GERMAN REPLY DOES NOT EXPRESS FINAL DECISION

Note in Reply to American Demands Evades Direct Answer to Main Questions. Await Washington's Answer.

ACTING IN SELF-DEFENSE

Reasons For Sinking Lusitania And Other Ships—Tone of Reply is Friendly

Berlin.—Germany withholds its final decision on the demands advanced by the United States Government in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania, until the receipt of an answer from the United States, to the note which Herr von Jagow, the Foreign Minister, has delivered to Ambassador Gerard in reply to the American note received by the German Government on May 15.

In its reply the German Government declares that it is not its intention to submit neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by submarine or aeroplanes, that it is investigating the circumstances in connection with the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Guilflight and that in all cases where neutral vessels, through no fault of their own have been damaged, Germany will pay indemnification.

The reply urges that in the case of the Lusitania, which Germany alleges, was armed and carried large stores of war munitions, "it acted in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy."

The German Government recalls the proposals submitted by the United States Government to Berlin and London, designed to end the submarine warfare and the shutting out of food supplies from Germany which, it declares, failed of their purpose because of the refusal of the British Government to agree to them.

Text of Note.

The following is the text of the German note: "The undersigned has the honor to submit to Ambassador Gerard, the following answer to the communication of May 15, regarding the injury to American interests through German submarine warfare."

"The Imperial Government has subjected the communication of the American Government to a thorough investigation. It entertains also a keen wish to co-operate in a frank and friendly way in clearing up a possible misunderstanding which may have arisen in the relations between the two Governments through the events mentioned by the American Government."

"Regarding, firstly, the case of the American steamers Cushing and Guilflight. The American Embassy has already been informed that the German Government has no intention of submitting neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attack by a submarine or submarines or aviators. On the contrary, the German forces have repeatedly been instructed most specifically to avoid attacks on such ships."

Isolated Cases.

"If neutral ships in recent months have suffered through the German submarine warfare, owing to mistakes in identification, it is a question only of quite isolated and exceptional cases, which can be attributed to the British Government's abuse of flags, together with the suspicious or culpable behavior of the masters of the ships."

"The German Government in all cases in which it has been shown by its investigations that a neutral ship, not itself at fault, was damaged by German submarines or aviators, has expressed regret over the unfortunate accident and, if justified by conditions, has offered indemnification."

Sinking of Falaba.
"When sinking the British steamer Falaba the commander of the German submarine had the intention of allowing the passengers and crew a full opportunity to escape. Only when the master did not obey the order to heave-to, but fled and summoned help by rocket signals, did the German commander order the crew and passengers by signals and megaphone to leave the ship within 10 minutes. He actually allowed them 23 minutes time and fired the torpedo only when suspicious craft were hastening to the assistance of the Falaba."

Lusitania Disaster.
"Regarding the loss of life by the sinking of the British passenger steamer Lusitania, the German Government has already expressed to the neutral Governments concerned its deep regret that citizens of their states lost their lives."

"On this occasion the Imperial Government, however, cannot escape the impression that certain important facts having a direct bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania may have escaped the attention of the American Government."

An Auxiliary Cruiser.
"In the interest of a clear and complete understanding which is the aim of both Governments, the Imperial Government considers it first, necessary to convince itself that the information accessible to both Governments about the facts of the case is complete and in accord. The Government of the United States proceeds on the assumption that the Lusitania could be regarded as an ordinary unarmed merchantman. The Imperial Government allows itself in this connection to point out that the Lusitania was one of the largest and fastest British merchant ships, built with Government funds as an auxiliary cruiser and carried expressly as such in the 'Navy list' issued by the British Admiralty."

"It is further known to the Imperial Government, from trustworthy reports from its agents and neutral passengers, that for a considerable time practically all the more valuable British merchantmen have been equipped with cannon and ammunition and other weapons and manned with persons who have been specially trained in serving guns. The Lusitania, too, according to information received here had cannon aboard which were mounted and concealed below decks."

