The new structure will be erected as a part of the $18,-250,000 expansion program of the hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine and will be named the "Reynolds Foundation Tower" in honor of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, which contributed $1,500,000 toward the current capital fund campaign. Richard J. Reynolds, president of the Foundation has been informed that the trustees of the hospital have named the tower for the Foundation "in grateful appreciation" of its generosity. In announcing the action of the hospital trustees, Chairman

Fleming Fuller pointed out that both the Foundation and individual members of the Reynolds family have made substantial and important contributions to the hospital and the medical school through the years.

The "Reynolds Foundation Tower," he said, will be at the left of the Main entrance of the Medical Center and will face Hawthorne road. It will contain 320 beds. The present building, erected as the first unit of the hospital, has some 107 beds.

Other phases of the building program include a wing to the Medical School Building, a new

Social Security For Farm Workers

Farm employers must report and pay the Social Security taxes on cash wages paid to each employee whose total annual wages amount to $150 or more for agricultural labor. If an employee is paid cash wages for agricultural services 20 or more days during the year, the employer is also subject to this tax, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

Form 943 is used to make these reports.

An owner or tenant of a farm, acting as a landlord, may be required to pay self-employment tax on income received under a rental arrangement with another individual, if the land is used to produce agricultural or horticultural commodities. The owner is considered to receive self-employment income if he participates materially in the management or production of at least one of the crops raised on his farm.

Share-farmers, often called sharecroppers, renters, tenants, and lessees, who operate farms they do not own, also are considered to be self-employed individuals and may be liable for the self-employment tax.

The Internal Revenue Service said a so-called "crew leader", an individual who furnishes and pays agricultural workers for other persons, may be the employer of the workers in his crew.

For more detailed information, telephone the nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf

Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf, glazed and fragrant, reflects the wonderful Southern tradition of delicious hot breads. It's typically easy to prepare, also, by forming a loaf of biscuit balls, glazing, then baking.

Treating your family to this breakfast eye-opener is easy when you prepare the biscuit dough with enriched self-rising flour, the flour with baking powder and salt already carefully blended in.

Enriched self-rising flour in Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf and other good baked products contributes important amounts of three B-vitamins and iron. Complete your menu with scrambled eggs, bacon and beverage to provide a nutritious attractive day-starter for your family.

Orange-Honey Glaze

1 tablespoon lemon juice	1/2 cup honey
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind	1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine all ingredients in small saucepan and heat until butter or margarine is melted. Simmer about 3 minutes. Remove from heat.

Biscuit Bubbles

2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour*	1/4 cup shortening
2 teaspoons grated orange rind	2/3 to 3/4 cup milk

Sift flour into bowl. Stir in orange rind. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Divide dough into pieces about size of walnuts. Shape into balls. Place balls in layers in ungreased loaf pan, $4\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Pour Orange-Honey Glaze over all. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Let bubble loaf cool 10 minutes in pan before serving. Remove from pan and serve hot.

Makes 1 bubble loaf.

*If you don't sift or in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a 1 cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonsfuls, according to USDA recommendations.
