Trial & Error

Monday morning in Kenansville much excitement took place when two Game Wardens rode into town with a big black bear in the trunk of their car.

The bear weighing about 275 pounds had been killed at Holly Ridge for committing depredation, (meaning destruction), this particular bear had been killed for destroying bee hives at Holly Ridge, and also destroying crops.

The Game Warden said that when a bear is killed it must be reported to the Game Wardens who in turn give the bear to some public organization. If the bear is not reported, it is the same offense as killing a bear out of season.

However, one look at that bear and his size, I would have gladly let him have my bee hives, and would have offered him the crops too.

I have heard that in Duplin County several men have killed a bear in this area for destroying property, but the only name that I have been able to get hold of is David Resse Smith of Kenansville, RFD.

Yesterday I had the privilege of going out to Duplin Country Club to take the pictures of the golf winners in the ladies tournament. The ladies were enjoying a beautifully prepared luncheon and cooling off after having been on the golf course all morning in that sun. Some of the ladies looked as if they were blistered, and I guess they were, after that hot sun. Mrs. Phil Kretsch of Kenansville was chairman of the tournament, and she seemed to have her hands full.

"It is said that when you talk about the weather you have nothing else to talk about. But this sudden heat - is something to talk about.

Stroud Calls For 2nd Primary

In the District 5 county commissioner race of the May primary J.A. (Albert) Pope received 87 more votes than his closest competition, J. B. Stroud. Pope's total was 602 votes, while Stroud received 515. Dail had 358 and Fussell 200. The district is composed of Kenansville, Magnolia and Rose Hill Townships.

The time for filing for a second chance on June 27 expired at noon on Monday June 8. Mr. Stroud was one of the six candidates in Duplin who asked for a runoff.

though he received more than 200,000 votes, if Lake supporters follow their leader and Lake votes become Moore votes, then Preyer has some 450,000 votes against the 267,000 received by him. In Duplin, 3569 votes were cast for Dr. Lake, 2681 for Judge Preyer and 1643 for Judge Moore. The combined Lake and Moore vote was 2 to 1 against Preyer in Duplin. Lake carried most of the counties of Eastern North Carolina.

In his statement Friday, Dr. Lake said, "I believe Judge Moore comes closest to sharing my beliefs about the principles of government on which I have consistently campaigned. On that basis I shall support him."

Moore immediately predicted that this support from Lake would give him a victory over Preyer in the second primary.

15 Cases Of White Lightning

Deputy Sheriff Rodney Thigpen had to damage his patrol car to do it but he brought in his man and 15 cases of non-tax-paid whisky, 90 gallons of white lightning.

It was Friday morning about 3 a.m. when Deputy Thigpen began the chase. On the by-pass, off the by-pass, in and around they went and finally Pete Robinson of Mt. Olive ran his 1954 Pontiac off the road and into the ditch right in the town of Calypso. The deputy was crowding him hard and when he put on brakes the patrol car slid into the ditch with about $300 damage.

Robinson was charged with the possession and transporting of non-tax-paid whiskey, failure to heed a siren, no license on the car and careless and reckless driving, etc.

Saturday afternoon about 5 p.m., Dupty Glenn Jernigan, E. G. Chestnut and Bill Quinn apprehended Thomas Dewitt Sr., in Magnolia Township and destroyed a 50-gallon vat-type still and 2 barrels of mash. Dewitt was charged with the possession of material for the manufacture of non-tax-paid whisky.

In another five man race in Island Creek Township, R. Frank Maready came out second to Bill Sholar and has asked for a runoff.

Three ran in the Faison Township, but none received a majority, so N.L. Tadlock will run against Jimmy Kelly, who was high man in the first primary.

Blue In Runoff

Clifton Blue, who ran second to Bob Scott in the May primary for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, called for a second primary Tuesday.

In Duplin, the vote was: Blue 2473; Scott, 3805 and Jordan, 1035. Statewide, Blue trailed Scott by 59,585 votes, Scott received 308,992 to Blue's 255,424 and Jordan's 140-277. Jordan was eliminated in the first primary.

Blue, who has been a member of the legislature or 18 years and speaker of the House said that the office he seeks carries with it the duty of presiding over the Senate, naming its committees, serving on the Legislative Council and being a member of the State Board of Education. He contrasted his legislative career with that of Scott and said that "many have expressed the opinion that a man who is totally inexperienced in North Carolina legislative background should not be conceded to position of lieutenant governor by a minority vote."

Many people from all over the State had requested he seek a second primary, he said. "I am used to being the underdog," Blue said, "I expect to continue my efforts in behalf of the little man and the underdog, as well as our people in every walk of life."

If nominated and elected Blue said, "I have one promise to all people and all groups: A fair deal on top of the table."

2500 At Duplin Moore Rally

Dan K. Moore hustled through Duplin and 6 other eastern North Carolina counties Tuesday on the first day of a week-long tour of the country where Dr. I. Beverly Lake had run strong in the first primary.

He hit Duplin at Faison Produce Market and continued on through Warsaw, Magnolia, Rose Hill and Kenansville, coming to Weaver's Bridge near Beaulville, where 2,500 supporters were waiting for him. Arriving at the picnic grounds just at the edge of night, in the cool of the day, he found enthusiastic crowd of well-wishers from every section of Duplin and surrounding areas.

There were barbecued chicken and pork for everyone and Pepsi-Cola to quench the thirst of the 2500.

Wednesday Morning found Judge Moore still in Duplin. At 7:30 he was shaking hands with the employees of Ramsey Feed Co. at Rose Hill and the employees of the Processing Plant just a few minutes earlier.

Coming from rural Jackson County, where the REA has rendered a wonderful service, he promised that he would do nothing to impair the REA, observing that there was plenty of room for the REA and for private power companies to operate each in its own sphere, and that he would make every effort as governor, if elected, to arbitrate any differences between them.

He promised a full-time industry expert in each congressional district to seek the industry suitable for that section, and to accelerate the highway program and divide the funds over the entire State. One of his main objectives would be to increase farm income of the State and improve the living standards of farm people. He advised that no progress could be made without education and that he would seek to improve the standards all along the way.

He stressed that education, improved farm conditions, further industrialization to give employment to our people and improved roads would build a great State. Judge Moore claimed that he had no organization, no machine, and his sole purpose in seeking the governorship was to make as good a governor for all the people of North Carolina as possible.

He told the crowd, "If they ask, where is Dan Moore? Tell them that he is out meeting the people over the State facet o face, man to man."
