Resigns From Supreme Court to Run For Governor in New Jersey.

Franklin Fort, of Essex, was nominated for Governor by the Republican State Convention in Taylor Opera House. He is ex-Justice now. After being brought before the convention, but before he proceeded to accept the nomination, he handed his resigna-tion to Gov. Stokes, who sat on the platform. Former Attorney-General John W. Griggs was temporary and permanent chairman.

The platform indorses the National the history of Standard Oil the and State administrations of Presintity of the largest stockholders in dent Roosevelt, and Gov. Stokes claims all the credit for all good legislation and good things done in the State. It favors an amendment of the United States Constitution providing for the direct election of United States Senators, promises reform legislation relative to grand juries, favors vesting in the judiciary the power to review primary and general lation to the Sherman anti-trust elections, to order a recount and to seat the properly elected candidate. Proper legislation for the control of public utilities is promised, as is similar legislation on excise. The election of Assemblymen by districts is favored. Fiscal reforms and the consolidation of departments and commissions of the State government ara declared wise.

The convention was entirely harmonious, and the platform, as prepared by the State Committee, was adopted with slight changes. In Dread of Being Suspected of Gluttony People Only Indulge Their Healthy Appetites in Secret-Demand For "Liquor Sweets."

London, England. - Sir James Crichton-Browne, in delivering the presidential address at the annual meeting of the Sanitary Inspectors' Association at Llandudno, referred to the English meat supply and urged the abolition of private slaughter houses and the providing of public abattoirs and a central office for meat inspection. Then people no longer would find "prize Christmas fat beef absolutely filled with generalized tuberculosis." He added: "If Chicago has its jungle London has its dismal swamp."

That the public would not protect itself, Sir James said, was proved by, the fact that a certain American brand of jam, advertised as the finest raspherry, bears on its label the generous impression: "This jam is made of glucose, with artificial seeds and is colored with harmless aniline dyes." This candon is rewarded by

In another part of his address the emineat physician denounced what he described as the prevalent craze for getting thin. All the fashionable food fads, follies of the hour, he said, were in the nature of deprivation. At one time the tendency was to stuff and every new nutriment was hailed as a boon to humanity.

Now the pendulum had swung to the other extreme. Aldermen are like laths and citizens train down as for athletic sports. Only duodecimo portions are served at dinners. On all hands the cry is that we eat too much. So fierce in some quarters is the propaganda of dietetic ascetism that in dread of being suspected of gluttony people only indulge their healthy appetite in secret.

This craze, added Sir James, was producing a debility which sufferers therefrom were seeking to combat by indulgence in alcohol and narcotics. There was a great consumption of "liquor sweets," things which contained in a sugar or chocolate casing rum, gin and liquors.

The surreptitious consumption of drugs, too, seemed for the same reason to be growing. Chloroform and other intoxicating drugs were being incorporated in lozenges, which were particularly favored by women, who found that thereby they were able to obtain the obfuscation they desired.

ADVOCATES STATE OWNERSHIP.

Lord Brassey Says Railways Should Belong to Public, Liverpool, England .- Presiding at a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce here Lord Brassey appeared in a new role—that of an advocate of the State ownership of solely in the interests of the public service and not for the benefit of the shareholders, and declared that if a change of policy were ser ously proposed there could hardly be a doubt that it would receive the support of Parliament.

In Continental Europe, Lord Brassey added, where the railroads were the property of the State, the requirements of the public were fully considered and the results to the Treasury were satisfactory, while in Great Britain competition was carried to excess, an immense amount of capital was wasted, shippers were dissatisfied with the burdensome rates; and the employes were discontented with their wages and hours of labor.

SAYS CRICHTON-BROWNE Attempt Made to Wreck a Passenger Train.

> Charlotte, Special.—A timely discovery prevented what might have resulted in a disastrous wreck Sunday night about 9 o'clock, a freight train crew on the Southern finding that the switch at the junction had been tampered with, the plates broken and bolts badly disconnected. The freight crew had gone down the main line to clear the track for passenger train No. 35, southbound, meaning to push their train on the siding when they made the discovery and saw three men running at full speed away from the scene. The passenger train was then due, but a runner was sent up the track far enough to stop the fast train that was pulling close to the peril.

Though strongly of the belief that she had traetated him badly he said he was going to take her back with him. What occurred Saturday night to provoke the assault does not appear. Anderson says he was crazed by morphine and stabbed his wife with a butcher knife and the wound was a most vicious one. He will remain in jail until there is a change for the better. Suspecting that he was going to make such an attempt Mrs. Mullen followed him within a few minutes but by the time she reached the sitting room her husband was lying on the floor with the blood flowing from a wound near his heart. Other members of the family were notified and Mr. Mullen was hastily taken to the Presbyterian Hospital where he remains in fair condition. The attending physicians hald out the hope that he will survivve the wound which he inflicted. Fortunately the knife stopped before it reached the heart.
