signed to offer, not only instruction in the liberal arts and sciences but in many vocational and technical subjects as well.

The Wayne Technical Institute has gradually expanded its extension program in Duplin over the past three years. Beginning with a well equipped auto mechanics shop and evening instructions in Rose Hill, courses have been added in Licensed Practical Nursing, conducted in association with Duplin General Hospital, electrical wiring, bricklaying, secretarial and business subjects marketing, distribution, and small business management.

Commenting on Mr. Hall's appointment, which was announced Wednesday afternoon by Dr. H.B. Monroe, President of Wayne Technical Institute, Dr. Dallas Herring of Rose Hill, Chairman of the State Board of Education, said "Mr. Hall is well equipped to lead Duplin citizens in the establishment of a permanent institution that will serve this area in a most important way."

Under the State Board program the cost of instruction is met with state and federal funds and student fees are held to a maximum of ten dollars per month for a full-time day student. Evening courses cost the student less. Equipment and instructional supplies, as well as administrative costs and faculty salaries, are met by the State agency.

For the present the new director will have his offices in the courthouse in Kenansville and classes will be held in all public school districts, utilizing the public schools at night, community buildings and other available quarters, but the objective is eventually to provide a permanent building and campus, so that instruction can be offered in a central location and adequate housing can be furnished for the expensive equipment that is needed and available under the State program. It is probable that state and federal matching funds will soon be available to defray fifty percent of the cost of any permanent building and site, but meanwhile the Institute will be coordinated on a countywide basis by Mr. Hall from his office in Kenansville and will reach into every interested community.

A native of Fayetteville, Mr. Hall is a graduate of East Carolina College where he is currently completing work on his Master's Degree. He is married to the former Elaine Page of Burlington and they have a two year old son, Stuart Clute Hall. The family will make their home in Kenansville.

Mr. Hall is a member of the Methodist Church, Phi Delta Kappa Professional Educational Fraternity and past Treasurer of the Greenville-Goldsboro District Ruritan Club.
