

Kenan Students Exhibit Projects

Sophomore history and biology students at James Kenan high school recently held an exhibit of project exhibits at the school. The history students have been studying ancient civilizations and making models that illustrate highlights of these civilizations. The projects depict the earliest age of man through the Roman Empire. The students are taught by Mrs. Jo C. Jones.

Science students, in Mrs. Martha Jane Brinson's biology class, have been studying leaves, insects, and wild flowers. For their projects each student had to collect 50 leaves or 30 insects or 30 wild flowers. Pictured above are exhibits in each of the two divisions.

E. C. C. New Dormitory for Women To Be Seven-Floor Modern Building

Greenville, N. C. - East Carolina College's new dormitory for women, for which contracts have just been awarded, will add something novel to the campus landscape and to the skyline of Greenville. A seven-floor structure of modern design, it will be the tallest building in the city.

Vice President and Business Manager T. D. Duncan has just announced that contracts totaling $1,087,000 have been awarded and that work is scheduled to begin before Christmas. The dormitory is expected to be ready for use by January, 1954.

Location of the residence hall will be just west of Garrett Hall on what is now a wooded area of the campus. The building will face the west wing of Garrett and its main structure will be perpendicular to East Fifth Street.

Designed by architect Jesse Page and Associates of Raleigh, plans for the new residence hall indicate that it will be a handsome modern building with a flat, built-up roof and with a total floor space of approximately 90,000 feet. Construction will be of steel, concrete, and brick.

The building will include a one-floor reception room and foyer, two seven-floor wings providing living quarters for 432 women students, two elevators located centrally between the wings, and a basement providing a recreation lounge and storage space.

The entrance will lead into the one-floor reception room, which will feature large areas of glass in its wall space. Opening on this area will be an office for each of two counselors and a parlor.

Students rooms will be located on the seven floors of the two wings. Floors will be of vinyl asbestos, and walls will be plastered. A typical room planned for two students will measure 35 1/2' x 12' and will include two closets with overhead storage space and a built-in dresser and mirror. Other furnishings will be movable. Each floor will provide two bathrooms and a laundry room for student use.

In addition, accommodations will include mail boxes placed in the first-floor foyer, a kitchen on the first floor, small apartments for each of the two counselors, and a luggage and storage room on each floor.

The driveway to the rear of Garrett Hall will be extended to curve along the west side of the new dormitory and to provide a service entrance at the rear. Several parking spaces will be constructed in the vicinity of the building.

The new residence hall will be the tenth dormitory at the college for women students and will enable the college to provide living quarters for 500 women. Mr. Duncan said. Three dormitories for men provide space for 1540 students, he stated. Total number of students taking work on the campus this fall is 5,862.

Funds for the new building were obtained through a loan to the college by the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency. Payment will be made from rental fees. The new dormitory is the fourth at the college to be financed in whole or in part by the agency, Mr. Duncan said.

Contracts have been awarded as follows: General Contract, Construction Co., Charlotte, $98; Plumbing, Community Heating and Heating Co., Greenville, $76,234; Heating, Southern Heating and Engineering Co., Charlotte, $67,839; Electrical Facilities, Wilson Electric Co., Wilson, $50,000; and Elevators, Otis Elevator Co., Raleigh, $48,428.

H. D. C. Studies Built-ins

"Attics and cellars in old homes are being replaced in the newer and modern homes with closets and built-ins", said Miss Elizabeth Slocum, assistant Home Economics agent on Wednesday.

Miss Slocum met with Scott Store Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Marion Murphy. She showed ways of arranging storage space in closets to give compact room for flat articles such as card tables and ironing boards. Window seats serve many purposes and are attractive. Sliding doors for closets and home built hangers for storing little girl's shoes in their room are some points demonstrated to conserve space.

Mrs. Irving Kornegay, clothing leader, showed a new sewing machine attachment for doing no-waste stitching. She also told me-