Prizes for Ramming

"The Imperial Government further has the honor to direct the particular attention of the American Government to the fact that the British admiralty in a confidential instruction, issued in February, 1915, recommended its mercantile shipping not only to seek protection under neutral flags and distinguishing marks, but also, while thus disguised to attack German submarines by ramming. As a special incitation to merchantmen to destroy submarines the British government also offered high prizes and has already paid such rewards."

"The Imperial government in view of these facts, indubitably known to it, is unable to regard British merchantmen in the zone of naval operations specified by the admiralty staff of the German navy as 'undefended.' German commanders consequently are no longer able to observe the customary regulations of the prize law, which they before always followed."

Carrier War Material.

"Finally the Imperial government must point out particularly that the Lusitania on its last trip, as on earlier occasions, carried Canadian troops and war material, including no less than 5,400 cases of ammunition intended for the destruction of the brave German soldiers who are fulfilling their duty with self-sacrifice and devotion in the fatherland's service."

"The German government believes it was acting in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy."

"The British shipping company must have been aware of the danger to which the passengers aboard the Lusitania were exposed under these conditions. The company in embarking them, notwithstanding this attempted deliberately to use the lives of American citizens as protection for the ammunition aboard and acted against the clear provisions of the American law which expressly prohibits the forwarding of passengers on ships carrying ammunition and provides a penalty therefor. The company, therefore, is wantonly guilty of the death of so many passengers."

There can be no doubt, according to the definite report of the submarine's commander, which is further confirmed by all other information, that the quick sinking of the Lusitania is primarily attributable to the explosion of the ammunition shipment caused by a torpedo. The Lusitania passengers would otherwise, in all human probability, have been saved."

"The Imperial government considers the above-mentioned facts important enough to recommend them to the attentive examination of the American government."

Withholds Final Decision.

"The Imperial government, while withholding its final decision on the demands advanced in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania until receipt of an answer from the American government, feels impelled in conclusion, to recall here and now, that it took cognizance with satisfaction of the mediatory proposals submitted by the United States government to Berlin and London as a basis for a modus vivendi for conducting the maritime warfare between Germany and Great Britain. The Imperial government, by its readiness to enter upon a discussion of these proposals, then demonstrated its good intentions in ample fashion. The realization of these proposals was defeated, as is well known, by the declinatory attitude of the British government."

"The undersigned takes occasion, etc.

(Signed) "JAGOW."

Mighty Battles Raging.

London.—Around the great fortress of Przemysl a mighty battle is still raging. The Austro-German armies are making a supreme effort to cut off the stronghold and free these armies for operations against Italy and the Allies in the west."

Although great human sacrifices are being made, progress latterly has been extremely slow, as the Russians have had time to bring up large reinforcements."

North of Przemysl the Russians appear to be more than holding their own, but to the southeast the Austrians and Germans claim further headway and now command with their artillery the railway between Przemysl and Grodek, which runs just south of the main line between Przemysl and Lemberg. From Lemberg the Russians draw a large portion of their reinforcements."

Petrograd, via London.—Prisoners taken by Russian armies and interned in Russia up to the first of April according to figures made public, number 10,734 officers and 605,378 men."

Steamer Mackinaw on Fire

San Francisco.—The steamer Mackinaw is said to be on fire off Point Reyes, 30 miles north of San Francisco. The United States Coast Guard cutter McCullough is proceeding to her assistance. The Mackinaw sailed from this port for Portland, Ore. No passengers are aboard the Mackinaw. Her crew consists of 40 men. The vessel is not carrying a cargo. Later reports said the Mackinaw was being towed into the harbor at Point Reyes by the steam schooners Speedwell and Coronado."

Presbyterian Assembly Adjourns.

Newport News, Va.—The fifty-sixth general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the South has ended, the final session being devoted to the presentation of committee reports. The next general assembly will be held at Orlando, Fla., May 18, 1916. The assembly adopted a resolution for the creation on November 9, 1915, at the First Presbyterian Church, Bristol, Va., Tenn., of the Synod of Appalachia. The synod will embrace the mountainous sections of North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky."
