USE OF MOTTO IRREVERENT.

Showers of Protest Against New Gold Coins Force an Explanation from the President.

Washington Dispatch, 13th.

In answer to one of the numerous protests which have been received at the White House against the new gold coins which have been coined without the words "In God We Trust," President Roosevelt has written a letter which he to-day made Public. The letter follows:

"When the question of the new coinage came up we looked into the law and found there was no warrant therein for putting "In God We Trust" on the coins. As the custom, although without legal warrant, had grown up, however, I might have felt at liberty to keep the inscription had I approved of its being on the coin. But as I did not approve of it, I did not direct that it should again be put on. Of course, the matter of the law is absolutely in the hands of the Congress, and any direction of Congress in the matter will be immediately obeyed. At present, as I have said, there is no warrant in law for the inscription.

IS IRREVERENT.

"My own feeling in the matter is due to my very firm conviction that to put such a motto on coins or to use it in any kindred manner, not only does no good, but does positive harm, and is in effect irreverence which comes dangerously close to sacrilege. A beautiful and solemn sentence, such as the one in question, should be treated and uttered only with that fine reverence which necessarily implies a certain exaltation of spirit. Any use which tends to cheapen it, and above all, any use which tends to secure its being treated in a spirit of levity, is from every standpoint profoundly to be regretted.

"It is a motto which it is indeed well to have inscribed on our great national monuments, in our temples of Justice, in our legislative halls and in buildings such as those at West Point and Annapolis, in short whatever it will to arouse and inspire a lofty emotion in those who look thereon. But seems to me eminently unwise to cheapen such a motto by use on postage stamps or in advertisements.

PAST EXPERIENCE.

"As regards its use on the coinage we have actual experience by which to go. In all my life I have never heard any human being speak reverently of this motto on the coins or show any signs of its having appealed to any high emotion to him, but I have literally hundreds of times heard it used as an occasion of and incitement to the sneering ridicule which it is above all things undesirable that so beautiful and exalted a phrase should excite. For example, throughout the long contest extending over several decades on the free coinage question, the existence of motto on the coins was a source of jest and ridicule, and this was unavoidable. Every one must remember the innumerable cartoons and articles based on phrases like 'In God we trust for the eight cents,' 'In God we trust for the short weight,' 'In God we trust for the thirty-seven cents we do not pay,' and so forth, and so forth.

IS UNDERSIRABLE.

"Surely I am well within bounds when I say that a use of the phrase which invites constant levity of this type is most undesirable. If congress alters the law and directs me to replace on the coins the sentence in question, the direction will be immediately put into effect, but I very earnestly hope that the religious sentiment of the country, will prevent any such action being taken.

NO OPINION IN $30,000 FINE CASE.

Opinions in only eight cases on appeal were delivered by the Supreme court this evening. Again the anxiously awaited case of the state versus the Southern railway, involving a $30,000 fine against the Southern, for violation of the 2 1/2 cent passenger rate, was not in the list.
