Stock Car Auto Racing

Darlington, S. C. A national and an international beauty queen has been added to the traditional Southern Festival week that always shares billing with the Labor Day Southern 500 stock car racing classic at Darlington Raceway.

Brunette Ioda Marie Vargas, of Porto Alegre, Brazil, the current Miss Universe and brownette Geri Schmidt of Farmington, Michigan, the current Miss Sun Fun, USA, will serve as the Queen's court of honor during the Festival parade and Miss Southern 500 beauty pageant.

Miss Vargas won her title from fifty international beauty queens at Miami Beach in July while blue-eyed Miss Schmidt, a junior at Ohio State University, was over a like number of contestants from other states during the Sun Fun celebration at Myrtle Beach this year.

The queens will be joined by TV star Clint Eastwood (Rowdy Yates) for the beauty pageant ceremonies and along with the Miss Southern 500 winner, greet the winner of the stock car race in Victory Lane.

CP&L Names Agent To District Post

Katie Sue Grady, a Duplin County native and home economics teacher at St. Andrews College in Laurinburg, has been appointed home service representative in the office Power & Light Company, Stockingham District.

Miss Grady succeeds Miss Glendia Thompson, who has resigned the position to return to college.

CP&L District Manager J. G. Lee said Miss Grady will represent the company in Rockingham, Wadesboro, Elerbe Hamlet, Kenansville and other communities in the district. She will assist and advise families in new home and remodeling projects and will support appliance dealers, builders, architects and various public groups in the promotion of electric living.

Miss Grady is a graduate of Kenansville High School and received her Bachelor's degree in June 1962 from the University of North Carolina in the field of home economics. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grady.

"Agriculture is the foundation of manufacturing, since the production of nature are the materials of industry," she said.

Branch Banking And Trust Company Building Raleigh's Tallest Office

Branch Banking and Trust Company today announced plans for the largest and tallest office building and industrial construction in the city. The building will be built in what is described as a "simple contemporary style, with large areas of dark glass and strong vertical patterns." The exterior will be of curtain wall construction with vertical mullions of natural anodized aluminum extending to the roof. The base of the building, including the first and second floors which comprise the building lobby and the main banking floor, will be of black granite with large expanses of glass which will open the banking mezzanine and building lobby to outside view. A drive-in motor banking facility will be provided at street level on the corner of Davie and Wilmington streets. A unique electronic drive-up facility will provide television banking service from customer's cars under the cover of the building.

ing itself. Two television units, through which the customer sees the teller and the teller in turn has full view of the motor customer, will be connected with the main banking floor. Transactions will be handled by pneumatic tubes from the drive-in area to the bank floor.

Branch Banking and Trust Company purchased the downtown corner property about two years ago. Under the arrangement announced yesterday, a financial group will be actual owners of the building, with the bank as major tenant. Principals in the financial arrangement are Albert G. McCarthy, Jr., and his son Albert G. McCarthy, III, of New York, Washington and Tampa, Florida; the New York real estate firm of Cushman and Wakefield; and Warren G. Carson, executive vice president of Cushman and Wakefield.

Estimated total cost of the structure is in excess of five million dollars. Emery Roth and Sons of New York City are architects for the building, in association with Holloway and Reeves of Raleigh, and G. Milton Small and Associates of Raleigh, are consultants and architects for Branch Banking and Trust Company, and did the planning and designing of the bank facilities. Builder will be Rea Construction Company of Charlotte. Estimated construction time is approximately 18 months. Rental agents are Cameron-Brown Company of Raleigh.

The new Branch Banking and Trust Company building may be entered from either Fayetteville or Davie street, with the main banking floor on a mezzanine level from the Fayetteville street entrance. Elevators will be located to the left or north side, serving the office space above. A spacious opening provide a visual connection between the lobby of the building and the main bank floor. The lobby interior is to be of travertine marble, and will contrast with the dark granite facing on lower level columns which matches the exterior of the building.

Elevators will lead from the lobby to the bank floor. They are of special design featuring glass balustrades to preserve the open space of the lobby. Various small planting groups will be in the lobby area and a large permanent planting to the left of the Davie street entrance.

Four high-speed electric passenger elevators will be provided. Their rate of ascent of 700 feet per minute makes them one of the fastest elevator systems in the south. An additional private bank elevator from the basement vault area through the bank lobby to the third floor bank offices is also planned.

The Branch Bank's installment Loan facilities will be located off the lobby on the main floor of the building at street level.

Upon taking the escalator to the mezzanine banking floor, the customer enters and expanse of over 150 feet of the main bank area, stretching the entire length of the building, with a two-story ceiling. Tellers' positions will be to the customer's right, along the south side of the building, with clerk desks in the center of the public room.

Bank officers will be to the rear, on a platform area overlooking the banking floor. The lobby areas will have a terrazzo floor, with carpeting in the officer area.

At the front lounge area with glass railings will be provided for customers and as a downtown meeting place.

In announcing the new skyscraper, eastern North Carolina's tallest structure, J. Ernest Paschall, BB&T president, expressed the bank's faith in the growth and development of Raleigh, and particularly of the downtown area. "We have been extremely well pleased with the bank's acceptance in Raleigh since we opened here less than four years ago," he told a group of Raleigh civic leaders at a luncheon at the Hotel Sir Walter. "Raleigh will continue to grow and develop at an accelerating pace, and its downtown area, the seat of our State government, continues to be the business center. We are proud to be a part of the community, which is the gateway to all of eastern Carolina. This building is our expression of confidence in Raleigh and our faith in the future of the city."
