being elected to the general court of the state for the first time, was very greatly impressed with the dignity of his office. One night he was sleeping soundly when his wife heard, or thought she heard, a noise. She tried to arouse her spouse and found it far from easy. Giving him a hard shake, she whispered:

"John, John, wake up! There are thieves in the house."

"No, no, Marta, you are mistaken," he answered; "there may be one or two in the senate, but there are none in the house."-New York Times.

time had difficulties in understanding each other. Faraday in his mind's eye saw lines of force traversing all space where the mathematicians saw centres of force acting at a distance. Faraday saw a medium where they saw nothing but distance. Faraday sought the seat of the phenomena in real actions going on in the medium; they were satisfied that they had found it in the power of action at a distance. Faraday conceived the space surrounding the magnet of wire carrying an electric current to be full of lines of force-a conceptiin upon which all his work of electrical dynamics is founded. Thus he was able to make his great discovery of magnetic electric induction. Given that electricity was flowing through a wire, it provoked magnetism in a neighboring iron body. What was the converse? By sheer experimenting he arrived at the notion of cutting the lines of force in space by a wire. This cutting of the invisible magnetic lines is the essential act nec. essary for induction .- London Electrical Review.

leaves the king the possessor of an enormous fortune in the plate he has inherited from his mother, both of Buckingham Palace and at Winds Castle. The late queen had the great preponderance of her plate at Wind sor, whereas during the present reign Buckingham Palace will probably be the more plentifully supplied. N valuation has had to be made for pro bate duty, for the king does not pay the king's taxes, any more than the speaker of the third estate speaks. Not long ago, however, an inventors was made at Windsor Castle, with the result that the plate, most of it silver, some of it gold, and a portion of it, such as metal peacock and other ornaments, set with gems, was appraised at a sum far in excess of a million pounds. Edward VII., who has made considerable additions to the collection by the transfer of his own plate from Marlborough House, may well be alluded to among connoisseurs as "the silver king."-London Daily Chronicle.
