A MECHANIC-PRIEST.

NO. 18.

Cure Mends Motor Cars When Not Engaged in Holy Offices.

Near the northern coast of France, on a route much frequented by motorists, lies the village of Graincourt. Here a beautiful little church is set high among the trees, with a tower reflected tranquilly in a lake that sleeps beside the road, and a cometery that home of the priest and around it a strange litter of bicycles, motor cycles, automobiles, oil cans and tools, while the open doors of an out-building reveal on one side a kind of garage, on the other a repair shop. From Chaplain Harry W. Jones, United this building, as the tourist approaches sionary, with bright eyes and a grizsled beard, a kindly smile and musoular arms bared to the elbow. Is this the cure of Graincourt or is it the village mechanic? He is both. Times are hard, since the law separating church from State went into effect, and one must live, explains the cure.

M. le Cure is no martyr, however. His father was a smith, and he grow up with a passion for tools. When the bicycle came in he became an amateur specialist, and the fifteen years he has been mending punctured tires and repairing broken pedals for his flock free of charge. Then came the motor car. With its mysterious life, so powerful in its frail envelope. The motor car won the heart of the cure. He loves it and thinks he understands it. He has even built a car and a motor cycle

And so the fame of the mechanical cure of Graincourt has gone abroad

This is one of the most horrifying nimes that has ever been committee this city, and the authorities are heady making efforts to ferret out hs mystery.

Herrmit's Hidden Money.

Asheville, Special.-The executor of the estate of the late William Job Cleveland, the "hermit," of Swannanoa township near Asheville, who committed suicide recently at the age of S6 years, has filed with the clerk of the court an inventory of the cs tate. It is found that Cleveland left nearly one thousand dollars, all of Runson, Jr., a railway conductor which was found buried about the premises; also the farm in Swannanoa and 879 shares of stock in concerns and corporations in Georgia, Alabama, New Jersey and North Dakota. The par value of all the stock is more than ten thousand dollars. Although it has not yet been determined just what market value of the holdings will be. The old "hermit" live! a beggarly life at his river home, subsisting for the most part on canned goods. He was generally regarded as queer and the finding of nearly one thousand dollars secreted on the premises causes no surprise. It is believed that there is still other money hid about the place.

Will Be No Tariff Revision.

Washington, D. C., Special.-Therc will be no revision of tariff in the next Congress, said Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means Committee of the House. "In my opinion, there is a tacit agreement among the Republicans that it would be unwise to agitate revision on the eve of a presidential election. I don't anticipate any depression in the industries of our country and I am certainly not at all worried by the so-called financial panie."

Peanuts are beginning to form an appreciable and rapidly growing item in the foreign commerce of the United States, especially in the import trade, notes the Farmer's Home Journal. Despite the fact that the United States produces probably 12 million bushels of peanuts per annum, her exportations have been in such inconsiderable quantities that the Bureau of Statistics has only recently found it necessary to include peanuts in its list of articles exported. Meantime the imports have also rapidly increased and the total foreign commerce in this arti cle in the year about to end will aggregate nearly one million dollars, the imports having grown in value from less than $6,000 in the year 1900 to about a half million dollars in the present year, while exports for the year will approximate about 300 thousand dollars.
