A. S. C. S. NOTES

International Wheat Agreement. Now that the 1964 wheat program has been voted down by growers, what will happen to the International Wheat Agreement?

If the U. S. farmers should produce a crop far in excess of normal domestic and export needs next year, wheat prices in this country could easily fall below the minimum sale price specified in the Agreement. U. S. exports at such prices would undercut the market for the remaining nine member-exporters in the IWA. (This will not be permitted to happen.) In order to prevent any violations of the IWA, President Kennedy has delegated to the Secretary of Agriculture the authority granted him by Congress to maintain the provisions in the Agreement. Consequently, Secretary Freeman can (1) make available, or cause to be available, quantities of Commodity Credit Corporation wheat and flour at prices within the range specified by the IWA, (2) prohibit or restrict importing or exporting as is necessary under the provisions of the Act and (3) take any other action necessary.

Mary Virginia Veach, Irene Pridgen, Mary Outlaw and Linda Ginn attended the shower given for Mrs. Sandra Lockamy on Saturday night by Mrs. Emma Scott.

Mrs. Rosa Ginn of Mt. Olive and Mrs. Carl Ginn spent Sunday at Topsail Beach.

The extra protein in one ton of alfalfa cut at the early bloom stage, rather than the mid-bloom stage, is equivalent to nearly 200 pounds of soybean meal.

Milk production of high producing cows may decline as much as 20% when the temperature increases from 75 degrees to 85 degrees, according to Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers.

Farmers spend more than $25 billion annually for labor and supplies.

Frank Blanchard - Rose Hill. Milton Maready - Chinquapin. Kenneth Maxwell - Pink Hill. Jack Patterson - Albemarle. Cotton Bagging For U. S. Sales. A program to promote the use of cotton bagging for packaging bales of cotton during the 1963-64 cotton ginning season was announced on February 21, 1963. Agricultural Marketing Service, Cotton Division, will administer the program.

The following three manufacturers will manufacture the cotton bagging under the 1963-64 Cotton and Its-By-Products Diversion Program for the 1963-64 ginning season. As far as AMS has been able to determine, the cotton bagging manufactured by these manufacturers will be the only all-cotton bagging used for covering cotton bales under the 1963-64 ginning season.

West Cotton Mill, P. O. Box 37, West, Texas. Cotton Processing Company, P. O. Box 643 Brenham Texas. Lone Star Textiles, Inc., Cuerp, Texas. State Corn Price Support is $1.41 Per Bushel.

Price support loans for the 1963 corn crop will average $1.23 per bushel in North Carolina. A special price support payment of 18c a bushel brings the total support rate to $1.41 compared with a 1962 rate of $1.34.

Price support on the 1963 crop will be available only to farmers taking part in the 1963 Feed Grain Program. The loans will vary with grade and moisture content of individual crop.

All the 1963 production of corn from participating farms can be put under the price support loan this year. Last year, it was limited to no more than the normal production of the planted acreage.

Many farmers should take advantage of storing their corn at this loan rate while there is plenty of corn on the market at a low price. Many can realize a large profit by later selling their corn when the local market is not flooded.

Contact the ASCS County Office if you have any questions about placing your corn under the loan.

Under the Act as amended, the 26 member-importers are required to buy specified shares of their quotas from the U. S. at prices ranging between $1.62½ and $2.02½ for No. 1 northern spring wheat in storage at Port William Port Arthur, Canada.

The U. S. expects to continue to export wheat at prices in line with those asked by other IWA member-exporters during 1964. However, the goal is to hold prices for wheat sold to member-importers near 1962-63 levels next year.

Sales of U. S. Wheat to non-member countries also will be made within the specified IWA range of prices. Purchases by such countries usually account for a fourth of the total U. S. commercial wheat exports.
