KATHY BENTON CELEBRATES 16th BIRTHDAY

Miss Kathy Benton was honored on her 16th birthday with a semi-formal party Saturday night, December 14, at 8:00 p.m. by her parents, Mr. and

Mrs. A.M. Benton.

Decorations for the happy occasion were resplendent in the traditional Holiday motif. Kathy's lovely two tiered birthday cake centered a long banquet table covered in white. Red burning tapers rested in wrought iron candelabra flanked the cake which was decorated in the Christmas motif with sixteen candles adorning the top. Kathy's aunt, Mrs. Eloise Hall of Asheboro served punch from one end of the table and Kathy's mother served the birthday cake. Nuts were served buffet.

Following refreshments, Kathy opened her gifts from her many friends. She was assisted by her brother, Tommy. The group enjoyed dancing to their favorite recordings.

Those helping Kathy celebrate were: Linda Susan Smith, Bobby Smith, A.Q. Smith, C. H. Pope, Harry Pope, and Craig

GARDEN CLUBBERS HAVE ANNUAL SUPPER

The annual Christmas covered dish supper of the Home Gardeners' Garden Club was held Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheffield on Gum Street. The Sheffield home was thrown en suite for the lovely occasion and was decorated with lovely Christmas arrangements through out. The decorating committee consisted of Mrs. Bill Sheffield, Mrs. Elbert Matthis, Mrs. Earl Hule, Mrs. D. E. Parkerson, Mrs. H.C. Allen and Mrs. J.T. Gresham.

Mrs. Allen Draughon Jr., and Mrs. W.G. Britt, Jr. planned the menu which was shrimp cocktail, vegetable casserole, sweet potato souffle, congealed cranberry salad, chicken salad, macaroni salad, ham biscuits, sliced ham, corn hot rolls, coffee and assorted pies and cakes. The supper was served buffet and the guests were seated at individual card tables which were covered with white cloths and a elegant candle arrangement centered each.

Mrs. Nelson Carlton and Mrs. J.M. Kornegay presented the program for the evening which was on "Christmas Traditions." Approximately thirty members and guests enjoyed the fellowship.

MRS. JENKINS ENTERTAINS

Mrs. A.J. Jenkins, Jr. was hostess to her Bridge Club on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the home of her mother, Mrs. T.R. Quinn. The Quinn home was decorated with Christmas arrangements and a lovely decorated Christmas tree graced the living room where two tables of bridge were in play. Those playing were Mesdames Frank Steed, Joe Costin, Gerald Quinn, Pat Draughon, Joe Kornegay, and George West, Arnold Jones and Mrs. Roy Barwick.

After the second progression the hostess served apple cake topped with whipped cream and coffee.

When the scores were compiled for the evening, Mrs. Arnold Jones received white Christmas candles for high and Mrs. Costin received a traveling sewing kit for traveling prize, after which the members had their annual exchange of Christmas gifts.

SEE SAWS ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Members of the See Saws Dance Club held their Christmas Party Tuesday night during their regular meeting. The Warsaw gymnasium was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The hanging lanterns, painted red and white poinsettias, were hung on either side of the entrance. The serving table was covered with a red cloth and centered with red burning tapers resting in a tall, silver candelabrum. Assorted Christmas cookies and candies, nuts and coffee were served buffet.

In addition to other decorations, a tall lighted Christmas tree which stood in the center of the floor completed the setting which was enjoyed by approximately 44 couples.

MISS LINDA WRAY AWARDED "MOST OUTSTANDING MEMBER"

Miss Linda Wray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Wray, was awarded the "Most Outstanding Member" trophy Friday night by W.P. West Insurance Agency during the Warsaw 4-H Club Achievement Day Exercises held in the Fireside Room of the Methodist Church. Mr. West, agent and donor of this trophy, made the presentation.

Linda has shown remarkable progress since becoming a member of the young 4-H club which was organized June 1, 1961. She has won a total of 22 ribbons (12 blue) during the 18 months of 4-H club work. The Warsaw 4-H Club has been outstanding in their achievements since organizing with a grand total of 48 ribbons. In addition to the large number of ribbons won, the club was awarded a trophy for the most outstanding exhibit during National 4-H Club Week in Duplin County. William Costin, adult leader for the club was voted the "Most Outstanding Leader" over 17 other counties.

L.E. Stroud, president called the meeting to order with Bill Costin Jr. leading the group in the "Pledge of Allegiance." Miss Charlotte Howard led the members in the Club Pledge and Club Motto. Robert Sloan gave the devotion.

Miss Linda Wray introduced the first speaker for the evening. Mrs. Lois Britt, County Home Extension Agent from Duplin County, Mrs. Britt was in active school 4-H club work. Following her graduation, she attended East Carolina College and since has worked 7 1/2 years among 4-H clubs. Mrs. Britt spoke on the opportunities for boys and girls provided through 4-H Club work.

"Local clubs offer many opportunities for growth and development for all boys and girls not just country children," she said. "The 4-H Club emphasized 'Learning by Doing' and projects provide the basics for this," she added.

She went on to say that it takes four things for a 4-H club to operate effectively: 1-boy or girl; 2-interested parents; 3-local leaders to guide the club; and 4-a county program to participate in where there are county extension personal, donors etc.

"No one will deliberately turn down an opportunity to help someone become a more useful citizen" she pointed out; "And therefore, I challenge each of you to accept your opportunity and take advantage of all 4-H offers" she added.

