Serial story of the boy next door

It's Don's story. But the name could just as well be Walt or Jim or Bob or any other.

- And, of course, the fifth entry in the little address book really hasn't been written yet. But it will be — and we hope to have a hand in making it come true.
- When Don and millions like him went to war, they were given the best weapons and equipment in the world. Equipment turned out fast by machines that were turned by plentiful, low-priced electric power.
- When these boys come home again, electric power will be ready in even greater abundance—to serve new industries and create new opportunities. For power makes production—and production makes jobs.

• The electric light and power companies are prepared for peace as they were for war — thanks to foresight, planning and sound business management.

• They're keeping rates low as costs rise. And they're supplying well over 80% of America's electric service — the best, as well as the most, that any nation enjoys.

DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT ISN'T RATIONED!

Can You Picture NORTH CAROLINA without its War Activities?

War is a long way from North Carolina—but in so many ways it's mighty close to us. Our men are fighting all over the world — our factories and farms are producing an endless stream of supplies our troops depend upon. But even that isn't all — it wouldn't be enough!

We have so much more to do right here in North Carolina—jobs that are up to all of us, jobs that must be well done. In the 4th War Bond Drive, for instance, North Carolinians bought $172,000,000 worth — 37% above our quota—but we're keeping right on buying more and more! We've gladly given our money to the Red Cross — and hundreds of thousands of hours of our time to making surgical dressings and kits for our men overseas.

We've supported and worked for the U.S.O. and various war relief groups. We've built and maintained an efficient Civilian Defense organization. We've collected scrap and rubber, tin and fats. Whatever has been asked, North Carolina has done — and then some!

The men and women of the Greyhound Lines, like their fellow-citizens of North Carolina, have shared in all of these activities. They've also shared in the vital job of moving wartime manpower — in uniform or in work clothes. On special occasions they've transported U.S.O. Camp Shows and brought partners to camp dances. Greyhound buses — by making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities they serve in this State — by linking cities, war plants, farm centers, and military camps and bases — are helping to keep North Carolina's war efforts rolling toward Victory!
