

MERRY CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO ALL

 Agricultural and Industrial Council to membership on the County Industrial Commission as provided by the resolution adopted by the Board in November.
 The Board of Directors of The Duplin County Agricultural and Industrial Council, Inc., appointed Mr. Draughton to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Thompson. Mr. Thompson submitted his resignation because of his health and pressing business matters.

 Others members of the Board of Directors are: C.W. Surratt, Jr., Rose Hill; Elmo Blizard, Seven Springs; Russell A. Bostic, Beulaville; T.J. Baker, of Wallace and Garland P. King, Kenansville.

In the last 10 years the farm price of broilers has dropped 51 per cent, from 22.8 cents to 14.1 cents.

Colored News

MEMORIAL SERVICES
 Memorial Services for the late President Kennedy were observed at the Rose Hill Elementary School, Monday. The Program consisted of the following: Prayer by Principal W.F. Johnson, the Lord's prayer played softly by Miss A.B. Johnson, silent prayer by the audience followed by the Battle Hymn of the Republic. A short summary of the life of President Kennedy was given by the principal.

We then watched the funeral procession from the Rotunda of the capitol to the White House and on to the church. The children sat in respectful silence for two hours. The younger children were dismissed while the older students sat through the burial at Arlington Cemetery. We have followed the entire Assassination Story with sympathy and prayer. Our prayers and best wishes are extended to our new President, Lyndon Baines Johnson.

THANKS FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dove wish to thank their friends, white and colored, for the kind way in which they rendered aid when their home was burned. No one knows the feeling of seeing everything destroyed by fire but those who have had the experience. Truly the people of Rose Hill and the surrounding communities are real neighbors in the truest sense of the word.

PAGEANT PRESENTED

The 5th Grade presented the pageant "Present at the First Thanksgiving" Wednesday afternoon, then they moved out on the campus for a "Pilgrim Party." The Indians entertained the pilgrims in traditional fashion, after the feast. The costumes worn by the Pilgrims and Indians were made by the children themselves. Many compliments were given to them for their work. Mrs. M.D. Baker and Mrs. McKoy are the 5th Grade teachers.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

First Baptist Church held its Thanksgiving Service at 11:00 a.m. to a small dedicated congregation. Rev. J. Mc Newkirk delivered the message. The Angel Choir sang, Bless this House Oh Lord We pray, Now Thank We All Our God, was sung by Jean and Jeanette Carty. Mrs. Mariah Williams sang: How Great Thou

A Piece To Speak

By One Who Lacks Identity

During the week just past, the late President John F. Kennedy has been eulogized by the Heads of the Church; acclaimed by the heads of State; and thousands of common folks, his friends, have shown their love for him in numerous ways. Yet there is something within us who lack identity and eloquence that remains unsatisfied and unconsolated. We have a piece to speak.

We ask ourselves why--how could anyone do this horrible deed? We say our country is too civilized for such a thing to happen here. Yet the crime was committed by a citizen of our generation and hate, bigotry, and intolerance take the blame. Why do these characteristics exist to such an alarming degree? Our God created each one of us an individual unlike any other. We were given no choice in the matter of race or background. To each of us, to everyone alike, He gave a body to care for, a mind to train and develop, and all the blessings of nature provided by a vast universe. These are the only unperishable things in our lives and are given in abundance to everyone alike.

Why then should there be this hate, bigotry and intolerance? Is it that our sense of values is warped so that we cannot distinguish between good and evil, right and wrong? Is it possible that this distinction is less easy for each new generation?

The most sacred trust one can hold is the care of a child--a living, breathing, growing gift of God's creation. No task is as great or important as the molding of that character, the leading and guiding, the teaching by word and act of the principles of honesty, decency, and the Golden Rule. A child needs to learn early in life that he is an individual with desires and problems to deal with in his own way; to be, with courage, what he is rather than strive to have or do what someone else has or does; to know without doubt that parental discipline stems from love of child and hope for the future.

That we of this generation may with humility and dedication defend our trust is my earnest prayer.
