STUDENTS ENJOY FIESTA
The East Duplin Spanish Club enjoyed a Mexican Fiesta in the home of Mrs. Anna B. Guy on Saturday evening.

Una Primera Cena (first supper) was enjoyed by the early comers from six to seven o'clock on the lawn. For those who could not come early and for those who truly entered into the Spanish spirit Una Ultima Cena (late supper) was served buffet style in the house from nine o'clock to ten o'clock.

The menu, which Mrs. Guy prepared consisted of enchiladas, spanish rice, frijoles and soft drinks.

Some of the students enjoyed both the first and the last supper.

Records of both Spanish and American songs were played during the evening.

This Could Be Your Child

Your child may be emotionally ill. Are you able to detect mental illness? So many are not. The only mental illness some recognize is insanity or some degree of illness that may be dangerous to one's self or to others. Treatment of mental illness may prevent break downs later. In North Carolina in 1962 there were 3700 children treated in Mental Health Clinics. This is a small percentage of the number who needed treatment. How many of these were from Duplin County. One, just one, was admitted to a state institution, but what does that mean? This means that many emotionally ill children in Duplin County are not receiving treatment. A few whose parents are financially able are finding treatment at the Duke or N. Carolina Memorial Hospital in their psychiatric division. The huge balance is left to become misfits, criminals, delinquents, or join the number of insane.

What can Duplin County do about it. On Tuesday, May 26th at 7:45 p. m. Dr. Charles Vernon who is with the North Carolina Department of Mental Health will speak at the Agricultural Building in Kenansville - his subject Mental Health. The mental illness you save may be your own. Come and hear him.

Vets Questions

Here are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to questions from former servicemen and their families:

Q-Will a dishonorable discharge from military service bar a veteran from receiving VA hospitalization?

A-Yes, that is the case.

Q-I am disabled and the premiums on my National Service Life Insurance are waived. When I die will my beneficiary receive the full amount of my policy or will the unpaid premiums be deducted at the time of settlement?

A-Your beneficiary will receive the full face value of your policy. No deduction will be made to cover the premiums you did not pay while the policy was on waiver.

Q-Does the VA furnish medical care to dependents of veterans?

COLLEAGUES LIKE BLUE—H. Clifton Blue, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, accepts from Robeson County Representative David M. Britt, right, a sheet of endorsements from fellow lawmakers. Britt, who canvassed mutual friends among Democratic colleagues, said more than half the 300 who endorsed Blue authorized use of their names in any way that might help.

Cliff Blue Endorsed By 300 Associates

Over 300 Democrats who have served with H. Clifton Blue in the General Assembly have endorsed his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor. More than half of these have authorized their names to be used in any way that would help Blue.

This evidence of support by county leaders throughout the state was disclosed this week by David M. Britt, Robeson County representative who canvassed mutual friends among Blue's Democratic legislative colleagues.

Britt noted in a letter to Blue that he had received approximately 220 written responses from his inquiry. He also stated that many telephoned him "stating their enthusiastic support of Blue."

The unqualified written endorsements "authorized their names to be used in any way in connection with your campaign," Britt wrote. Regarding those who preferred no publicity, he observed: "Some of these are running for office themselves, others are managing campaigns in their localities and others are now employed in positions that bar them from taking an active part in politics."

"The over-riding reason given for supporting him is his thorough knowledge of the North Carolina legislative process," Britt commented. He pointed out that the Lieutenant Governor presides over the State Senate, appoints Senate committees, and plays a key role in the legislative process.

"Cliff Blue has served nine years in the General Assembly, one as speaker of the House," Britt added. "These endorsements from fellow lawmakers prove that those who have worked with him and know him best pledge him their most enthusiastic support. They emphasize his qualifications as a proven leader and presiding officer."

Negro 4-H Camp Week June 8-13 Plans Made for Benefit Dinner

The camping date for Duplin County Negro 4-Hers has been set for June 8 - 13. Some 50 campers are expected to attend. This activity coupled with the 4-H club Week in Greensboro provides many opportunities to express and develop the true ideals of our 4-H club program according to R. E. Wilkins, Agricultural Extension Agent for Duplin County. The most important will be the privilege of making new friends and contacting 4-Hers from other areas of the state.

"Camping is an increasingly important factor in our 4-H club program", the Agent said. "It is a potent force in informal education, a good way to develop character; it is the best way to teach citizenship." Camps are avenues through which education may reach young people effectively, Wilkins stated, the trend is the increasing number of campers coming from rural areas". He added.

The community concept of 4-H is opening avenues to boys and girls here-to-fore unable to go to camp for financial reasons. The Stanford clubs are initiating plans to send the entire clubs to camp. Plans are, according to Mrs. Annie Roberts, and Mrs. Jessie Coleman, to sponsor a benefit dinner, fashion show, talent show Friday, May 22 at 8:00 p. m. to raise funds for camping activity. The Colemans are Professional Caterers of New York and Stanford. The agree-sive 4-H club has also been successful in getting all members to purchase the official 4-H uniforms.

What Do the Dairy Farmer, the Milkman and the Housewife Have in Common?

In Eastern Carolina, they are all part of the MAOLA family.

THE DAIRY FARMER produces the milk. All MAOLA milk is produced in Eastern Carolina, as near the user as possible.

THE MILKMAN processes and delivers the milk. MAOLA sells milk and ice cream products throughout Eastern Carolina.

THE HOUSEWIFE buys and uses MAOLA dairy products with the confidence that comes from knowing that MAOLA is Eastern Carolina's leading independent dairy.

Yes, in Eastern Carolina, there are thousands upon thousands of people who make up the MAOLA family. Little wonder, MAOLA is

Eastern Carolina's Word for Milk

"Hi There"

MAOLA TIMELY TIP: To make sure your pies and tarts have that delicious over-browned look, brush them lightly with Golden Guernsey Milk just before you pop them in the oven. Use a pastry brush if you have one.
