Circle "C" Enjoys Christmas Party

Members of Circle "C" of the Methodist church were entertained at a delightful Christmas party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ben Brantley, with Mrs. Walter Price as joint hostess.

Christmas decorations, including a brilliantly-lighted tree, were used throughout the house. The guests were seated at tables, each centered with a red candle. Refreshments were served in two courses, the Christmas color scheme being observed here as well as in the decorations.

Mrs. J. L. Branson conducted the devotional and led in prayer. During the business hour officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: Leader, Mrs. Harry Everitt; assistant leader, Mrs. Walter Price; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Rudolph Howell; assistant secretary and treasurer, Mrs. B. C. DuBose; reporter, Mrs. G. H. Younger.

Afterwards, hearts dice was played. Mrs. G. H. Younger, Mrs. Bill Thad Woodard, and Mrs. E. L. Green tied for the prize, the final winner being Mrs. Woodard. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Mayer.

The retiring Circle leader, Mrs. Brantley, and retiring secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Walter Price, were presented gifts from the members. Gifts were also exchanged among the guests from the tree.

Hostesses To Betty Noble Bible Class

Mrs. C. A. Bailey and Mrs. W. L. Etheredge entertained the members of the Betty Noble Sunday School class of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bailey.

Christmas decorations and glowing candles were everywhere in evidence as the guests were greeted by the hostesses.

The class president, Mrs. Bailey, had charge of the business details. During this time, names for Pollyanna gifts were drawn. Following the business, Bingo was enjoyed. The winner, Mrs. J. L. Branson, was presented red candles.

The hostesses served refreshments which emphasized the Christmas color scheme, red and green pear salad, Russian tea, ice box cookies and Ritz crackers.

Birth Announcement

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blackman, Jr., of Greenville, a son, on December 12. Mrs. Blackman is the former Miss Elizabeth Aycock, of Fremont.

Miss Jean Davis Heard Over WPTF

Miss Jean Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Davis, who is a student at Meredith College, was one of the soloists in the annual Christmas concert presented by the college choir in the college auditorium Sunday evening. The same program was broadcast from WPTF Monday evening, with Miss Davis as one of the outstanding soloists.

Woman's Missionary Society Met Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church held the December meeting Monday afternoon at the church, with Mrs. W. G. Ricks and Mrs. J. F. Brown as joint hostesses.

"Silent Night" was sung as the meeting was opened. The devotional was led by Mrs. Brown, who read the beautiful story of the Nativity of Christ from the second chapter of St. Luke.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Roy Driver. During this time the annual "Lottie Moon Christmas Offering" was made.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. A. Z. Thompson, Sr., and Mrs. Leon Brown. The topic was "Thinking and Doing," with emphasis on "These Things Do," together with excerpts from the life of Miss Lottie Moon, late beloved missionary to China.

Mrs. G. D. Vick told of the mission work in Algeria, Africa. Mrs. E. V. Woodard spoke on the work being done in Latin America, especially in Argentina. Mrs. Norman Screws' message dealt with "The Orient," and Mrs. J. W. Barham's with "Europe and The Near East." Mrs. D. M. Clemmons used as her theme, "Christmas for Christ—Behold Your God." She also named various objects for which the Christians of the foreign fields have asked prayer.

Mrs. Katie Stallings reported personal service work being done by the members at the local Red Cross room.

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses served ice cream sandwiches.

Attention Ladies!

Ladies, this is the second call for your discarded nylon and silk hose. If you have sons, husbands or brothers in service your contribution of worn out hose will do them a great justice by giving them more fighting material, which is so badly needed.

Boxes for this contribution are located in the Post Office, Carolina Beauty Nook, Selma Drug Co. and Woodard and Creech Drug Company.

Remember, 1000 hose or 500 pairs make one parachute and one parachute could save several lives.

Mrs. Ray Hostess To S. S. Class

Mrs. R. L. Ray entertained the Willing Worker's class of the Selma Methodist Sunday school at her home on Railroad Street Wednesday afternoon.

The teacher of the class, Mrs. James Kemp conducted the devotional, reading the Christmas story from the second chapter of Luke after which she offered prayer.

Mrs. Herbert White called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting, in the absence of the secretary. There were 11 members present.

Miss Jeffreys Presents Vocal Recital

Sanata No. 1 in C.....Mozart
Song from Sea Pieces.....MacDowell
Dance Caprice.....Crieg
Tarantelle.....Heller
Clair de Lune.....Debussy
Valcik.....Mokrejs
O Holy Night (Vocal).....Gabriel Adam

Circle "A" Meets With Mrs. R. E. Suber

Circle A of the Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church met with Mrs. R. E. Suber Tuesday afternoon. Decorations were in keeping with the Yule-tide season. A Christmas carol, "Songs the Angels Sing," was sung by Mrs. W. B. Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. H. Call.

The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Call, who read the second chapter of Luke, and from "The Upper Room," in connection with the Scriptures. Mrs. G. F. Brietz led in prayer and entertained the members with a Christmas story, entitled "Anniversary."

The business period was presided over by Mrs. George Proffitt. During the social hour Bingo was played. First prize, a box of handkerchiefs, went to Mrs. J. A. Ellis, while Mrs. J. H. Pridgen received the consolation prize, a Christmas stocking.

The guests were invited to the dining room for refreshments, which consisted of jello, topped with whipped cream and fruit cake. In one corner gifts were piled high under a decorated tree, and following refreshments an exchange of presents was made.

The new pastor's wife, Mrs. George W. Blount, was presented a vase by Mrs. Suber, and a book by Mrs. Brietz.