Marlon C. Griffin, Ass't Agr. Ext. Agent for Duplin County, followed with a talk on the "Responsibilities of the Community 4-H Club Leaders and 4-H Awards".

MR. GRIFFIN BEGAN BY STATING THE 3 MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES.

Following his discussion on 4-H Awards, Mr. Griffin said, "I don't know how many of you have read William H. Danforth's book 'I Dare You.' If you have, you'll remember that he talks about a four-square person-one which has developed his physical, mental, and social and spiritual side. Each of us has a body, mind, heart, and soul, and each of us has the responsibility to make the most of what he has. Some poet said, 'Use what talents you possess; how silent the woods would be if only the birds sang who sang the best.'"

Mr. Griffin ended by challenging the group to make his or her corner of work a better place in which to live. "This could be the most important award any of you could win."

Mrs. Charles Howard followed with the presentation of pens. The following members received these pens which were for their active participation in the club: Nina and Mack Johnson, Mildred and Jean Jones, L.E. Stroud, Rickey, Bobby and David Sloan, Gail and Bill Costin, Linda and Robert Wray, Charles and Kathryn Costin, Mary Leigh and Jennie Vernon, Connie and Candis Graham, Barbara Raynor, Ray Hope, Charlotte Howard, Chris, 26 Ann, Denise Johnson, George Henry and Cary Pace.

Little Miss Debbie Wray received a pen also. Although Debbie is too young to be a member, she has attended every meeting and county council meeting which has taken place since the club was organized.

Mrs. E.C. Wray followed with a revue of 1963 awards and achievements. Mrs. Wray stated that approximately 50 ribbons, eight awards, and many other special recognitions have been won by the club since it organized just 18 months ago. "Members of the club have participated in many special events throughout the state" she said. Mrs. Wray pointed out the events and named the members who participated. Following her revue, Mrs. Wray ended by presenting the 'Gold Medal Awards' to the following: Charles Costin, Forestry; Kathryn Costin, Home Management; Linda Wray, Electricity Canning, and Home Ec.; Bill Costin, Jr., Swine, Beef, and Forestry.

Mack Johnson, vice president gave the welcome, and Jenny Vernon, chairman, club commission recognized the guests.

Following the program, the group enjoyed refreshments of punch and Christmas cookies, during which time they viewed and examined the exhibits on display.

More Kenansville HOME DEM. CLUB MEET

The South Kenansville Home Demonstration Club met on Friday afternoon, Dec. 2, with Mrs. Jessie B. Brown in her home on the Wallace Highway. The president, Mrs. Amos Chestnut presided over the meeting.

After singing "I Came Upon A Midnight Clear," the Devotional was conducted by Mrs. Lawrence Southerland who read "The Christmas Story" as told by Dr. Luke. This was followed by prayer.

Mrs. Brown had charge of the program and discussed Holiday Meals, after which Mrs. J.B. Stroud, Arts and Crafts, chairman displayed several arrangements she and others had made for Christmas decorations.

Four of the members of this club attended "Holiday House" last week in Rose Hill at the Horace Fussell Home and they discussed some of the decorations that were used there to help give the home the Christmas spirit.

After a short business session a social hour was enjoyed during which time the hostess assisted by her daughter Faye, served fruitcake topped with whipped cream, salted nuts, cheese-willets and coffee to the 14 present. Gifts were also exchanged from a pretty Christmas Tree. Several baskets were prepared for some shut-ins.

T. & C. CLUB MEET

Mrs. Hazel W. Scott was the hostess to the members from the Town and Country Bridge Club on Tuesday night at 7:45, with Mrs. D.S. Williamson as additional guest. Attractive Christmas tallies seated the players as they arrived to two tables set in the parlor for the occasion. Mrs. Eloise Ryder captured the high score prize. Gifts were exchanged from a prettily decorated Christmas Tree prior to adjournment. For refreshments, Mrs. Scott served ambrosia, pound cake and coffee.

MRS. CRAFT HOSTESS

On Wednesday night at 7:45 Mrs. William E. Craft was the hostess to her club when they met for their annual Christmas gifts Exchange party. Unique hand made tallies seated the guests to the two tables arranged in front of the tall Christmas tree. All members were present. High score compiled by Miss Mary Lee Sykes for which she was appropriately awarded by the hostess, Mrs. Craft served nuts and punch during the games. Later she served a frozen fruit salad course.

DINNER PARTY FOR BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. George Penney entertained her bridge club on last Wednesday night at a dinner party. The members arrived at 6:30 and enjoyed tomato juice followed by turkey with oyster dressing, rice and gravy, green beans, red apples, assorted pickles, hot rolls and coffee. Later they played several progressions of bridge.

Mrs. Rufus Elks made the high score, and was presented a prize, as was Mrs. L.C. Burch who filled the vacancy of an

...it's not done like this anymore

Decorating a Christmas tree is a family tradition in America, but we don't use tree candles today because electricity is available to more than 98 percent of the rural people in North Carolina. North Carolina's 33 rural electric cooperatives are consumer-owned organizations dedicated to the task of furnishing dependable, low-cost electric power to rural areas. These LOCAL people have provided power for themselves and brought a new way of life to almost a quarter million Tar Heels. When you ride through the countryside this Yuletide season, you'll see the modern Christmas tree with brightly colored lights, thanks largely to locally owned electric membership corporations.
