N. C. Department Of Agriculture Nutrition In The Space Age

Textbook covers bearing a personal message to N. C. school children from Astronaut John Glenn on Good Nutrition in the Space Age will be distributed to 250,000 students sixth through eighth grades this fall. Here Dr. Charles F. Carroll, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Vivian L. Traywick, Egg Marketing Specialist, N. C. Department of Agriculture, check the first jacket off the press. Designed for Miss Traywick's idea, the jacket depicts the universe with the manned space vehicle going into orbit. It also pictures John Glenn's pre-flight breakfast and special statements of various N. C. grown foods. Nine N. C. non-profit food organizations financed over twenty-five hundred dollars for the jacket production. decide for yourself if you want to receive reduced payments after considering the facts in your case. The percentage of the reduction in retirement benefits is determined by the number of months you will receive payments before age 65. If the benefit is first payable at age 62, the reduction will be 20% of the amount payable at age 65. At age 63, the reduction will be about 14% and approximately 7% at age 64. The reduction percentage is slightly more for wife's and husband's benefits. However, there is no reduction in payments to widows, widowers, or parents who file before the death of their spouse. Determining the length of time it takes to reach the break even point is relatively simple once the amount of the monthly benefit is known. As an example, suppose you would be entitled to $150 a month at age 65 but decide to retire at age 62. The benefit would be $90. By applying at 62, you could receive $60 per

Changes In Your Social Security
By: James P. Temple
District Manager
A few short years ago, everyone had to be at least 65 years of age to qualify for retirement benefits under social security. Today, this is no longer true. In November 1956, the Social Security Law was changed to permit women to retire at age 62. Beginning in August, 1961, retirement age for men also was lowered to age 62. For several reasons, including additional costs created by this reduction in retirement age, benefits are reduced for those who file before age 65. As a result of these changes in the law, people considering retirement want to know if it will be to their advantage to file for reduced payments or wait until age 65 to receive an unreduced benefit. They also want to know how much the reduction will be and how long it will take to break even if they wait until age 65 to file. It is only possible to give a general statement concerning the advantages and disadvantages of filing for reduced payments because several factors must be considered. The amount of the monthly payment and the amount you are earning if still working are important considerations. But the most important factor is how long you will live as this determines the length of time payments can be received. Since circumstances will vary in individual cases, you will have to month for three years before age 65 which amount to $2000. If you wait until age 65, the payment would be $30 more per month. However, at the additional rate of $30 per month, it will take 12 years to recover the $2000 you could receive between ages 62 and 65. In this case, you would have to live to be 77 years old to break even if the payments began at age 65. While this example is a simple one, the principle of it will apply in most cases, regardless of the amount of the monthly payment or the number of months by which the benefit is reduced. Representatives of the Social Security Administration do not advise individuals if they should or should not file before age 65. Their job is to explain the facts concerning reduced payments. The decision on filing is then left to the individual. If you would like to have more information on reduced social security payments or any other aspect of the Social Security Program, get in touch with your local Social Security District Office. The office serving Duplin County is located at 211 East Walnut Street in Goldsboro. The telephone number is 725-2811.
